

The Samson Tractor —mighty in service

THE good tractor with low center of gravity. This enables it to work like a horse—practically all power being delivered to the draw bar. Will not top-ple over on hillsides. The sieve-grip wheels are another feature. They absolutely will not slip on any soil. 25 horse power on belt pulley operated direct from the engine. 4 cylinder, 4 cycle engine of unusual smoothness and durability. Vertical tube fin-core radiator. Speeds from 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 miles per hour. Automatic governor control. Special sand wheel extension furnished. Its pulling capacity is equal to that of ten horses. With 3 plows it will plow an acre an hour.

It works best with Oliver Plows

When you see the Samson Tractor working with an Oliver you will get a new idea of intensive farming—a new vision of profits which must materialize. The Oliver Plow is backed by the world's greatest plow manufacturing organization.

The combined rolling Coulters and Jointers bury all trash at the bottom of the furrow. The stop device maintains an even depth of furrow. The plow points enter and leave the ground first, allowing a full furrow clear to the ends of the field. The wooden pin breaks protect the plow against roots, boulders, etc. Trip rope raises or lowers plow bottoms from driver's seat.

It is well worth your time to come in and let us figure with you and show the actual profits that this GMC-Oliver outfit will produce on your farm.

MARITAL LAW RULES

fear of the demands of the people for strong action against war profiteers the agrarians and capitalists and a fair division of the coming harvest. But above all the reichrath fears its own debates of war, peace and political events and the connection between the letter from the emperor to Prince Sixtus with the retirement of Foreign Minister Czernin.

"It is only with the shadows of reform that the government seeks to conciliate the starving and suffering population of Bohemia. Simultaneously however, new repressive measures have been introduced in the southern Slav provinces, as a concession to the German nationals. The latter are carrying out the instructions and policy of the Pan-Germans, which demand continuation of the war.

"Austria is again in the clutches of Germany, due in no small measure to the traitorous attitude of the followers of Philip Scheidemann (leader of the German majority socialists) who refuse to support the revolutionary movement in Austria.

"Likewise, the demagogic recklessness of the bolsheviks, who concluded a separate peace at the moment of the greatest upheaval in Austria, strengthened Austro-German imperialism and surrendered the democratic elements into the hands of the military camrilla.

"The situation is not bright, but the desperation of the population is so great that the most serious consequences can be expected."

New German Attack For Capture of Woods

By Henry Wood
(United Press correspondent)
* With the French Armies in the Field, June 13.—With the Germans' new push between the Aisne and the Forest De Cotterets, which had been expected ever since Sunday's attack west of the Oise, the entire battle now becomes a vast maneuver for the purpose of encircling the range of high hills and plateaus covered by the Laigne, Compeigne and Villers-Cotterets forests.
* These wooded areas extend for miles between Novion and the Ouse. Their possession would permit the Germans a degree of concealment for future operations of the highest importance.
* Throughout yesterday the boches found themselves constantly engaged in hand to hand combats with the French.

be put into the army. Military service, it is stated, would not go beyond 35 nor under 21, under the present plan, but the listing of men between 18 and 45 would provide first a vast reservoir of young men for training who would be instantly available for military duty as they became 21, and, second, a great number of men capable of performing other service upon which the effectiveness of the army depends.

It was stated that the measure would also provide for training those below 21 for a specified period.

RECLAIMING WOUNDED IS SURGEONS' THEME

Medical Association Not Satisfied With Mere Patching Up of Soldiers

Chicago, June 13.—Reclamation—not patching—of America's wounded was announced today as the goal of America's war surgery. Various substitutes for human bones and muscle were described before delegates to the American Medical Association convention here.

Army surgeons had a prominent place on almost every program. Their divisions ranged from scolding the American public for over eating to praising it for its morale and generosity.

"War surgeons," from addresses of allied medical men were:

Admiral C. W. Braisted, U. S. N., "The war may last many, many years and take every ounce of our strength."

Surgeon General Gorgas, "The greatest patriot is the one with a small income, who gives it all and himself as well."

Colonel Herbert Bruce, Canada: "The dim boundary line between Canada and the United States has become invisible for humanity."

Major Edouard Bist, France: "Germany sacrificed everything for malignant growth. There is only one remedy for cancerous growth—the knife. The allies are the surgeons using that knife."

Dr. Rene Cande, Belgium: "You have fed and clothed a whole nation. Belgium gives you back a dumb all-enveloping devotion."

Major Alexander Lambert, New York was elected president of the American Medical association, Major Lambert is president of the association and director of the American Red Cross in France.

Dr. W. N. Wishard, Indianapolis, first vice-president; Dr. David S. Judd, Rochester, Minn., second vice-president; Dr. C. W. Richardson, Washington, D. C., third vice-president; Dr. J. M. Baldy Philadelphia, fourth vice-president; Dr. A. B. Craig, Chicago, secretary; Dr. M. A. Pusay, Chicago, treasurer; Dr. Herbert Work, Pueblo, Colo., speaker of the house of delegates.

Thomson schoolhouse on Butter creek, Miss Andrews, teacher, challenges any country school in the state, says the Pendleton East Oregonian, to equal the record made when a play and basket social held as the closing feature, of the school year netted $700 for the Red Cross.
