At the meeting last evening of the city council, it developed that the city paving plant made $64.95 for the city yesterday, with another dollar to be added for the use of the roller. This added for the use of 7c cents per superficial square yard for paving and $1 a day for the roller to be paid the city by the county for rent of the paving plants.

The country is doing some paving on the road leading from Salem to Silverton. Yesterday 866 square yards were paved and the work on this road will continue until about 2800 square yards have been paved. The work now is being done on the half-mile stretch of road northeast of the Southern Pacific railroad near the fair grounds. After this half-mile has been completed, the work will go on at the end of the one mile of road already built by the county, paving towards Silverton to about the top of the Riley Mankers hill.

Astoria is calling for laborers who have some knowledge that will fit in with ship building. For instance machinists are offered $5.77 a day for a day of eight hours work. Molders come a little higher in the salary gauge and are paid $6.99 a day, according to the call on the blackboard at the office of the Salem Labor bureau on State street. Blacksmiths are good for $5.77 and sheet metal workers, $6.50, boiler makers, $5.77; pipe fitters, $5.77; propeller molders, $8.00 and pattern makers, $7.15 a day.

They are of the firm of Scott & Piper and as they leave for the service at the same time, it has become necessary for them to dispose of their bicycle and motorcycle business. Hence they have put on a special sale of everything in the bicycle and Harley Davidson motorcycle line in order to be ready to answer the call June 30.

The Women of Woodcraft and Woodmen of the World will hold a patriotic meeting Friday evening of this week at their lodge rooms in the Derby building. A special program has been prepared. The meeting is not only for lodge members but their friends as well.

Andrew Victor Orvall of 275 North 20th street was inducted into the service by the local exemption board as clerk, and left this morning for Camp Lewis. He is the son of Rev. John Orvall, pastor of the Swedish M. E. Tabernacle.

It is now about time to talk about the weather. It has been exactly one month since there has been a rainfall in Salem, excepting what might be called just a trace, barely enough to dampen the sidewalks. On May 5 there was scarcely five hundredths of an inch of rain which was hardly enough to lay the dust.

Oregon Shrine, No. 1, White Shrine of Jerusalem, held an imposing ceremonial Friday evening and accepted a large class of candidates at the Masonic temple, at Portland. Many of the prominent members of the Eastern Star of which it is an auxiliary associated fraternity were present. Mrs. F. E. Shafer, of Chadwick chapter, 37 of Salem, was one of 49 initiated. A staff of officers put on the impressive and artistic degree work.

The city marshal of Jefferson sustained painful injuries about the head yesterday when he fell from an automobile near Turner in his attempt to arrest speeders who had passed through Jefferson. It seems that the marshal had started from Jefferson with his car but something went wrong and the car quit on the job. He then commandeered a passing car and it was when stepping out of this car to arrest the speeders that he fell and sustained the injuries.

A letter was received today by the wife of one of the boys in Company M in which he stated that the allotment papers of the company had been, thru some error, carried across the water into France with the company instead of being filed with the war department in Washington. This was the cause of the delay he writes. Now that the papers have been properly filed in Washington, the assurance is given that the allotments will be coming regularly to the families of Company M boys.

Work on the inter-county bridge is progressing finely and the contractors say that barring accidents it will be completed by July 15. All the spans are in place except the middle one. On the Polk county side one span has received its first coat of paint, a good old fashioned red. The forms for the concrete foot-walk are also in place and the decking of the three spans is completed. There are four painters at work on the bridge, which when they are through with it will be a "battleship gray." Unless there are unforeseen delays the bridge will be ready for the big celebration by the middle of July.

Rev. L. C. Schuster, of Albany Presiding elder of the Portland district of the Oregon conference of the Evangelical association will preach this evening at 8 o'clock at the 17th and Chemeketa street church. At the recent annual conference of the Evangelical association two presiding elder districts were created. It was also arranged that the two superintendents should serve pastorates along with their official duties as presiding elders. Rev. C. L. Schuster, the presiding elder of the Portland district is located at Albany and the Rev. F. B. Culver, the superintendent of the Puget Sound district, has his pastorate at Bellingham.

George Vick and wife left Saturday evening by automobile for Chelalis to view a practical demonstration of a Ford Tractor. He reports that all tests developed 15 miles an hour and that the tractor was satisfactory in every way. The state of Washington will receive five car loads. It is understood that Henry Ford will sell at cost 100 of these tractors to any state that wants them, the state then to decide where they will do the greatest good. Mr. Vick will take up the proposal of Mr. Ford with Governor Withycombe. If the state of Oregon wants 100 Ford tractors at cost, it can have them if the state officials approve.

Although no action has as yet been taken by the food administration for the state in naming a price for this year's crop of prunes that will be satisfactory to the federal food administration, the chances are that the price named by California will be acceptable to both the grower and the food administration. This was a base price of 8 1/2 cents. At one time it was thought that the Oregon growers would attempt to place a rather high price on their prune crop, but with California naming the 8 1/2 cent price, and the prospects of an unusually large price, the probabilities are that growers will be more than glad to line up with California. The price has not as yet been officially fixed and will not until the state food administrator calls a meeting of the Oregon growers.
