Appolloians Will Give Musical Entertainment

When the Appolloians line up back of the footlights next Wednesday night in their initial appearance at the Grand Opera House, they will greet their audience with the harmonious salutation: "Ecce quam bonum, quamque iucunda alim habitare fratres in Unum!"—which, in plain United States means something like "What is so good as brethren dwelling together in unity!"

Mr. John W. Todd, the club's musical director, has a reputation for promptness in attendance upon rehearsals, but when he wasn't present last evening after all of the members had assembled, one of the unusually bright song birds hastily contrived a substitute for the salutatory strains as follows:

"Why are you so late, Mr. Conductor. Have you any excuse to offer?" which, contrivance, sung with much gusto, distinctly and harmoniously greeted the ears of the director when he shortly appeared on the scene. His excuse consisted of two handsome ladies whom he immediately introduced to the boys as the critics for their evening's efforts.

Only 25 Pounds Sugar Per Family for Canning

Portland, Or., June 20.—The Oregon food administration announced today that sugar for canning and preserving purposes is now limited to a maximum of 25 pounds per family unless special permit is obtained from the county food administration.

Families not needing this amount must still further reduce their sugar purchases to cover only their absolute needs.

Shipping difficulties made the sugar situation acute.

All meat restrictions have been temporarily removed in Oregon.

Willamette Woolgrowers Receiving High Prices

Wool growers of the Willamette valley are about the most fortunate men in the United States in that line of business, according to Clifford Brown, who keeps well posted on wool conditions in the country. On account of the competition between the mills in and adjacent to the Willamette valley there has been considerable competition and the prices paid have been ranging from 55 to 65 cents a pound according to the government regulations.

The first ruling of the government was that a mill could only buy within a radius of 50 miles by now they are permitted to buy anywhere in the valley. If the government buys the wool, there is first the 1 1/2 cents profits to the local dealer, then 4 per cent of the distributing center dealer and then the government's charge of three per cent covering expenses. When the mills buy direct, they avoid this expense. The nearest fleece market to this section is Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska and as there are no mills to any extent in those sections, all fleece wools are shipped to the government's distributing centers.

SALEM BOY IS SEVERELY WOUNDED

Earl Sumner of Company M In Hospital With Shattered Leg

Earl Sumner, a relative of the W. C. George family and a member of Company M, has been severely wounded in the trenches in France. He had spent two periods in the trenches and when doing his third was struck, evidently by a piece of shell as the bones of one leg are smashed from the hip to the knee. He is in the hospital and the surgeons are evidently making a strong effort to save his leg for him. The first intimation of his being wounded came in a letter from his nurse. Since then another letter has been received to which Earl added a line or two. As Company M has so far as is known, not been in the fighting, it is supposed that Sumner was not sent to his company, as he did not cross with it. When Company M sailed he was in the hospital and it was two or three weeks later that he was sent across. Earl is a bright young fellow and will be remembered by many Salem folks, especially those patronizing the White House Restaurant, where he worked occasionally. While reports as to his condition are meager, it is presumed he will pull through, and come home all together, amputation has not been resorted to. The nature of his wound however will require a long convalescing period, and he will no doubt be some time as soon as he is able to stand the trip.

First Methodist Church Condemns Sunday Work

At the meeting of the Sunday school board of the First Methodist church held last evening, resolutions were passed condemning Sunday work, but favoring co-operation in every way with those willing to assist in saving the berry crops working week days. The board composed of 50 teachers and superintendents especially urged its members and those in the Sunday schools to help in saving the crops. At the services next Sunday morning Dr. R. N. Avison, pastor of the First Methodist church will speak especially on this subject, urging cooperation, but taking the stand that it is not necessary for people to go into the fields on Sunday.

The resolutions adopted by the Sunday school board last evening are as follows:

"In view of the urgent necessity for more workers to save the fruit and berry crop of the Willamette valley, we, the Sunday school board of the First Methodist church urge as many of our people as possible to give the fullest cooperation in helping harvest the crops.

"We do not believe, however, that the time has come when it is necessary to work on Sunday and wish to record ourselves as opposed to making this use of the Sabbath day."

Stocks Are Dull In Wall Street Today

New York, June 20.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

Today's securities market bore all the aspects of a dull mid-summer session. In the first three hours of trading transactions approximated only 200,000 shares. The tobacco group was distinctly strong. United Cigar Stores advanced more than three points.

Market interest was highly irregular in a sluggish sort of way. The sugar and motors were fairly strong.

In the late trading there was material accession of strength throughout the list, although business continued light. The steels made an especially good showing, also the equipment and coppers.

The examination dates follow:

Re-Modeling SALE

As before stated we are condensing our stocks to make possible having all our business on one floor. This change demands giving up certain lines and cleaning out all broken stocks—Shoes we have already closed out—TRUNKS, CROCKERY, CUT GLASS AND BRIC-A-BRAC are fast being sold; and no wonder at the prices. This will be your last call on some stocks, therefore don't delay, but take advantage and make one dollar do the part of two—which is what the savings amount to in many instances.
