

IT HAS MORE ACTION IN A MINUTE THAN THE AVERAGE PRODUCTION HAS IN A WEEK

STARTS SUNDAY—2 P. M. TOMORROW

The

THE SENSATION
OF AMERICA

SPY

From first hand knowledge gained in Berlin, George Bronson Howard exposes in "The Spy", the remarkable system by which Germany keeps an army of 10,000 secret police in America.

DUSTIN FARNUM

Dustin Farnum returns triumphantly to the screen. His work in "The Spy" is greater than anything ever previously accomplished.

"The audience sat in rapt attention, and all but gasped aloud."—New York Times.
"The Spy" reveals with startling realism the possibilities of German espionage in this country."—New York Evening Sun.
"The audience was quick to express its patriotism as the truly stirring scenes were unfolded. The action was punctuated by frequent bursts of applause."—New York Morning Telegraph.

SUNDAY-MONDAY

Liberty Theatre

"The Spy" played at the Globe Theatre, New York, at 25c, 50c, $1.00.

REGULAR PRICES HERE—NO ADVANCE

W. S. S
SPELLS
DEATH FOR THESE HELL
HOUNDS
W. S. S
BUY
THEM
NOW

FORTY-THREE ORDERED TO REPORT JULY 5 FOR ARMY SERVICE

Local Draft Board Sends Out Notification to Registered Draft Men

Orders to report to the local exemption board to entrain for Fort McDowell, California, are being mailed today to the 43 young men who are called for the next draft, July 5.

The list includes the following, although there may be a few changes before the final list is completed. The last name on the list has order number 1621.

Wayne M. Price, Salem.
Robert W. Mauldin, Evanston, Ill.
Lawrence H. Henninger, Portland.
George R. Taylor, Salem.
Lawrence L. Short, Salem.
Albert C. Vesten, Salem.
Edward A. Bailey, Salem.
Harold L. Purbrick, Salem.
Olin C. Hadley, Turner.
Frederick Mullen, Silverton.
Otto H. Timm, Salem.
Karl O. Winsen, Mehama.
Roy Brown, Salem, Rt. 5.
Thomas M. Curry, Salem, Rt. 8.
John H. Carson, Salem.
Walter Brown, Mill City.
Herman A. Kuenzi, Salem, Rt. 2.
John B. Huebner, Sublimity.
James W. Cleveland, LaGrande.
Lake W. Price, Salem.
Everitt M. Page, Salem.
Chas. R. Hurd, Corvallis.
James Cripps, Salem.
Bud L. Dryden, Salem.
William Nobel, Salem.
Lloyd S. Dively, West Stayton.
Fred W. Lang, Sublimity.
Joseph Pieser, Stayton.
John W. Robinson, Salem.
Grant G. Ross, Silverton.
Turtunato Monteleone, Salem.
Clyde A. Kelly, Turner.
Edwin E. Loftiss, Portland.
Theodore O. Tuve, Salem.
Pit A. Kromwall, Aumsville.
Albin C. Johnson, Silverton.
Sylvester J. Wourms, Stayton.
Warren B. Booth, Portland.
Conrad B. Spencer, Stayton.
Floyd L. Tooker, Vancouver, Wa.
Fred L. Nutting, Portland.
William A. Taylor, Silverton.
Clyde Oregon Siege, Salem.
David O'Hara, Salem.
Walker Pence, Los Angeles.
Howard Penn Jewett, Sweethome.
Lawrence Caughenower, Silverton.
William Schmid, Sublimity.
Franklin G. Rogers, Salem.
James W. Wood, Turner.
Geo. E. Wagner, Salem, Rt. 3.

have gone to Austrian field headquarters to present the government's resignation personally to Emperor Karl.

To Kill Emperor.

London, June 22.—An unconfirmed report on the Amsterdam bureau declared that an attempt has been made to assassinate Emperor Karl, according to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam today.

Anti-War Leader Chosen.

Amsterdam, June 22.—M. Malinoff, one of the Bulgarian leaders who opposed that country's entrance into the war, has been appointed premier, a Sofia dispatch announced today.

Say Lenin Quits.

Zurich, June 22.—The Deutsches Tages Zeitung declares that Nikolai Lenin, the bolshevik premier, has resigned. There is no confirmation from any source.

Seven Russelies Get Long Sentences

New York, June 22.—Seven disciples of Pastor Russell, found guilty of violations of the espionage act, were sentenced to twenty years imprisonment each in United States district court in Brooklyn today. Among those sentenced was Joseph F. Rutherford, present head of the millennial sect, which was founded by Pastor Russell. Others sentenced were Treasurer William Evans Amburgh, Secretary Fred H. Robinson, Auditor Robert Martin, Superintendent Alex McMillan, George

Coming to the Liberty Theatre

Three Days, Starting Sunday, June 30

M. Fisher and Clayton J. Woodworth, compilers of "The Finished Mystery," The latter two live in Scranton, Pa.

All the convicted were found guilty yesterday by a jury in Justice Howe's court of conspiracy against the selective draft and against recruiting.

FIRE AT FOREST GROVE

Forest Grove, Or., June 22.—The upper story and roof of the planing mill here was destroyed by fire last night. Quick work by firemen saved the lumber and machinery. The mill is so situated that a larger fire would have endangered the whole city.

KILLED IN ACTION

Oakland, Cal., June 22.—Second Lieutenant H. F. Waterhouse, U. S. marines, killed in action in France, was barely 21 years old, and received his lieutenantcy as soon as he became 21.

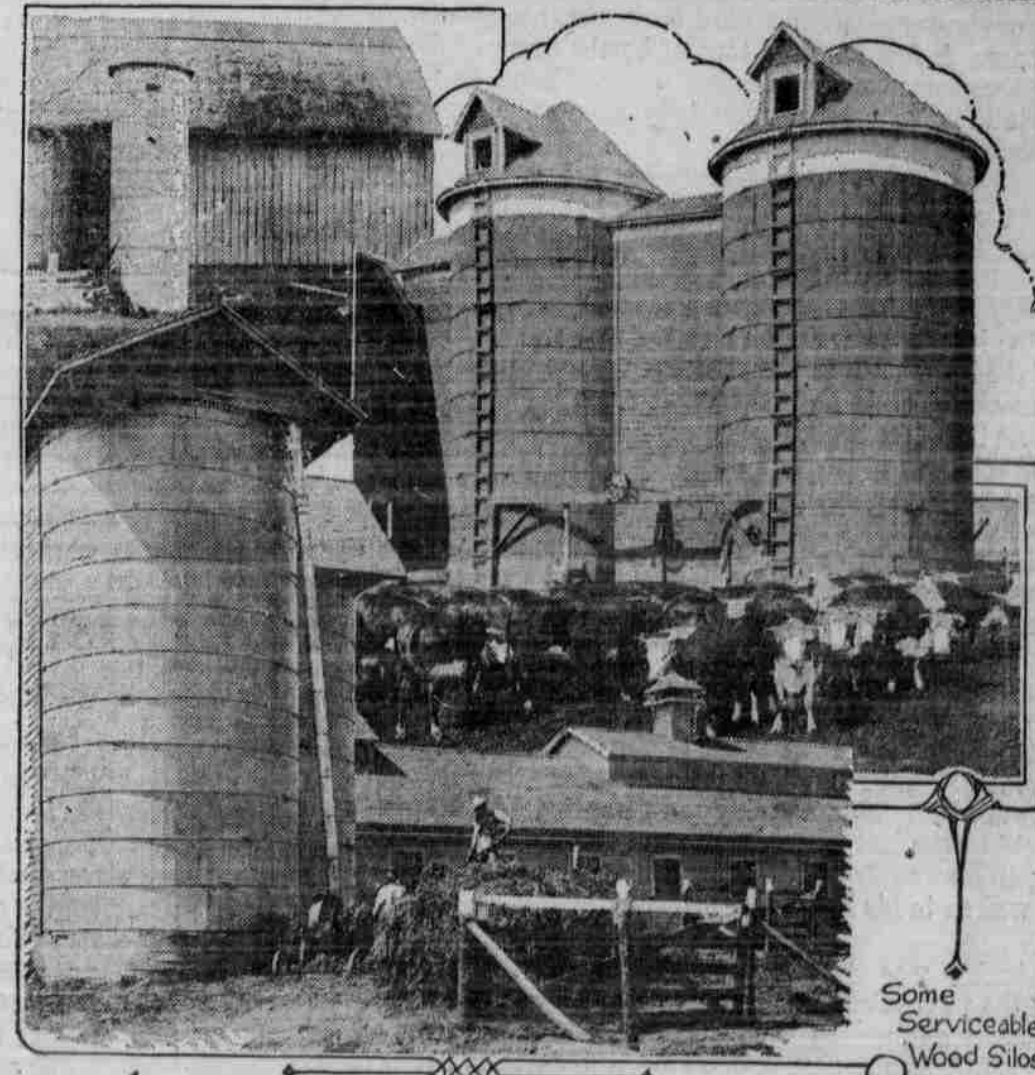

Waterhouse enlisted in the marines last June. He was a sophomore in the University of California at the time. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Waterhouse.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Portland, Or., June 22.—Mrs. R. V. Grady died today of injuries received when she was crushed under her automobile. She lost control of the machine after it had struck a pedestrian.

Natural history note from the Eugene Guard: "The boys at the Y. M. C. A. are interested in a one legged robin which frequents the grounds around the building. The bird gets around pretty well and forages his own living in a way which might shame some human cripples."

SILLO CONSTRUCTION URGED AS MEANS FOR CONSERVING FOOD FOR ANIMALS

As part of the nation-wide campaign in the interest of maximum food production and utilization, government and private agencies have inaugurated a movement to make the present summer the greatest silo-building period in the history of the country. Scarcely a farm experiment station in the land is not actively co-operating in this work.

Thousands of farmers have long recognized the advantage of being able, with silos, to keep cattle in the best condition throughout the winter months by feeding them green feed. Other thousands who have not fully appreciated the silo heretofore are expected to be reached as a result of the educational efforts now being put forth.

The Best Kind of Silo.

With increased attention attracted to the silo, the question is arising in the minds of many as to what is the best material to be used in this form of construction. Various kinds of silos are being exploited in the advertising columns of the newspapers and farm journals.

It appears, however, that, based on the opinion and experience of many authorities, wood makes the silo of greatest durability and best general service. Aside from the fact that the cost of lumber is less than for any other building material, the expense of erecting a wooden silo is less, as the farmer can do the work himself, with the help of ordinary farm labor. The oldest silos in existence, still in use, are of wood. In point of proved efficiency, the wood silo occupies an absolutely impregnable position. The farmer with years of silo experience is certainly the judge whose opinion can be depended on. That the wood silo is the farmers' choice, was strikingly evidenced as the result of an actual count made in the state of Kansas, which showed that Kansas had 5,715 silos, and of that total 5,155 were wood—in other words, there were nearly ten times as many silos of wood as there were of all other materials together.

The Wood to Use.

These qualities, found in Southern Pine make it supreme as the material for silo construction—breaking strength, crushing strength, stiffness and toughness, combined with great durability. The last quality is due to its fine, even, compact grain and the fact that it contains a quantity of pitch and resin, natural repellants of moisture and decay.

There are almost as many available testimonials indorsing Southern Pine silos as there are testifying to the superiority of wood silos.

An illustrated booklet for farmers, "How to Choose and How to Use a Silo," is offered by the Southern Pine Association of New Orleans, for free distribution, as the contribution of the Association to the national silo-building campaign.

ARTILLERY PROGRAM

(Continued from page one)

needs of our men abroad.

Next to field artillery, production of big guns from 16 to 15 inches stands out in the bill. Forty million is provided for the big gun plant at Neville Island, near Pittsburgh.

"The big gun program is framed with the expectation that we will have to cross the Rhine and reduce German fortifications to conquer," Borland said.

Another $40,000,000 is provided for 1000 by-product coke ovens to produce tar and other high explosives. These ovens will be sold after the war for $25,000 each for use in making dye products. This feature of the bill was framed with a view to freeing this country from dependence on German dyes.

For searchlights and anti-aircraft guns mounted on motor trailers, the committee re-appropriated $2,000,000 old funds unspent because all searchlights are going to France and none were available for coast defense.

The anti-aircraft guns will be the 4.7 type, which have longer ranges and a wider explosive radius than ones now in use.

The request for 16 aerial coastal stations to guard against submarine and air attacks was cut in two. Each station will cost $1,000,000.

The whole gun program is made up in contemplation of fifty per cent wastage.

Pratum Items

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Pratum, June 22.—Mrs. Ferdinand Mantie died last Saturday evening and was buried here last Monday afternoon. Rev. S. S. Baumgartner conducting the services. Mr. Mantie preceded her to the grave by only one week. The three children will be cared for by relatives. The eldest son, Carl, is already on his way to North Dakota with an uncle. The youngest son will reside with relatives at Albany. It is not yet decided where the third child will go.

Otto Bentler and Mrs. Hulda Lardon were married at the bride's home last Sunday. They are now on a two week's wedding tour of Portland and Sound points. They will reside near Pratum.

Herman Kleen is again at home after spending the winter and spring in Portland at the ship yards.

Win. Roth, Sr., has started to bale hay for the season.

Mrs. Pooler is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. B. McAllister.

Henry Roth, who has been employed at Oregon City, is again at home.

W. B. McAllister has received a shipment of wheat. Dave Winger and Fred Miller are engaged in hauling it to the mill.

Mrs. Chas. Smith and children, Glen, Lorraine and Leulah, are visiting at the A. W. Powell home. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are now residing at Oregon City, but expect soon to move to Portland.

The boy scouts played the Fern Diggers Sunday on their own ground. The scouts suffered defeat, the score being 8 to 5 in favor of the Fern Diggers. The scouts won over them once before so the two teams will soon play off the tie.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI

(Continued from page one)

measures in repression of the disorders.

Cabinet May Resign.

Amsterdam, June 22.—The Austrian cabinet was scheduled to meet today to decide the questions of submitting its resignation and of summoning parliament for an extraordinary session because of the food situation, according to dispatches from Vienna.

Premier Von Seydler is reported to

STARTING TOMORROW

MARGUERITE

CLARK

In

"PRUNELLA"

Miss Clark's great stage success of the stage has been transferred to the screen, greater and better than the spoken play that held Broadway enthralled.

VAUDEVILLE

Butler and Howard
Refined Musicians

PATHE WEEKLY

Philippine Scenic

MARGUERITE CLARK

FAMOUS PLAYERS—PARAMOUNT STAR

The OREGON

GO