FIGHTING WEATHER BUT NO ACTIVITY

Opponents On West Front Are Simply Jostling For Position at This Time

By William Philip Simms (United Press staff correspondent) With the British Armies in France, June 24.—Ideal fighting weather that is almost unprecedented continues on the west front, yet there is nothing more serious than the continuous jostling for position. There is nothing more to delay Hindenburg's next thrust in the west. The Austrian offensive, scheduled to fill in the pause on the Franco-British front, was expected to serve as a heartener, but it was precisely the reverse. While on a recent visit to Paris, I was told by a certain personage from Switzerland that German public opinion is becoming exasperated at Hindenburg's delay. Plain spoken Germans are calling the campaign a failure, he said, pointing out the army has failed to reach any of the promised vital points. A desperate attempt to redeem the German fall-down is expected shortly. German soldiers formerly held prisoner in Russia have arrived on the western front. Others are rapidly being brought in, following a brief leave.

Italians Repulse Raid

Paris, June 24.—Italian troops holding positions on Bligny mountain, eight miles southwest of Rheims, repulsed another German attack after sharp fighting, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy and taking prisoners, the French war office announced today. "A German attempt was repulsed in the Anthelm region (six miles northwest of Compeigne)," the communique said. "Between the Marne and Rheims the Germans again attacked Italian positions on Bligny mountain. After sharp fighting, the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses, losing prisoners. There was active artillery fighting in the Woivre region and the Vosges."

Minor Operation

London, June 24.—Successful minor operations in Flanders and at other points on the British front are reported by Field Marshal Haig today. "Many Germans were killed and fifty prisoners taken in a successful minor enterprise south of Meteren last night," the statement said. "Casualties were inflicted and prisoners captured in night raids and patrol encounters elsewhere on the front."

Court House News

The final hearings for objections if any to the settlement of the estate of Charles H. Jacobson will be held at the court house before the county court on July 29, 1918. The estate was appraised at a value of $3645 for real estate and $275 cash. M. G. Gunderson is the administrator. On July 3 an appraisal will be made of the estate of Jacob H. Jacobson at Silverton. The appraisers are E. E. Callister, M. G. Gunderson and Ole J. Moe. Today in the circuit court before Judge Kelly an equity case was on trial, that of Howard C. Nelson against Grace Wolford. The trial is to establish the ownership of real and personal property. They were married in 1902 and divorced in 1914 and at the time of the divorce, it was thought the property question had been settled. Property in Silverton is involved. The legal advisory board for divisions 1 and 2 of Marion county is holding its sessions in department No. 2. The board will be in session all week.

Millers May Buy Wheat Without Any Rationing

Washington, June 24.—Maximum differential of $1.10 per barrel on flour will be allowed millers beginning July 1, Food Administrator Hoover announced today. This differential is to be the difference in cost of the wheat to the miller and his total return from his sales of flour and feed. Competitive conditions will be restored and millers will be allowed to buy wheat freely instead of submitting to the rationing by the food administration which has been in effect this year. This is made possible, Hoover said, by the prospect of a bumper wheat crop. There will be absolutely no speculation in wheat, he declared. No changes in flour prices to the public will result from the new arrangement Hoover said.

Saving on Twine

Washington, June 24.—Farmers will be saved $6,000,000 on binder twine next year by a contract between the government and Mexican sisal interests by which 500,000 bales of sisal are purchased at three cents a pound less than the present price. Food Administrator Hoover announced today. The new price will not affect binder prices until next year.

LABOR CONDITIONS STILL UNSATISFACTORY WITH CALLS UNFILLED

Fear Expressed by Growers That Half of Loganberry Crop Will Be Lost

The labor proposition is still in a most unsatisfactory condition, now that both the cherry and loganberry crops are needing attention. While the town seems to be willing that the U. S. Labor Bureau and the Y. W. C. A. along with the efforts of the U. S. Boys Working Reserve shall be left to solve the shortage of labor, according to reports coming in from all parts of the county, there are workers enough to save barely one-half the crop. It seems these organizations are doing their best, yet unable to supply the demand for laborers. The Labor Bureau is sending out parties each day and the Y. W. C. A. this morning sent out a party of 30 to the Miller orchard, chaperoned by Miss Margaret McPhaden. Through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. and the United States Boys' Working Reserve, several camps of boys have been sent out. Yet with all these efforts the numbers that are willing to go into the fields are in no way adequate to meet the needs of cherry and loganberry growers. One loganberry grower, out a distance of ten miles, said he was receiving no benefit from the efforts being made in town. He had tried to interest several traveling automobile families, but they all had a price fixed too high for the growers here and then besides, many of those who were apparently looking for work were not very anxious when the work was in sight. It is the same story here in town. While there has been much talk about working, very few have volunteered, and in many cases, while willing to work, the conditions must be just exactly, to please before the work will be accepted. Miss Florence Cleveland of the Y. W. C. A. is working hard to organize another camp now that the first one of the 30 was located this morning. Rev. H. N. Aldrich, in charge of the United States Boys' Working Reserve, says he has a scout camp of 40 coming Wednesday from Ilwaco, Wa. But with even these efforts, with the 2,000 or more workers needed in the valley during the next few weeks, there seems to be little prospect of more than one half the crop being saved. According to a grower who is facing a serious condition, unless the people here in town rise to the occasion to help harvest the crop, fully half of this loganberry and cherries will be lost.

State Prison Is "Broke," Asylum Well Supplied

Superintendents of the various state institutions today received from R. B. Goodin, secretary of the state board of control, copies of all the awards for supplies for each institution for the next six months. The awards were made on the bids opened a few days ago. It will now be possible for the superintendents to figure almost exactly what it is going to cost to run the institution during the last half of this year, and they should soon know whether their appropriations will hold out. Warden Murphy of the state penitentiary has already reported that his institution will need approximately $60,000 more to get through the year. The state emergency board will be called together to authorize the prison to incur a deficiency. Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the Oregon state hospital, estimated a short time ago that his appropriation would run very close to the line, but now that the prices of meats and other supplies have made a very material jump in the bids recently opened it is a question as to whether the asylum will get through the year without a deficiency.

BOLSHEVIK DOCTRINE SPREADING IN AUSTRIA

Propaganda Fostered in Russia Bearing Fruit in Central Empire

By William G. Shepherd (Written for the United Press) Washington, June 24.—The bolshevik doctrine has spread into Austria. What Lenin and Trotsky started in Russia is working in the Austrian army. It is a doctrine that takes hold in a hungry downtrodden land and Austria, as can be seen by the food riots in Vienna, is sufficiently hungry to consider the preaching of bolshevism. The tremendous military feat of the Italian army is not to be discredited, in any way. But it is only fair to say that the Russian doctrine has had its part in what has happened along the Piave. The once bolshevik-tricked Italians have done as fine a thing in coming back and putting victory before bolshevik beliefs as they have done even in a military way. Their sanity and fidelity is proven. The front line trenches in this war are really back at home; if the line breaks back home, the second line trenches, up where the guns are sounding, will break also, just as the Austrian firing line has faded away before the revengeful Italian smashes. Italy has played a magnificent part; she has more than evened the score with Austria. But the Russian doctrine of the rights of separate peoples to govern themselves; and the American doctrine of government only with consent of the governed, has weakened Austria as a fighting force.

Local Exemption Board Received Call Saturday for Seventy-Eight Men

The local exemption board received a call late Saturday evening for the inducting into service of 78 men in class 1, to entrain for Camp Lewis July 22. This is in addition to the 65 men who will leave for Camp Lewis Wednesday of this week and the 43 who will entrain for Camp McDowell July 5. For division No. 2 at Woodburn, the call of July 22 is for 46 men, making a total of 124 men from Marion county who will leave for Camp Lewis on July 22. Lane county's call is for 118 men and Linn for 76, with a total of 2500 from the state of Oregon. Polk county will be called on for 52 men.

Sherman County Farmer Convicted of Sedition

Portland, Or., June 24.—Julius Rhuerg, Sherman county farmer, convicted of advising young German-Americans how to avoid the draft, was sentenced today to pay a $2,000 fine and was given a 15 month jail sentence. Rhuerg is a native of Germany but is an American citizen. He returned to Germany in 1904, but came back to the United States in 1913. Rhuerg will appeal. The appeal bond was fixed at $10,000 which he can furnish, it is believed.

Italian War News Enthuses Wall Street

New York, June 24.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said: There was a good deal of more or less suppressed enthusiasm in Wall Street today over the gratifying turn of events on the Italian war front. The securities market reflected this sentiment soberly, on the whole. Stimulus was imparted to investment buying. United States Steel went thru 109. Baldwin Locomotive and General Motors continued their Saturday performances on a somewhat lesser scale, the first advancing two points and the second 1 3/4. The leather and tobacco shares were also fairly strong. Rails were steady to firm in strong deals. Business died down in the last hour despite the increasing scope of the Italian victory, with the prime level generally maintained, however. Steel moved closely around 109.

METHODIST PASTOR SPEAKS FOR STAMPS

Dr. R. N. Avison Urges Support of Campaign Now On—Talks on Sunday Labor

At the regular services Sunday morning, Dr. R. N. Avison spoke briefly in regard to the War Savings Stamps campaign, urging the members of his congregation to invest in their utmost in aiding the government to secure funds for carrying on the war. He referred to the fact that it was but a few years ago that no pastor would bring up secular matters in the pulpit but that in recent years the change had come and now the world was beginning to appreciate the help that could come from the support of the church. As to working on Sunday to save the cherry and loganberry crops, Dr. Avison spoke as follows: "I would go as far as any man would need to go in an emergency, but I feel that the time is not here when the Sunday school children and the people should go into the fields on Sunday. To save this crop, I hope that all will put in their spare time in the fields, and also those who have time after working hours. Those who can not go, yet have automobiles, can do their part in offering their cars to carry workers into the fields. However, if it becomes finally necessary after everybody has put in their spare time to save the harvest, I will have no objections, but I feel it will not be necessary if we all make good use of the six working days of the week. "If I work 15 hours a day during the six working days of the week, it is more than desirable that we rest on the Sabbath. Then there is a larger principal involved. One of our perils is that we have no Sabbath law at this time and with the tendency of the times, it is not for us to encourage the breaking of the Lord's day."
