Word was received today of the marriage several days ago of Henry C. Richter of Portland and Miss Lois Ashby, in Portland. Mr. Richter is a graduate of the O. A. C. and has recently been in Y. M. C. A. work. He will soon leave for the officers' training camp in Georgia.
Miss Lorene Parker, home food demonstrator will speak at the meeting of the Pomona grange at Woodburn tomorrow. Thursday and Friday she will speak before grange meetings in Clackamas county. Her work now is mostly on demonstrations of wheatless bread and in canning.
Quinaby school district is making an effort to prove its claim that it was the first district in the state to raise its quota for War Savings Stamps. Yesterday noon the workers came in with a report that even before 12 o'clock they had not only subscribed the district's quota of 5,000, but that it had gone over the top with $1,860 to spare.
Although the announcement is made that sugar has advanced five cents per hundred, and also the higher freight rate go into effect today, retailers say that no changes will be made on the local price. However, after present stocks are exhausted, there may be a slight advance in price. Although Oregon has for some time been on the limit of three pounds per month to each person, the federal food administration is just announcing that this limit will be effective July 1.
The next meeting of the Salem Elks' lodge is for the first Thursday in the month, but as this happens to fall on the Fourth of July, H. J. Wiedner, secretary, has just received a special dispensation from the district, deputy permitting the lodge to hold the session on the evening of Tuesday, July 2. There will be initiations that evening and also the election of ten delegates to attend the Elks' state convention to be held in Portland August 26-31. The limit of delegates for the larger lodges like Salem is ten, while the minimum from any lodge is three.
Judge Galloway is now a real farmer and is tilling the soil, cutting wood, shearing sheep and doing all the manual tasks that a full-fledged rancher in Oregon finds confronting him. His farm near McMinnville is keeping him busy and he enjoys it because it has restored his badly impaired health, and he feels and looks many years younger than when he left the circuit court bench. At first the judge found it pretty hard to take up farm work after an interval of 30 years but he soon became accustomed to it. Mrs. Galloway who has been residing in the city, will go out to the farm for the summer at least.
The first watermelons are now on the market and those who wish to partake will find them retailing at about six cents a pound.
The Rev. John Ovall is home from his trip around in his wide circuit and will preach in the Scandinavian church, corner South Fifteenth and Mill streets, next Sunday at 3 o'clock, in the afternoon.
Francis V. Galloway, prosecuting attorney at the Dalles, son of Judge Wm. Galloway of this city, is preparing to enter the military service of the nation. He is now taking a preliminary training course at the state university for this purpose, having been graduated from that institution several years ago.
The boy scouts of Salem and vicinity who recently organized a local council will be addressed Friday evening by H. D. Cross, national field scout commissioner. The boy scouts expect to take a more active part in the life of the community as soon as they become thoroughly organized and upon the recommendation of James E. Brockaway, scout executive of the Portland council, the Salem council has adopted several new requirements for scouting.
The Scandinavian people in and around Oregon City held a rousing patriotic meeting in Oregon City a few days ago under the auspices of the Scandinavian Methodist Episcopal church. The pastor the Rev. John Ovall was chairman of the meeting. Addresses were made by the Rev. W. T. Milliken and the Rev. M. B. Paronagian. Great enthusiasm was manifested for the coming victory of our flag and a goodly sum raised to swell the church war fund.
Post office officials have received notice that hereafter no exception will be made to the rule that parcels when presented to the postoffice for shipment overseas must be accompanied by a written request from the soldier, approved by a major or higher commanding officer. Persons connected with the Red Cross or Y. M. C. A. or other organizations in France must make a request for articles in a similar manner, the approval of an executive officer of the organization being necessary in each case. The original order provided that a regimental or higher officer should approve a request for the shipment of an article to France. This has been modified so that a major or a higher officer may grant the request. The approval of a company commander is not sufficient.
Would Quarantine All Tubercular Cattle
At the next meeting of the state livestock sanitary board, Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, will urge the board to pass a resolution requesting the secretary of agriculture to place a quarantine on interstate shipments of all tubercular infested cattle.
This action will be taken at the request of the livestock sanitary officials of the states of Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Arkansas, who recently held a meeting at Atlanta, Ga., and passed such a resolution. They want a quarantine strictly enforced for the protection of those states which are now practically free of tuberculosis among their cattle.
"All native cattle of Oregon are free from this disease," says Dr. Lytle, in his reply to the state veterinarian of Georgia, "but some few of the cattle that have come in contact with imported cattle have some little tuberculosis, although we have the disease now well under control and a majority of the herds are free from it. We have been working for some 10 years in tuberculosis eradication work here in Oregon.
"As soon as our state livestock sanitary board meets I will bring your letter before them and will encourage the board to issue a similar resolution to the one that you have passed and embody the same request in it relative to the shipment of possibly tubercular cattle interstate, and the control of the sale of tubercular."
KANSAS HARVEST WORKERS
Kansas City, Mo., June 25.—Kansas City's reserve army of 10,000 harvest workers were called into service this afternoon in response to an increasing demand for harvest help from farmers.
Unless the "reserves" — whether skilled in farming or not — respond immediately to the call, part of the Kansas wheat harvest may be lost, officials declared this afternoon.

FIFTY THOUSAND MARK IS REACHED IN WAR SAVINGS

One-Fifth of Salem's Allotment Secured In First Two Days of Campaign

The second day's campaign of the War Savings Stamps campaign will bring the subscriptions up to about $50,000, about one-fifth of the quota assigned to Salem, according to the announcement of Hal D. Patton, general in charge.
While this amount is not quite as large as expected for the two days workers are not discouraged to any extent and all express their determination to stay with the campaign until the required amount, $250,000 is subscribed.
The slowness in securing subscriptions is due largely, Mr. Patton says, to the fact that many people are not at home at this season of the year and then again hundreds are out picking cherries.
Some report the old old story of the woman who had but a little subscribing liberally, while in other families, even in some where a son is in the war, there was an inclination to feel that their duty was done by subscribing for two stamps. In some cases, where the family is driving around in an automobile, the total subscriptions for the family amounted to $10.
In the office of the State Accident Commission, the employes subscribed $1,720 an average of $55.00 each. There are 49 workers in the office and not one failed to respond to the invitation to subscribe.
Hereafter, during the week's campaign, the workers will report direct to their captains and the captains will hold a daily conference and report to Hal D. Patton and no more noon day luncheons will be given at the First Methodist church.
Throughout the county, the campaign will close Friday evening. In the rural districts, a mass meeting has been called for that evening, when it is expected that every person in the district will turn in their subscription cards in order that the district committee may know whether the quota has been subscribed.
At the mass meetings Friday evening, June 28, there will be organized in each district, a permanent war fund committee, which will have charge of future Liberty loan and other campaigns. During the week each home in every district will be visited by the workers.
For the Friday evening mass meeting the best speakers in the city have volunteered their services to make addresses. The executive committee in charge of the county work today announced the following assignments, according to school districts:
Aurora, Frank Davey; Wetzel school house, Walter A. Denton; Central Howell, Clas. V. Galloway; Kaiser school, C. B. Gingrich; Hayesville, August Huckestein; Battle Creek, Dr. H. C. Epiery; Clear Lake, Rev. R. S. Gill; Shaw, C. E. Niemyer; Pringle, Judge George G. Bingham; Middle Grove, Justice Lawrence T. Majority of American Troops In Combat

Washington, June 25.—Between 65 and 70 per cent of the American forces sent overseas are combatants, Secretary of War Baker announced today.
His statement is apropos of the fact that tomorrow marks the first anniversary of the landing of United States forces in France. Commenting on the dispatch of more than 900,000 troops overseas, Baker said:
"I think the year's work has been satisfactory."

Advisory Draft Board Working to Re-Classify

The several committees of the advisory board in session today devoted their time to looking over the records of men who were placed in classes 2 and 3. In general the committees report the first work of the local board was well done and it is understood that but a few changes of classification will be made, excepting where conditions have changed. Tomorrow the work will be on classes 4 and 5.
In a number of recommendations where there has been any doubt, the records have been carefully examined before changes have been recommended.
This legal advisory board can only make recommendations to the local exemption board. On the strength of these recommendations, the local board will again take up the matter of re-classification and it is probable where this is done, the registrant will be called before the board before the change is made.
If the registrant is not satisfied finally with the recommendations of the advisory board and the final action of the local exemption board, he still has the right of appeal to the district board.
Notice is Mailed
The local exemption board for Division No. 1, of Marion county today mailed the following notice to the 78 men who are to be called for service July 22:
"According to Call No. 855, approved by Adjutant General of the State of Oregon, you are called for entrainment for Camp Lewis, Washington, on or about July 22, 1918, exact date to be sent you later.
"This letter is sent you at the earliest opportunity of the board, so that you can make preparation, and be ready to report at the court house in this city, when the final order is sent; you, form 128, which means that from that date you are in the military service of the United States.
"It is absolutely necessary that you bring with you your final classification card when you report to the local board, as this card is taken up and placed with your record in this office.
"Please acknowledge receipt of this letter in the self addressed envelope, at once."

Food Administrator Makes Announcements

Fred G. Steunloff, federal food administrator for Marion county, today makes the following announcements:
"There has been returned for shipment from Salem alone, 125,000 pounds of wheat flour. From the districts outside of Salem, 125 barrels have been turned in to the food administrator.
"The Commercial club is working on a plan of a complete index of all soldiers in the service from Marion county and all who have enlisted in the navy. The exact address of each will be secured and after this list has been issued, the people of the county will be asked to write letters to the boys.
Several complaints have been made to the federal food administrator in regard to the hoarding of wheat flour and of sugar. Investigations have been made and in almost all cases, there has been no foundation for the reports.
"However, the federal food administration is on the track of several where actual hoarding exists and the parties are openly defying the law. As soon as instructions have been received from the legal department of the state and federal food administration, arrests will be made and every effort made to convict the guilty parties."

Liquidation Marks Wall Street Session

New York, June 25.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:
Notwithstanding the highly gratifying nature of the news from the Italian battle fields, more or less liquidation was in progress throughout today's session of the stock market. All offerings were readily absorbed and net price movements swayed back and forth. Some of the specialties made new gains. General Motors rallied from its mid-day slump and American Sunco Tobacco pushed ahead through 143. Steel continued under pressure, selling below 108. Bethlehem "B" had a mid-afternoon spurt to above 87, but reacted a point or more.

Portland, Or., June 25.—Crediting the Oregon district with nearly one half of the Pacific coast's allotment of ships within the five month period ending June first, the Emergency Fleet News, official publication of the United States shipping board says:

At Portland, Astoria and along the Columbia and Willamette rivers in Oregon 67 ships were launched in the 12 months ending April 1.
