Sparks From Teamster's Pipe Started Fire That Burned State Wood

One of the teamsters employed by Frank Smith, owner of the land where the penitentiary wood camp is located, has admitted to Warden Murphy that sparks from his pipe started the fire which burned between 1000 and 1500 cords of wood at the prison camp yes-

Warden Murphy says he does not know the name of the teamster, but the man says that when sparks from his pipe started a fire in the dry leaves and limbs near the wood camp he tried to stamp it out, but he could not half his team and a start it. he same time, so he let it go.

The fire was discovered by the con

The largest loganberry dryer in the state of Oregon went up in flames this morning at 5 o'clock when the plant of J. P. Aspinwall at Brooks was stroyed by fire at an estimated los of $10,600. When first discovered, the flames were gaining headway in the center and roof of the dryer and it is supposed that the origin of the fire was in the tunnels. As there was no water protection, nothing could be done to save the plant and within a short time after the fire was first discovered, the dryer was a complete loss. It had capacity of more than 500,000 pounds of loganberries annually.
