SUBSCRIPTIONS TOTAL $73,000 IN SALEM

Thirty Captains In Charge of Work Make Their Reports at Noon Today

Subscriptions amounting to $73,53 were reported today noon by the 30 captains in charge of the War Savings stamps campaign to Hal D. Patton, general in charge.
It is impossible at this time to get a complete report as the captains are still hard at work. In making their canvass of the city, they report finding many entire families away from home, working in the berry fields and picking cherries. The absence of so many families has naturally had much to do with the amount so far pledged.
However, a record has been made of every family out of town and arrangements are planned by which they will be solicited upon their return.
The postoffice, banks and stores report a big business in War Savings Stamps and in many cases, people are buying more than they pledged, the increase averaging about 20 per cent of the original pledge.
While the amount is still a long way from Salem's quota of $250,000, neither the captain nor Mr. Patton are inclined to feel at all discouraged. The workers will continue to look over their territory and the campaign will be on until Salem has set itself right on War Savings Stamps pledges.
"There is no doubt that Salem will finally go over the top," said Mr. Patton today. "The top is there and we are going over it if it requires the work of every man on every team until December 31."

PRUNE GROWERS WILL DECIDE PRICE

Prune growers in the state of Oregon will soon be called upon to meet and name a price that will be satisfactory for the 1918 crop. P. W. Steuless, county food administrator, today received the following letter from the federal food administration:
"Please call at once a meeting of all the prune growers in your county to select delegates to a meeting of prune growers in connection with this office, for the purpose of naming prices for the 1918 crop. This meeting will be held at Portland July 2. We are depending upon you to get this information to your growers as no notice will be sent from this office."
As soon as Robert Pautus, manager of the Salem Fruit Union, returns from Roseburg a meeting will be called of growers in the county to select delegates for the July 2 convention.
A few weeks ago California prune grower met and agreed on an 8 1/2 cent basis, with a premium on 30's and 40's. It is pretty well understood that the federal food administration regards this as a pretty generous figure.
The Official bulletin, published at Washington, D. C., in its issue of June 18 says: "The food administration issues the following: Maximum reasonable prices to growers for the 1918 prune and raisin crops, recommended by growers in California, have been accepted by the food administration. Prune growers are to receive not more than 8 1/2 cents per pound basis net. This price is larger than was expected to be, but conferences of growers, both association and independent, held by the California food administrator, demonstrated that the general labor situation, increased costs and probable prune shortage justifies the price recommended.
"Later conferences will determine the margin to be allowed various handles of the crops, after which retail prices can be computed. This will result in stabilized prices for the consumers. Future selling and speculation which has caused high prices in the past, will thus be eliminated."

Court House News

As usual in the majority of divorce cases, the custody of the minor child was awarded to the plaintiff, which is the mother and wife. The circuit court yesterday granted a decree of divorce in the case of Vera Mabel Howard against Charles Adrian Howard and the custody of the four year old boy was awarded to the mother. The father is ordered to pay $20 a month towards the support of the child.
In the original complaint she alleges that Howard had associated with a woman of questionable character known as Blanche Stanton and that he had secretly eloped with her in 1916. That he later tried to induce Mrs. Howard to make a false affidavit to his questionnaire in order that he might escape the draft.
In the county court Mrs. Mary Eakin filed a report that she had received life insurance from the estate of Robert Eakin amounting to $1994.33 and that as administratrix she held a note of M. C. Jory for $1000 which had been appraised at $1085.53. Mrs. Eakin asks for a final settlement of the estate and court named July 29.
In the matter of the estate of Thos. C. Sloper, the administrator, J. A. Roberts, was given permission to sell at private sale lots 4 and 7, block 6, Highland addition to Salem. It seems the lots had been offered at public auction and no bids were received.

Full Battalion Drill of Salem Soldiers

For the first time in the history of Salem, the people will be given an opportunity next Friday evening to witness a full battalion drill of three companies of Salem soldiers.
Orders have been issued by Major A. A. Hall for a battalion drill in full uniform to be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at what is known as the old base ball ground at the end of the State street car line. It was necessary to hold the drill on these grounds as none of sufficient size were available in the down town or residence part of the city.
While there has not been received as yet rifles enough for every man in the battalion, whole uniforms are here and this of course will add greatly to the military spirit of the occasion.
The commissioned officers in charge of the battalion drill will be as follows:
Commanding officer—Major A. A. Hall.
Company E—Captain A. R. Wilson;
Company G—Captain W. Connell Dyer; Lieutenant Robert B. Duncan and H. H. Corey.

Restricted Trading in Wall Street Today

New York, June 26.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:
Trading in today's stock market was of much the same character as in the preceding sessions of the week, although more restricted as the volume. The opening was strong and good advances were registered in the first hour.
The equipments, leather and oil stocks were the outstanding features. Towards mid-day a decline set in which affected the entire list. In the early afternoon there was gradual recovery which in some cases carried individual issues to new top prices for the day. Considerable strength developed in the last hour. Steel crossed 109. Mexican Petroleum pushed through pay and Baldwin Locomotive advanced close to 96.

THE CROWN PRINCE SAID TO HIS PA-PA: "If you don't take up the sword, I will!" —AND PA-PA SMILED, and the big bugs, whose very lives depended on the existence of autocracy and militarism, applauded—and Germany became the land of the Bloody-Hun. That's one of the many incidents in the great, dramatic show piece of the screen.
