Men who are not registered may volunteer in the U. S. army for any of its branches. Young men who have reached the age of 21 since June 5, 1918 may volunteer for service, as well as those who are between the ages of 31 and 40. Those interested should apply to the U. S. recruiting station on State street, in charge of Sergeant Davis who has had 15 years army experience.

Reinhart, 18, has by this time arrived at Mare Island as he also enlisted a short time ago in the navy going into the radio service. His next of kin is his mother, Mrs. Cammie H. Reinhart, of 140 South 24th street, Salem. He has already two brothers in the army.

Work on the bridge across the Willamette is progressing in a satisfactory way and it is thought that the contractors will have completed the work at least by the middle of the month. There is some paving to be done by the county and as soon as that is finished, the exact date of the grand opening of the bridge can be announced. The original contract requires that the work be completed by August 1, but so far the work has been running ahead of schedule.

Of all the patriotic moving pictures that have been shown here, the one now on at the Liberty theatre seems to arouse the feelings of the audience more than others. It is historically correct and based on Ambassador Gerard's book "My Four Years in Germany." The men in the several scenes who have been assigned to parts of the leading Germans, look so much like our conception of the originals, that the play impresses one as being almost the actual scenes in the palace of Kaiser William. The house was crowded both for the afternoon and Sunday evening shows. It is on again today and tomorrow.

A committee consisting of David W. Eyre, C. E. Albin, John H. Todd, P. E. Fulerton, Dr. H. C. Epley, John Siegmund and George Vick will go to Dallas this evening to interview the Dallas people as to their sentiments regarding the bridge opening to be held here about the middle of this month. As the entire profits of every entertainment and in fact everything that is done that day will be given to the Red Cross it is hoped that the Dallas folks as well as the Dallas auxiliaries of the Red Cross will cooperate with Salem in making the day the greatest of the year, all to the benefit of the Red Cross. Walter A. Denton will accompany the party as the speaker of the evening and John H. Todd and his singers will provide the entertainment.

The U. S. Employment Bureau in Salem reports there is a great shortage of automobiles to carry workers into the fields each morning and bring them back to Salem in the evening. When autos were first called for, about a dozen were offered, but since the novelty of the thing has worn off, it seems that about three is the best that can be depended on to carry pickers out each morning. Many workers are arriving from all parts of the country and the indications are that the crop will be fairly well harvested, unless the warm weather ripens the fruit too quickly. Mr. Coleman of the bureau, says that in general, things look satisfactory.

A general invitation is issued to those who are interested in the success of the bridge opening to go over to Dallas this evening with the committee to confer with the Dallas as to what may be done to make the opening a big success. Every one of the 100 or more auxiliaries of Willamette chapter will be asked to take part in the day's celebration, with the clear understanding that whatever profit each auxiliary makes, will be entirely for its own treasury. The people of the city of Salem go to profits as concessions will be to auxiliaries and every dollar made will go into some Red Cross auxiliary.

For those who are looking for a suitable place to spend the Fourth, announcement is made that Kings Valley is preparing to observe one of the biggest celebrations in the valley. The Valley and Siletz railroad has recently been completed beyond Hoskins into the spruce districts and to properly commemorate the event of the road having passed through Kings Valley and beyond, the citizens are asking every one who really wants to see something of a forest country, to come their way on the Fourth. An excursion will run direct from Independence to Kings Valley and then it is only 40 miles distant from Salem with first class roads. They expect to see 5,000 people from the hill country and the valley on hand for the Fourth.

While there is no general active effort to continue the War Savings Stamps campaign, yet members of the 30 teams will from time to time solicit those who were not at home during the few days of the canvass. It is probable that an entire re-canvass of the city will be made when those who are away on vacations and also helping with the berry picking will be home. With a quota of $250,000, Salem has subscribed but little over $100,000. It is estimated that Marion county as a whole has pledged about 60 per cent of its quota, while the rural districts outside of Salem have subscribed fully 60 per cent. During the absence for the next 30 days of Hal D. Patton, the campaign will be in charge of Chauncey Bishop and William McGlechrist, Jr.

Emergency Board Called by Governor

Upon his return today from spending a month's vacation on the state's experiment farm in Union county, Governor Withycombe sent a request to Secretary of State Olcott to call a meeting of the state emergency board to take care of the institutions which are running short of funds.

The most urgent request for more funds comes from the state penitentiary, which will need from $50,000 to $60,000 more to run it through the balance of the year, according to estimates made by Warden Murphy.

When the emergency board meets, the state line board also will ask for funds to complete the state line plant at Gold Hill. The board has exhausted its appropriation of $20,000.

It may be that other state institutions also will put in requests for funds. The superintendents of the various institutions will have figures prepared this week, giving estimates of their financial condition for the rest of the year. Secretary Goodin of the state board of control has instructed the superintendents to submit such estimates at the regular July meeting of the board next Wednesday.

With this information available the emergency board will have a pretty good idea what it will be up against before the next legislature meets. In addition to the requirements of the state institutions, it is expected that several of the state departments will run short of funds before the end of the year.

Seventeen Teachers Are Grading Papers

Seventeen teachers are now meeting at the state house, as a board of examiners to pass on and mark the papers of the applicants who took the state teachers' examination held at all the county seats last week. The members of the examining board were appointed by J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction. They expect to be in session all week. The members of the board are as follows: Mrs. F. H. Morrison, Dallas; Mrs. O. H. Hyland, Astoria; Mrs. Bertha Hansen, Tillamook; C. E. Mulkey, Medford; Miss Margaret Cospur, Salem; Mrs. Z. I. Riggs, Salem; Miss Arvilla Beekwith, Portland; Clayte Burrows, Portland; Miss Edith Snore, Portland; Mrs. M. L. Fulkerson, Salem; U. S. Dotson, Salem; W. I. Reynolds, Salem; V. V. Willis, Scotts Mills; Mrs. Emily Shaw, Oregon City; Mrs. Minnie Altman, Oregon City; E. B. Stanley, Central Point; Miss Sybil Harrington, Salem.

Timber Contract Is Bothering Officials

A special meeting of the state board of control has been called for this afternoon to consider what the state shall do with its contract to cut a certain amount of timber on the Porter place, near Anusville.

The contract was entered into as a means of providing employment for convicts, as much had been said about there not being enough work to keep the prisoners busy. But it seems now that Warden Murphy does not want to send a gang of convicts to cut the timber. As the state has entered into a contract, however, it may be necessary for the state to hire wood-cutters to do the work which had been intended for the convicts.

Clell Rouse, 18, today enlisted in the regular army and will leave for training camp quarters at once. He is from Falls City. The receiving barracks for volunteer recruits have been moved from Vancouver to Fort Lawton, near Seattle.

At the meeting of the city council this evening, a temporary mayor will be elected to serve during the absence of Mayor Walter E. Keyes, who will be in the east several weeks attending the national grand lodge of Elks which meets at Atlantic City.

Salem officers were responsible for the seizing of four trunks of whiskey at Albany Sunday morning. It seems that the prosecuting attorney of Montague, California, heard of the shipment to Salem and telegraphed the officers here. When the Southern Pacific arrived, when questioned the baggage-man said four trunks had been set out at Albany. The officers here at once telegraphed Johnny Catlin, chief of police at Albany to be on the look-out. It seems that the owner of the trunks had given his checks to a baggage-man to have them transferred to the Oregon Electric depot at Albany but when he found the officers around had skipped out. In the meantime the four trunks filled with California booze are in Portland.

Flour Millers Must Return Surplus Profits

Washington, July 1.—Flour millers were instructed today to average their returns since January 1 and refund to the government all profit exceeding 25 cents a barrel. Food Administrator Hoover announced today. The government will take this excess profit in the form of flour at the rate of one dollar a barrel. This action was taken following charges by the federal trade commission that millers had been making as high as 45 cents per barrel on flour.

giving a dance on the evening of the Fourth at the state fair grounds and a picnic in the afternoon. At the meeting held Saturday evening, it was found that the Homecomers commented most unfavorably on the general poor condition of the laws everywhere and as this was thought to be due to the unsatisfactory water supply, a resolution was passed that the Cherrians ask the Commercial club to investigate and learn why the water supply of Salem is limited.

No junketing trips will be undertaken by the Cherrians and the invitation to attend the launching at Astoria on the Fourth will be declined. Moreover, during the war, the Cherrians will forego trips of all kinds and thereby conserve its spare money and energy for deeds patriotic. One of these will be that of
