Hen Fruit Is Very Popular With Yankee Soldiers In France

By Fred S. Ferguson

NAVAL TRAINING IS STRENUOUS WORK

J. W. Tallman Writes Interesting Letter From San Francisco Station

By Fred S. Ferguson

While the boys in the Naval Training Station at San Francisco, Hospital Corps, are obliged to do some pretty thorough studying in the six months' course yet they are given a day off occasionally that enlivens things for the boys who probably for the first time in their lives are under restraint.

ST. LOUIS TWINS WERE TOGETHER ON WEST FRONT

Some Strange Complications Result When Two Soldiers Look Exactly Alike

By Fred S. Ferguson

With The American Forces in Picardy June 17.—(By Mail)—When you go to war twice at the same time in the same outfit, maybe you can consider you really are doing your part to whip the Boche. At least Walter and Albert Grierson think they had a hard time telling Walter and Albert apart when they were little, they ought to see the sergeant and company commander trying it. Offer you know how to identify the twins, it's easy. Walter (or is it Albert?) has a mole on one foot. But the sergeant can't tell the twins to take off their shoes every time he wants to pick one of them for some particular job. The result is that Walter and Albert are fighting the war both together and separately, for themselves and for each other, and in addition are—and also is—carrying on a mail courtship.

SALEM July 21 to 28, 1918 CHAUTAUQUA

Do The Girls Know? They are writing Gertrude and Geraldine Smalley, who live in Sheldon, Ill. Gertrude and Geraldine are twins. Walter or Albert is writing Gertrude and Albert or Walter is writing Geraldine.

Nobody Knows Difference "You see, it's like this," said Albert. "When Walter is working and I'm tired and I'm fresh, I slip out and relieve him, and if he gets tired, he comes out and relieves me, and so long as one of us is where one or the other is supposed to be—well, there you are."

They Worked in Banks. Before enlisting in the army together the Griersons worked in different banks in St. Louis. It so happened that each was at the pass-book window in his respective bank. Depositors with accounts in both banks began to consider taking the pledge if they went from one bank directly to the other, until they learned how things stood.

M. C. A. men are with the soldiers all ways. Out hats and dogtags are shelled by the Germans, our secretaries are gassed, but all of them "carry on" with the idea of service uppermost in their minds. The Y. M. C. A. is helping to maintain the wonderful morale of the finest army the world has ever seen.

A certain Y. M. C. A. cafe in France run by Dr. Charles Park of Santa Barbara, Cal., was crowded the other day when an American sergeant slipped in to a place at one of the tables. Sergeant's name was Maxmillian Foster, and this one was a little different from the others. The only thing about him uncommon to the place was that he had not shaved for three or four days, besides which he was hunched up in a sort of boy scout's uniform that looked as if he had slept in during a fortnight's tour of duty at the front. In France, however, one pays no attention to things like that; and the Y. M. C. A. worker waiting on the table hardly gave the sergeant a glance.

Brave Woman Worker Paris July 8.—Remaining in a village under bombardment in order to serve the soldiers and civilians, Miss Evelyn Garraunt Smally, a Y. M. C. A. canteen worker, has been highly praised by General Pont, of the French army. Miss Smally joined the women's overseas section of the Y. M. C. A. national war work council for canteen work in the Poyer du Soldat, the French army huts financed and staffed by the association. General Pont wrote: "I am glad to inform you that the military authorities have made a very flattering report to me of the aid given."
