The summer of 1918 will long be remembered as the year of the big cherry crop and with present conditions holding good, a year of a bumper prune and Bartlett pear crop. D. A. White, who has been a pretty good crop observer around here for more than a quarter of a century, says never has he seen such poor garden conditions, especially in the country. Mr. White is also of the opinion that all feed stuffs such as hay, oats and vetch that are shipped out of the country will be shipped back when it is found that the country is short of feed stuffs.

Mothers who have small children and who would like to help in the surgical dressing work at the postoffice, will be given a chance as the kindergarten school will open Wednesday morning. The need for workers is such that those in charge of this surgical department hope that many mothers will at least offer a half day each week to the work. Their children will be well taken care of at the Garfield school under careful and competent kindergarten teachers.

Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney has received a letter from Mr. Doney at Washington, D. C., with the news that he expects to arrive in Salem next Saturday. It is probable that arrangements will be made for a public address by Dr. Doney in order that the people may hear directly from members of Company M. Much of Dr. Doney's work was in central France and near Nevers where company M has been stationed, and he will be the first messenger to Salem from Company M.

Horace A. Wilson, a member of the local Elks lodge enlisted six months ago in the ordnance department. A letter, written on board a transport was received a few days ago by H. J. Wiedmer, secretary of the lodge, in which Mr. Wilson writes: "I am writing on board a transport. Have been at four different camps within the last three months. Had a good time crossing and did not get seasick. We expect soon to see land. Fifteen other men from Oregon are on board." He is corporal of the 21st ordnance company.

Mrs. Fannie E. Hubbard, whose interest in the Hubbard building and 202 acres of land was foreclosed as sheriff's sale Saturday will have under the law one year in which to redeem. Others interested, which include Welch Bros., John Bayne and the U. S. National Bank will also have the same privilege of redeeming within the year, or any party to whom Mrs. Hubbard might sell her interest in the property. Several small payments have been made by Receiver Norris to the Alliance Trust company, and as the matter now stands it would require $100,000 to redeem both the farm and the Hubbard building.

Prune packers are not yet permitted by the federal food administration to buy prunes. It was thought at one time that all packers would be permitted to buy about the first of July, but according to present instructions, the date has been extended to July 15, by which time it is thought the federal food administration will have acted on an established price for the Oregon product.

According to the recent conference in Portland, the Oregon price will be nine and five-eighths cents for the 30-40 run size, and one-eighth cent for the 40-50 run, and other sizes in about the same proportion, although there is no fixed base price. The price roughly speaking will average about two cents a pound more this year than one year ago.

Manager Laflar Succeeded Here by Chas. O. Kupper

Charles O. Kupper, who has been for the past ten years associated with moving picture houses in Portland and St. Louis, has taken charge of the Oregon Theatre. A. R. Laflar, former manager, will go to Portland.

Mr. Kupper states that the general policy of procuring the best of pictures will continue at the Oregon and that he will maintain the high standard of the house in every respect and that only the best of pictures will be shown.

Within a few months he expects to effect several improvements to make the house more comfortable. One of these will be the installing this week of two additional fans for ventilation purposes. Later the general plan of decoration will be changed and everything done to make the patrons feel at home.

Mr. Laflar has been very successful in his management of the Oregon, and no doubt has a bright career before him in the larger field.

DEFICIENCY BILL SIGNED. Washington, July 8.—The president late today signed the general deficiency bill carrying miscellaneous appropriations totalling 995,000,000.

WANT FEDERAL PATROL OF TIMBER DISTRICTS

Local Military Forces and Special Service Men May Be Given This Task

A telegram urging the secretary of war to authorize local military authorities to send limited service soldiers from Camp Lewis to patrol logging camps and timber districts, as a means of keeping down forest fires, was sent by Governor Withycombe to Secretary of War Baker last night. This action was taken at the request of the state board of forestry, which met in Portland Saturday and passed a resolution to this effect.

The state forester of Washington was present at the meeting Saturday and he will also ask the governor of that state to make a similar request of the secretary of war. State Forester Elliott says that because of the long dry spell the Oregon forests are in great danger from fires and that every precautionary step should be taken to protect airplane and ship materials.

The governor's telegram to the secretary of war says: "The acute forest fire situation in Oregon now not only imperils ship and airplane material and railroads, but threatens to call out for fire fighting great numbers of laborers needed for shipbuilding, lumbering and grain harvesting."

"To avert serious labor situation as well as protect resources it is essential to increase efficiency and authority of patrol to reduce starting new fires."

"I urgently request war department to authorize local military authorities to detail from available limited service men at Camp Lewis one or more military patrolmen to each logging camp, necessary railroad unit or timber district. State forester will arrange details of patrol with local officials. This proposed action endorsed by Colonel Disque, District Supervisor Westworth of shipping board and District Forester Cecil of U. S. forest service."

State Forester Elliott says that fires in this state are now fairly well under control, but no one can tell when big fires will start, impeding war work by destroying materials and taking laborers.

Auto License Fees Are Reduced, August 1

Secretary of State Elliott today called attention to the fact that license fees for automobiles are not reduced to one-half until after the first of August. Many automobile owners have been under the impression that the reduction took place July 1.

The secretary of state also points out that when a person buys a new automobile he cannot lawfully transfer the license numbers from his old car to his new car. The license plates should remain with the car for which they were originally issued.

COTTON PRICES REDUCED.

Washington, July 8.—Presidential approval was given today to the prices fixed by the war industries board on cotton cloth, effective until October 30 of this year. The prices set average a twenty to 30 per cent reduction of the market prices.

TEXAS LEAGUE QUILTS.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 8.—Inability to secure players to supplant those taken into the army caused the suspension of the Texas league, President J. Walker Morris announced today. Dallas led the league at the close of the 1915 season with 51 won and 37 lost.

Open Forum

Is Marion County The Goat? Editor Capital Journal: If Marion county is the goat for the state highway commission it is about time that we should get busy and get the goat of the commission. It seems very evident that this county will not receive any aid from the $6,000,000 fund; it is first one excuse and then another. We have from the Board not enough money to complete the Post road from Aurora to Salem as the government has put up their half even that is donated us. If Marion county can pave the Silverton road and find no difficulty in securing labor why can not the state commission pave the Salem-Portland part from Aurora to Salem. If it was to come out of the $6,000,000 fund they might lay claim to the non-sale of bonds, but that they can not do. It is about time that the Nigger in the woodpile was smoked out even if it takes a democratic governor to do it. Other counties have had and is now receiving aid from the commission, why not Marion? A county that pays the second largest amount of auto tax in Oregon. Can it be that politics has a hand in it; to be the detriment of the traveling public? Marion county did not vote for the bonds. Are we getting paid back? Can not the Capital Journal help the good road boosters to see that work on the Salem-Aurora road is started or else inform the large number of good road supporters why. It is getting to be a common talk that something is wrong, but who is to blame, the governor, or the highway commission. If the fall election can change the results there will be some one surprised when the ballots are counted, as the farmers as well as the city folks are getting tired of the existing conditions. A NEW KICKER.

LOYALTY CARDS ARE ORDERED BY CLUB

Standing of Every Man and Woman of Salem Territory Will Be Listed

At a meeting of the officers and directors of the Commercial club held today at the Marion, it was ordered that the manager and clerical force of the club have printed forms of cards for the loyalty index which will be used in making a complete record of all people in Salem and rural districts. This index will show exactly the amount that every man or woman has subscribed during any of the patriotic campaigns including the Red Cross drives, Y. M. C. A., three liberty loan campaigns, Armenian relief and the last campaign, that of the War Savings Stamps.

During the campaign for War Savings Stamps, the workers found that many who were not disposed to give, offered as an excuse they had donated liberally to the Red Cross and had subscribed for the Liberty loans. At that time there was no way of verifying such statements. After the workers had a week's experience during the last drive they met and voted that the Commercial club should have these loyalty cards printed and an index showing just what every person in the city and vicinity had done.

Contracts for a membership of one year to the Commercial club will be mailed to all members of the club, asking them to renew their subscriptions for one year at the rate they have been paying the past three years. These contracts will be mailed and there will be no solicitations. It was felt by the officers and directors that the business and professional men had given generously of their time in the several drives and that the business men and others would be patriotic enough to renew their Commercial club subscriptions for one year without being solicited.

Six Measures On Ballot In November

Arguments in support of any of the measures which will be on the ballot at the next general election must be filed with the secretary of state not later than July 13, and arguments opposing such measures must be filed not later than July 23, pointed out Secretary of State Elliott today.

Six measures will be on the ballot. Two were proposed by the legislature, two by initiative petition, and two are laws passed by the last legislature against which the referendum was invoked.

The only argument thus far filed for publication in the measures pamphlet, is that of the board of regents of Normal schools advocating the adoption of the constitutional amendment providing for the establishment of a normal school in Eastern Oregon and one at Ashland, in southern Oregon.

Trial of Lance Dowling In Ireland for Treason

London, July 8.—The trial of Lance Corporal J. Dowling whose arrest when he landed in Ireland from a German submarine two months ago played an important part in suppression of the Sinn Fein plot, began here today.

The government charge that Dowling while in a German prison camp at Limburg joined a "German-Irish brigade," and tried to induce others to follow him. He was also charged with participating in an attempt to land hostile forces in Ireland.

Testimony was introduced to show that Irish-Americans participated in the scheme to raise an Irish-German brigade.
