SUBMARINES WILL STRIKE AT AMERICA

Navy Department Looks for Another Raid Against American Shipping

By Carl D. Groat
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, July 9.—The navy department has reason to believe that German U-boats are about to strike again at Atlantic coast shipping.

Because of this, an official warning to all shipping to be on the alert has been sent out, covering the stretch of ocean from the Virginia capes northward to the vicinity of New York and eastward a considerable distance out to sea.

The recent inactivity of the U-boats off the coast has not deceived navy chiefs into believing that the danger was past and recently confidential information has come tending to prove that a few blow is about to fall. While there is always an element of doubt about submarine information, this data appeared to authorities to be substantial. While warnings are sent out more or less frequently, they generally are based on what appears to be a "good tip."

Vessels Are Warned.
New York, July 9.—Vessels in this vicinity today were warned to watch for a German submarine believed to be operating about 1600 miles east of New York.

At the same time, it was learned that eleven members of the crew of the Norwegian steamship Augvold, 2,098 tons had been landed at an Atlantic port by a liner. Fourteen others of the crew are believed to have perished in a storm. The ship was torpedoed. Indications are she was attacked in American waters.

Sleeps Any Old Way Now

"I am 50 years old and never was sick until 8 years ago when I got stomach trouble. I have spent a fortune for medicine which did not cure. I kept on suffering and getting worse. A fellow worker told me about Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. After taking three doses I felt like a different man; before taking it I could not lie on my back nor right side. Now I can sleep any old way." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. Perry, Capital Drug Store and druggists everywhere.

"In Albania, the action is continuing," the statement said.

"On our left wing after artillery preparation, in which British monitors effectively participated, the infantry started from the lower Vojutza river and carried, after a bitter struggle, the height between Levant and the Monastery of Pofani."

"Between the western slopes of Matakrastra and the sea, cavalry passed through the Austrian lines and attacked the enemy from the rear, destroying the bridges at Semei and Metall. We captured the village of Fieri."

"In the center the very strong positions at Safaglava and Corcof were captured after a strenuous defense. We also captured the head of the Tomorie valley and carried the contested heights of Cafadeveri."

"Our prisoners now total more than 1300 and we have taken airplanes and guns and machine guns in unspecified numbers."

Austrians Admit Advance
Vienna, July 9.—French and Italian forces made advances in Albania, the Austrian war office admitted today.

"In Albania along the upper Devoli, the French gained ground," the statement said.

DR. EDWARD RUMELY

the former German ambassador, thru Dr. Heinrich Albert, former German "paymaster" in the United States, and other agents. Including the purchase price and subsequent upkeep, Germany is alleged to have invested $1,361,000 in the newspaper government agents claim.

A great part of this money, according to investigators came from the sale in this country of German war bonds. The alien property custodian has not made it clear whether the newspaper property will be taken over.

Rumely is an American born in La Porte, Ind. He was educated in the United States, but received his degree of M. D. at Heidelberg University, Germany. He is 36.

Rumely Issues Statement
Dr. Rumely issued a statement which confined in the "strong room" of the federal courts building.

"The editorial policies of the Evening Mail have been under my absolute and sole control. The paper, the editorial page in particular has been an expression of my attitude on public questions, uninfluenced by any consideration other than my own judgment of what was the right thing to do from the standpoint of America's interest. The Mail has backed every war activity of the government to the limit of its power and has performed work second to no other paper in developing policies for the efficient organization of our country for this necessary war.

"My return to the alien property custodian regarding the notes which I personally have outstanding will, I am convinced when all the facts are available, be found truthful in every respect."

He declined to discuss a statement attributed to Henry L. Stoddard to the effect that Stoddard had enforced a vigorous pro-American policy of the Mail in February, 1917, with a threat that bonds he held would have to be taken up unless a different stand was taken. He also declined to discuss an alleged friendship with Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador and other Germans.

"I will make a more complete statement within 24 hours," he said.

The federal grand jury today began an investigation of the charges against Rumely.

NEXT BLOW

brought up; others believe the morale of the German troops is low.

The truth is probably a mixture of all these things, plus other things. Beside a shortage of raw materials, Germany doubtless has only a limited output of munitions now, making it necessary for her to economize over a long period to get a big enough stock to carry out operations similar to those in March and June.

Owing to the limited number of men for the armies, however large, once the majority of German divisions are battered in battle or tired, Hindenburg must wait until they are rested, refitted and restored to optimum.

Prisoners taken since the Hanel fight, declare they had no food for two days, owing to the confusion in the lines. Low flying war planes finally dropped bundles of "bully beef," "dog biscuits" and hard tack along the advanced posts. This method of relieving hunger shows the German army is less able to maintain its cohesion than formerly.

The scarcity of airmen officers is growing, according to an enemy order, which says that fewer officers must do reconnaissance flights, non-coms being substituted. Planes are manufactured with difficulty owing to the lack of raw materials. Some of those delivered are breaking under the strain of flying, according to captured letters.

Prisoners also say there is much illness in the army due to "Flanders fever, grippe, 'Spanish influenza' or whatever the strange malady may be called.

French Strike Hard

Paris, July 9.—Striking between Montdidier and the Oise, French troops with the aid of tanks, advanced more than a mile on a front of 2 1/2 miles northwest of Compiègne this morning.

A German counter attack was repulsed, the French war office announced and all their gains were maintained. Four hundred and fifty prisoners were taken.

"Between Montdidier and the Oise, French troops effected a local operation at 3:30 a. m. west of Anthelm, six miles northwest of Compiègne.

"With the help of tanks, the French penetrated the German lines on a front of four kilometers, took Porta and Lesloges farms and advanced 1800 meters. A German counter attack against Lesloges farm was repulsed. The French maintained all their gains and took 450 prisoners, including 14 officers.

"South of the Aisne these were active artillery fighting. At Chivygnay farm (eight miles southwest of Soissons) was recaptured our progress, taking 20 prisoners, including one officer.

"Northwest of Chateau-Thierry and Hill 204 there was active cannonading. In the Champagne, French patrols took prisoners."

Why Offensive Must Come

Paris, July 9.—Resumption of the German offensive is necessary but its result is doubtful, Herr Stroebel, an independent socialist, admitted in the Prussian Landtag, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Matin today.

Stroebel declared that in the spring drives the German losses were more than 100,000 in killed alone. The losses in the next phase of the drive, he said, probably would be even higher.

About 900,000 Americans are in France, Stroebel said, which about balances the allies' losses and the German gain in man power through new drafts and release of men from the eastern front.

"Several millions more will come, unless we Germans rid the government of the war politicians," Stroebel said.

Offensive is Pending

Washington, July 9.—Increasing proof of Germany's known intent to make a new offensive is given by General Pershing's daily communications. These for several days have reported heavy movements of men, supplies and ammunition behind the German rear areas, and that can only mean concentration for an attack. It is assumed that the American allied forces are keeping close tabs on where these forces go and that this time the allies will be better informed than ever before as to where the blow is to be expected.

At present the indications are that it will be a further development of the major plan of reaching the channel ports.

German Artillery Active

London, July 9.—German artillery continues to pound our new positions won by Australian troops south of the Somme, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

"The enemy's artillery has been active against the blow is to be expected. At present the indications are that it will be a further development of the major plan of reaching the channel ports.

COUNTY BUDGET LAW IS ANNULED BY STATE SUPREME COURT

Opinion Written by Chief Justice McBride Holds Law Unconstitutional

The act passed by the 1915 legislature, which was intended to make the county budget law apply to road districts and other districts having power to levy taxes, is held to be unconstitutional by the state supreme court, in an opinion handed down today in the case of A. H. Martin vs Gilliam county, appellant. Circuit Judge Parker of Gilliam county is reversed.

Chief Justice McBride, who wrote the opinion, holds that the law is unconstitutional because it attempts to amend the 1913 county budget law without quoting in full the portion of the law amended. This is in contradiction to the provisions of section 25, article IV of the state constitution, which says: "No act shall ever be revised or amended by mere reference to its title, but the act revised or section amended shall be set forth and published at full length."

Chapter 222 laws of 1915 which is the act in question merely refers to chapter 234 laws of 1913, which is the county budget law, and says its provisions shall apply to "all districts and corporate bodies or organizations having power to levy taxes."

"Here there is no attempt to enact a new and independent statute upon the same subject as the act of 1913 supra," says Chief Justice McBride.

"But an attempt to insert into it, and by reference to it, certain provisions enlarging its scope without setting forth the statute as it would appear after being so revised. If it can be done in this instance there is no limit to the extent to which statute can be revised or amended without setting forth the amended statute at full length, and the constitutional provision above quoted would, therefore, be rendered nugatory. The act of 1915 is void."

Chief Justice McBride points out that the court, in a previous case, held that under the 1915 law road districts must have a budget but he says that the court's attention was not called to the irregular manner in which the 1915 law was enacted.

The case decided today was the result of a suit brought by Martin to enjoin the collection of a 10-mill special road tax attempting to be levied by road district No. 1 of Gilliam county. No attempt whatever was made to comply with the budget law.

Other Opinions Today

Other opinions were handed down as follows:

F. S. Akin, appellant vs George W. Bates and company, et al; appealed from Multnomah; suit for an account.

Eleven Planes Brought Down

London, July 9.—Eleven German planes were brought down during air fighting July 7 and three British machines were lost, the air ministry reported today. Sixteen tons of bombs were dropped on enemy targets during the day and the following night.

No Fresh Operations

Washington, July 9.—"There have been no fresh developments at the points occupied by our troops," the American communique for Monday stated today.

Typhoon Sweeps Over Maniana Islands, July 6

Washington, July 9.—A typhoon sweeping Guam, Maniana Islands, July 6, did much material damage but killed only a few, as far as reports are available today. Half the inhabitants are destitute and homeless, according to a report from Captain Smith, U. S. M., Guam governor today.

His message said: "All public property ashore and afloat materially damaged. Scores injured. One half of inhabitants destitute and homeless. Crops destroyed. Food scarce. Am feeding destitute natives as necessary from navy supplies and commandeered foodstuffs."

Some of the natives were injured and others killed but apparently the death toll is small.

The Maniana and Ladrone Islands are a group of about thirty small islands the chief of which is Guam, lying between Honolulu and Philippines. The navy governs Guam.
