Claims Championship as Cherry Picker

To the Editor: I have been picking cherries in the J. M. Webb orchard which is located two miles west of Salem; I earned $8.40 for several days, and never less than $5.40, tho the crop wasn't extra heavy.
Besides myself there were many others working in the same yard, including doctors, dishwashers, plumbers, law-yers, dressmakers, etc. But none of these quite duplicated my performance, as I am, I think, the fastest picker in the state.
Sincerely yours,
WM. TRULL

KING AND QUEEN FLY

London, July 10.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium flew to England in a seaplane to attend the silver wedding anniversary of King George and Queen Mary. It was officially announced today.

State House News

Articles of incorporation were filed today by the Coos Wholesale company of Marshfield, which will engage in the wholesale mercantile business. The company has a capital stock of $10,000. The incorporators are George W. Shelby, Frank E. Allen and Henry I. Saucers.
The White Clover Ice Cream company of Hubbard filed its articles of incorporation. The company has a capital stock of $35,000. The incorporators are J. W. Shearer, R. E. Cavett and Elton Watkins.

One hundred and ten residents of Hubbard and vicinity today petitioned the public service commission to order the southern Pacific to make flag stops at Hubbard of trains Nos. 13 and 16, for the accommodation of the business interests of the town.
Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer, returned today after making a trip of inspection over all the highway work underway on the coast roads. He reports that the work is progressing in excellent shape.

Since war was declared 39 parole convicts from the Oregon penitentiary have enlisted in military service, according to Parole Officer Joe Keller.
If Dr. Joseph G. Beattie of North Portland will accept, he will be recommended by Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, to the Multnomah county commissioners for appointment as county veterinarian. Dr. Lytle has written to Dr. Beattie about the matter, as he says there is a demand for a county veterinarian in Multnomah county.
Judge Perry R. Kelly, who lost out in his race for the republican nomination for justice of the supreme court but was given the democratic nomination, has informed Secretary of State O'Leary that he cannot accept the democratic nomination.
"I cannot sign this acceptance," he says, "nor in any other way accept this nomination, despite the feeling of gratitude and appreciation I entertain toward my democratic friends who so kindly and generously supported me, this for the very good reason that in a contest ethically, honorably and courteously conducted, my own party expressed a preference for Judge Johns who thereby became entitled to my loyal and unwavering support at the polls and to the office in question."

Yesterday was the last day for the return of the questionnaires by the 1918 class of registrants. The men are now being called in rapidly for the physical examinations. Registrants of this class must be released by local boards for service in the marines or navy when requested to do so, according to a new ruling of General Crowder. This ruling will affect the 1918 class by a short time as they will be within the current quota call probably in August and after once being called, there is no selecting of service. From the time a call is received, the registrant is regarded as being in the service.

Bananas may be cheap living down in Central America where the cost is merely that of free-picking, but in the United States, the story is different. In fact, they are higher in price now than ever before known to the grocery trade. From a wholesale price of four cents a pound, they have advanced to a wholesale price of nine cents a pound and the retail price is about 50 cents a dozen. That is, in Salem, some grocers in Portland sell bananas by the pound.

The funeral services of Amos Sargent were held this morning from the chapel of Webb & Clough. A few days ago Mrs. Sargent was sent to the Oregon State hospital. Although the old people had seven children, none could be located to attend the funeral. One son was living near Linton, but had recently left. The other children are scattered to all parts of the country and their addresses could not be learned.

Mail and parcel post packages will not be accepted at the post office for provinces in the northern part of Italy now occupied by the Austrians and Germans. This includes the provinces of Udine and Belluno nor for places in the provinces of Treviso and Venidid which are east of the Piave river, now occupied by the enemy.

Wm. H. Hart in Truthful Tolver and a clever comedy "Some Professor," is offered at the Oregon today and tomorrow.

The Meyers department store is making extensive changes in the remodeling of their store. The upper floor will be vacated and the business brought all on one floor, all working for efficiency and quicker service. The departments for draperies, blankets and bedding will occupy that part of the store formerly used for shoes. The office will be in the annex.

An error was made yesterday in stating that purchases of War Savings Stamps to the amount of $2500 would be the limit instead of $1000. It should have been that Postal Savings accounts are now permitted to the amount of $2500 instead of $1000. As very few people are buying $2500 worth of War Savings Stamps in amounts of $2500, there was no rush on the postoffice this morning.

Lieutenant Colonel Woolpert is in Stayton today inspecting the Stayton members of the Oregon Guard. The Stayton soldiers will now be known as separate Company A and for technical purposes, the company has been attached to the 2nd battalion. The company is now the 2nd in the battalion and from a physical standpoint, has more six footers and averages heavier in weight than any of the other four companies. It is probable that an effort will be made to have the Stayton company on hand at the big bridge celebration the latter part of this month.

ready three car loads of samples are rolling westward, according to the announcement made this morning by the Valley Motor company. Vick Bros. are now busy placing sub-agencies and already agents have been appointed in the counties of Washington, Linn, Clackamas and Douglas. The price of the "Fordson" will be $960.00 in Salem and the special plow, $150.00. This plow is being manufactured for the Ford agencies by the Oliver Plow company. It is understood that tractors will be sold practically on a cash basis and also that banks will look with favor on tractor paper.

The American Proportional Representation League of Philadelphia has a representative in town in the person of Walter J. Millard. He is field secretary of the league and is here to talk about city government, telling why the present system of electing city officers does not fill the bill, and why the manager system for cities and the commission, home address and service address, down.

The jury in Justice Webster's court in the case of an assault and battery charged against S. S. Howard on a warrant sworn out by E. C. Ford, yesterday afternoon failed to agree. After staying out several hours and doing considerable discussing, the jury stood three to three and finally had to give it up and reported to the court they could come to no agreement. Hence it was necessary to call another jury and the trial is on again this afternoon. The case caused considerable comment from the fact that the assault was made on Ford when he was serving on a committee soliciting War Savings Stamps.

Frank Ford, a well known and wealthy citizen of Salem was bound over to the grand jury in Justice of the Peace Webster's court yesterday under bonds of $250 on a charge of grand larceny. According to the testimony, during his illness, Ford was visited on by Mrs. Maude Campbell and although he paid her, in appreciation for the care given him, Ford gave her a cow. That after she had been in possession of the cow for one year, that Ford demanded she return the animal, and it was alleged that he sent a man to get the cow.

At the meeting held last evening of a special committee appointed to consider proposed amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the Commercial club, action was taken on the proposed changes suggested by Fred W. Steusloff, president, at the recent annual meeting, and this action will be referred to a monthly meeting of the club. The committee favored the election of directors of most of the departments by the membership at large. Also that the directors, by their officers, King Bing. The Christians have heretofore had no representatives on the board of directors. It will also be recommended that the Business Men's league, known as the Mercantile department, elect its own director.

The restaurant fan who is in the habit of using three or four spoonful of sugar for every cup of coffee or tea will soon play in hard luck as the order has gone out from the state food commission that there is a limit on sugar that even restaurants may use. Hereafter, it will be at the rate of three pounds of sugar for every 90 meals served. The restaurant must purchase through the county food administrator and make out a statement showing how many meals were served one year ago and how many they are serving this month. Hence the generous sugar bowl has disappeared from the restaurant tables, or will within a few days.

Some people who have boys in the service are not to any extent interested in the plans of the Commercial club to secure a complete list of all men in the service. Some time ago announcement was made of the club's intention, and an invitation given to all interested in soldiers to send in the name, next of kin, home address and service address. While there has been a generous response, yet there is not as yet the interest taken that will eventually give the club a complete and reliable list. There is as yet no exact list of members of Company M, showing next of kin, home and service address. All that is asked, is that families who have boys in any U. S. service, send to the Commercial club the name of the soldier, next of kin, service address and home address. This is for Marion county only.
