There is one man who failed to report to the local exemption board for the last call and the matter was dropped by the board. It just happens that he has a year or so to serve in the Oregon state penitentiary, and under the circumstances, while willing, found it inconvenient to report.

Woody the auctioneer, will operate two auction houses, one in Salem and Portland, he will continue to make Salem his headquarters and is prepared to handle all the furniture, etc., the public has for sale. Phone 510 or 511.

The local exemption board has received instruction regarding the entrainment of the 88 men for Camp Lewis on Thursday July 25. The men are to meet at the court house at 9 o'clock on that day for their final instructions. They will entrain at the Southern Pacific depot for the 1:35 p. m. train. As this is the largest number that has been called at any one time, efforts will be made to give them an appropriate farewell.

Phone 510 or 511. Woody the auctioneer, if you want to sell your furniture, rugs, ranges, office furniture, etc.

S. S. Howard on trial before Justice Webster's court on a charge of assault and battery on a warrant sworn out by Elmer Todd was yesterday found guilty as charged and fined $25 and costs, and released on $150 bonds as he filed notice of appeal to the circuit court. As the jury on the first trial Tuesday failed to agree on a ballot of 3 to 3, it was found necessary to hold a second trial when the jury convicted on the first ballot. The costs in the trial will amount to more than $100.

The Deschutes Mutual Telephone company of Bend has applied to the public service commission for authority to increase rates.

Fifty boys from the Oregon state training school are now employed in the loganberry fields, according to Superintendent Gilbert. Thirty boys are picking berries on the Cunningham farm, nine miles from Salem. Mr. Cunningham takes the boys to and from the school in an auto truck each day. Twenty boys from the school are camped at Hollywood, east of the state fair grounds and are picking berries.

The army enlistments during the past ten days from the Portland district are as follows: Baker, 10; The Dalles, 5; Salem, 7; Eugene, 3; Grants Pass, 1; Portland, 23 and Aberdeen, 3.

The report of the condition of the United States National Bank, showing total resources of $1,714,990.45, at the close of business June 29, is printed in today's Capital Journal.

The river is now one foot below zero the lowest since November 30, 1917. On that day and the following there was heavy rains and the water came up about six feet, in two days and again six feet on December 1, 1917, making a rise of 12 feet in the river for the three days. One year ago today the river was three feet above the zero mark.

The Spaulding Logging company has completed arrangements to go on a two shift basis of eight hours each. The first shift will begin work at 6 o'clock in the morning and get off at 2:30 in the afternoon. The second shift will go on at 2:30 in the afternoon and quit work at 11 o'clock at night. About 75 extra men will be given work on the two shift plan. The company has war orders and other business already booked to guarantee its employees steady work.

Restaurants report but few patrons kicking on the new order not permitting any one the privilege of using as much sugar as in the past. Those who have belonged to the two or three spoonful class for each cup of coffee appear to be resigned and taking the new order cheerfully. The one pound of sugar to every 30 meals also includes the amount the restaurant uses in pies, cakes and such, and not merely that used with tea or coffee.

The next payment on the Third Liberty loan will be due Thursday, July 18, one week from today. The payment is for 25 per cent of the bond, which figures of course $17,500 for one bond of $50 and $55 for a one-hundred dollar bond. These are to be taken up at the bank designated when the bond was subscribed for. However, it is not necessary to hold off until the 18th to make this payment as it would facilitate matters if payments were made any day and not wait until the big rush on the 18th. The final payment of the Third Liberty loan bonds will be August 15.

William Baltimore of Mill City was brought before Justice Webster's court this afternoon charged with angling within 200 feet of a fishery. The case was dismissed on motion of the district attorney as the charge did not constitute a crime. The law provides that fish must not be taken from the water within 400 feet of a fishway and that angling within 200 feet of a fishway is unlawful. It seems that Baltimore was fishing but caught no fish and that as the law read, he had committed no misdemeanor.

When William F. Woodward addressed the Commercial club recently, he said that a druggist had very little chance of becoming acquainted with his family as he had such long hours and worked seven days a week. If the druggists adopt the resolution which was introduced yesterday in Portland at the Oregon Pharmaceutical Association, the Salem drug stores will hereafter all close at 9 o'clock in the evening. At the session yesterday, J. C. Perry was elected first vice president of the association.

Mike Rasmussen, a member of the Elks' lodge, writes secretary H. J. Wiedner from San Francisco. He is now doing service in the mechanical arts school in the machine shops. He writes that for the first few days, the recruits were drilled pretty steadily but after being assigned work for instructions in the machine shops, there was but two hours a day drilling. The first hour's drill is from 7 until 8 o'clock in the morning and the second hour from 5 until 6 o'clock in the evening. They begin shop work at 8:30, have one and one-half hours for lunch, and on again for instruction and work from 1:15 to 4:30 p. m. He likes the meals Uncle Sam serves and says that "Doc" Lewis is looking fine and that Orin La Course is in the mechanical shops with him.

This evening at the Commercial club addresses will be made by Colonel John Hibbard of the Oregon Guard and John K. Kullock, secretary of the state council of defense. Their talks will be mostly on what the state council of defense is doing and the necessity of such work during the war. The address by Captain C. E. Cullison, which was to have been delivered at the Court house, to Class 1 men and other soldiers, will also take place at the Commercial club, following the talk of Colonel Hibbard and Mr. Kullock. A letter was received today from Mr. Kullock stating that as the two meetings had been called for the same evening, it would be better to have both take place at the auditorium of the Commercial club. The address of Captain Cullison is for men only and especially those who expect to be called into the service.

The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. J. Humphreys Burial will be in the Simpson cemetery near Rocky Point.

State House News

Instead of sending all future commitments from Multnomah county to the eastern Oregon hospital for the insane a number of patients will be transferred from the Oregon state hospital to the eastern Oregon hospital, as a means of relieving the crowded condition at the Salem institution. This change in the plans of the state board has been made at the request of Dr. W. D. McNary, superintendent of the eastern Oregon hospital, who said that he thought less dissatisfaction would result if the change were made. The number of persons committed to the asylum has greatly increased in the last year, and Dr. Steiner attributes it to war conditions.

Mrs. H. K. Donnelly, stenographer for the desert land board, and Miss Grace Babecek, stenographer for the state water board, left last night for Camp Lewis where Mrs. Donnelly will visit her husband, who is expected to be ordered away within the next few days. They will also visit Mrs. Harry M. Slater, wife of Captain Slater, who is a physician at the base hospital at Camp Lewis. Mrs. Slater was formerly Miss Margaret Mora, who served several years as secretary of the state water board.

Two 17 year old boys escaped yesterday afternoon from the Oregon state training school. One was John Collins, sent to the school from Portland, and the other was Frank Cannon, sent from Enterprise, in Malheur county. They were driving teams in the bean field when they drove over a hill, out of sight of the institution, and left their teams and ran. Collins is described as being five feet, six inches tall; weighs 130 pounds, has blue eyes and light hair, and is erect, while Cannon is described as being the same height weighs 135 pounds, has blue eyes which are crossed, is erect and has rugged physique.

The Southern Pacific today filed with the public service commission an application for authority to close the station at Midland, on the Klamath Falls branch. The company says it is short of men and the agent there is needed at a more important place during the period of the war.

The Northwest Society of Highway Engineers will meet at the Benson hotel in Portland Saturday, which is the same time that the Commonwealth conference is scheduled to be held at the Imperial hotel. Herbert Nunn, president of the society of engineers, received an invitation today for his society to meet with the Commonwealth conference, at least during Saturday forenoon when road matters will be under consideration.

TRAIN FALLS INTO CLACKAMAS RIVER

Electric Cars Loaded With Wood Fall Thirty Feet With Broken Bridge

Portland, Or., July 11.—Two men were killed and one seriously injured today when a four car electric freight train of the Portland railway fell eighty feet into the Clackamas river in Clackamas county.

The cars were heavily loaded with wood. When they had reached a midpoint of the high trestle bridge over the Clackamas, the bridge collapsed. With a great roar the entire train crashed down into twenty feet of water. Only the engine now can be seen.

The dead are: Engineer William Murray, Portland. Conductor, A. G. Kinder, Oak Grove. Injured: H. L. Kearney, Portland, reported serious.

The Portland head officials said it had not received any reports to the effect the bridge was in bad condition.

Stocks Active and Weak In Wall Street Today

New York, July 11.—The Evening Sun financial review today said: Both throughout the first hour of trading before and generally after the recess between 11 o'clock and noon, in the New York stock exchange out of respect to the late Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, the market was active and weak, with a large expansion in the volume of trading. The declines in the active list ranged from two to four points before they were checked and concentrated selling from a few firms in steels.

The market ruled steady in the late trading, but became less active and fluctuated narrowly as the professional selling subsided. Nevertheless, the sales for the day were in excess of 900,000 shares. The advances in price from the lows of the day were generally fractional. Net losses of from one to three points prevailed in the industrial list, while the rail net losses were considerable.

Albany Couple Couldn't Be Married at Capital

According to the experiences of the officials of the county clerk's office, where marriage licenses are obtained, the average prospective husband cannot understand why the law pays no attention to where he lives, but that the license must be taken up in the county where the prospective bride lives.

This morning Fred D. Hukell and Pearl Thrasher, both of Albany thought they would be married in the capital of the state and came to Salem just on purpose to celebrate that event. In applying for their marriage license, everything went well until the usual question was asked as to the future bride's residence. When told that her home was at Albany, the proceedings at once stopped. Before they may marry, it will be necessary to apply to the county clerk of Linn county.

After the license is once issued, the parties may have the ceremony performed in any part of the state, was the information given. But application for the marriage certificate must be made in the county in which the future bride lives. And to make the marriage entirely legal the marriage certificate must be signed by the official performing the ceremony and signed by two witnesses and then returned to the county clerk where the license was issued to be formally recorded. There is a fine for ministers as well as other officials who perform a marriage ceremony, yet do not make the official returns to the county clerk.
