H. J. Hickerson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Bay City and Wheeler, is in the city attending to business matters. For the past year he has had charge of his new work on the coast and reports that he coast towns now present a pretty lively appearance. Mr. Hickerson says that his new work is most satisfactory in every respect. He was formerly on the police force and later was associated with the Barnes store. For several years he filled pulpits of the churches of the country near Salem.

Salem and vicinity is now enjoying fairly ideal weather, considering there has been no real rainfall since May 19. That is, enough to amount to anything. Tuesday the maximum temperature, according to the government's official thermometer, was 99, while Wednesday it was 70 and yesterday the maximum was 75. For the past week the minimum temperatures have averaged 53.

Private W. E. Slater, former secretary of the local Elks' lodge, is now at Camp Merritt, the stopping place before soldiers embark for France. He is with company C, 316 Federal signal corps. A. E. F. He writes his friends here: "We are now being issued new clothing and I guess it will not be long before we will hit the pond. Just arrived at Camp Merritt and all the boys are anxious to get a pass to New York, but guess there will be no chance for a few days."

It may be of interest to Canadians living in this vicinity and who are between the ages of 20 and 40 years to know that the ratified conventions with Great Britain and Canada and the United States is not a draft on British subjects or Canadians living in this country. The conventions and Canadians in the United States become subject to military service and entitled to exemption and discharge therefrom under the laws of the United States, unless they voluntarily enlist in the British forces, or return to Great Britain or Canada, for military service.

The quarterly report of the Salem postoffice, closing June 30, 1918, shows that the sales of stamps in Salem for the three months were $24,815.10 and in the districts in the county outside of Salem, $12,948.48. The total business of the postoffice for the three months ending June 30, 1918, including receipts from second class mail, mail, in which stamps are not affixed and box rent, amounted to $30,349.46.

When two Smiths both from the same town and both of the same age and both of the same mind as far as service is concerned, happen to volunteer the same day, there is likely to be some doubt as to which Smiths they are. A few days ago the enlistment record of the local army recruiting station showed that William Wallace Smith, age 18, of Stayton, had volunteered in the medical corps. He is the son of Alva Smith of Stayton. On the same day William Henry Smith, age 18, of Stayton, also volunteered for army service, and also choosing the medical corps. His father is Henry Smith.

TORIC LENSES

DR. A. McCULLOCH Optometrist, 204-5 Salem Bank of Commerce Bldg.

The average person in Salem is now supposed to get along with an average of three pounds of sugar a month, according to the new certificate system for the distribution of sugar. All retailers are allowed sugar on the basis of three pounds per person per month. Restaurants are put on a basis of three pounds for every 90 meals. Manufacturers of syrups, candy, chocolate and such are permitted to use only half the amount they bought one year ago. Manufacturers of bakers' products, pastries and fried cakes are permitted to order 70 per cent of the amount bought last year. All users of sugar, except the ultimate consumer are under direct control of the food administration.

The U. S. Employment Bureau in Salem is calling for more cherry pickers, especially tomorrow to finish the crop while the canneries are accepting them. There is also the call for more loganberry pickers. This call is especially from those where the yards are quite a distance from the city, although even the Roberts yard is short of the necessary workers. Farm hands are also in demand, four being wanted for irrigation work. The Employment Bureau in the city has been established especially to bring together the worker and the job and there is no charge for services.

Several mothers whose boys are in the 4th Engineers may be interested in a letter from Major General Cameron to the commanding officers of the 4th Engineers. He expresses the keen satisfaction that he feels in the splendid morale of the engineers' regiment, stating that he had never seen an organization more thoroughly imbued with the spirit of service and general helpfulness. All of the work of the 4th Engineers was done under the most trying conditions, he writes, and its cheerful perseverance gave evidence of what can be expected from the boys over there. He also states that he is proud to entrust to the 4th Engineers the first place and that the division confidently stakes its reputation on the impression the 4th will create under critical eyes.

Frank Marolda, the triple voiced wonder will appear at the Oregon theatre Saturday and Saturday night. He says he was recently discharged from the regular army having served in the 35th Infantry at Ft. Douglas, Utah, and with the 342d National Army at Camp Grant, Ill., and that he was band master of the 1st Regimental National Guard U. S. A., Hawaiian Infantry, Honolulu. He states that he expects to make Salem his home, having married Miss Violet Sturgill July 1, 1918. He came from Honolulu about two months ago.

It is understood that Dr. Carl Gregg Doney will reach Portland late this evening and arrive in the city tomorrow. Coming direct from France, there is a strong feeling that Dr. Doney should speak to the public of what he has seen at the front and especially tell what he knows about the boys of Company M and what they are doing and what they are thinking about. There has been some talk of asking him to speak in the armory next week, while others prefer Willson park. However, it is conceded that he should have a few days' rest before he delivers his homecoming address.

the Mutual Creamery, taking effect today. For the past 15 years Mr. Underhill has been at his office at 137 south Commercial street, for many years manager of the Townsend Creamery of this city and a stock holder in the company. This company sold out a few months ago to the Mutual Creamery. Mr. Underhill states that he has no intentions of leaving Salem, but has not as yet announced his plans.

Want Volunteers In Spruce Division

Portland, Or., July 12.—The war department today sent out a call for 175 Oregon men to volunteer for service in the spruce division. They are to report for service at Vancouver barracks July 29. If enough volunteers are not obtained by July 23 from class out, special and limited service men, and from classes 2, 3 and 4, general service men, the quota will be filled by draft. The quota will be used as follows: Seventy ehoker men, fifty head buckers, 24 doggers, 25 plain trimmers and six general sawmill foremen.
