PACIFIC COAST BALL LEAGUE WILL QUIT WITH SUNDAY GAMES

Los Angeles and Vernon,
However, Will Play Few
More for Pennant

Los Angeles, Cal., July 12.—There's just one little grain of comfort here in the suspension of the Pacific Coast league after tomorrow's games—Los Angeles fans will get to see at least five more games, as Vernon and the Angels scrap it out for the pennant. This order was decided upon by the directors at a meeting last night.

Patriotism played an important part in the final session of the league managers here last night at which the official swan song was chanted. With players from Salt Lake, Vernon and San Francisco clubs being summoned before draft boards under the work or fight order, it was deemed best to end the season and release the players for war work, than to fight for them by appeals to higher authorities.

"We did the only thing we could consistently do," stated A. T. Baum, president of the league today. "I know the public is interested in the game, but under present conditions I feel the fans will commend our efforts and wait in patience until the end of the war enables resumption of the sport. I am sure it is due to come back stronger than ever."

The meeting deciding upon suspension after tomorrow's games was attended by President Baum, President Powers of the Angels, who also represented Salt Lake; Cal Ewing of Oakland and President Strub and Manager Graham of the Seals. Baum also represented Sacramento.

Their session was short and to the point. The situation was familiar to each director—so only means of meeting it were discussed. Strub favored an attempt to finish the season with four clubs, dropping Salt Lake and Sacramento. It was held by the others that this would be impossible, as a decision to end the season tomorrow night was quickly reached.

After the suspension had been agreed to it was decided that the league leadership—at issue between the two southern clubs—be decided by a series of nine games beginning here Wednesday. The series ends when either team wins five games.

DOING GOOD WORK.

Out in the Mahony school district about six miles from Gervais live three children who want to help win the war. They are Winnifred, Sylvia and Melvin Forcier. Each one is translating his warts into very direct action. Little Sylvia who is just 9 years old is raising a dozen chickens for soldiers' Christmas dinner; Melvin, age 11, is feeding a pig that he expects to produce 250 pounds of pork by fair time; and Winnifred, aged 15, is doing the home canning of fruit and vegetables.

Opal Lorain who lives on route two out of Gervais has become quite a first class assistant in her mother's kitchen as a result of her work in the baking, cooking and canning clubs. Opal finished ten lessons in baking and baked all the bread for the family from May to October. This spring she has completed ten lessons in war cookery and is now canning and drying fruit and vegetables for the family. Besides her work in canning, Opal is picking as many loganberries as anyone in the field.—Gervais Star.

GIRLS RAISE HOGS.

Some girls would think it beneath their dignity to carry feed to a pig but this is far from true of Bessie and Emeline Bloom who live about four miles west of Silverton. These girls are feeding two fine pigs to enter at the state fair this fall and later to furnish hams and bacon for Uncle Sam's soldiers. Bessie is secretary of the Coolidge and McClaine Bank Pig Club and

Thirteen Representatives Will Sail For Europe

Washington, July 12.—Thirteen members of the house naval committee will soon sail for Europe. They will be gone six weeks, returning early in September to take up their official duties.

The committee will visit and inspect American naval forces abroad with the idea of helping the naval department formulate a constructive program for the next naval appropriation bill.

French and British naval methods will be studied in this connection. Those who will take the trip are: Chairman Padgett and Representatives Jordan of New York; Hensley of Missouri; Connelly of Kansas; Oliver of Alabama; Little Page of West Virginia; Wilson of Texas; Butler of Pennsylvania; Browning of New Jersey; Farr of Pennsylvania; Mudd of Maryland; Peters of Maine and Bieks of New York.

believe in producing pork as practical patriotism.

Henry Overas, age 13, who lives three miles east of Silverton and goes to the McLaughlin school, is too young to fight the Kaiser but he surely can fight hog lice and the high cost of feed. He has raised a 225 pound O. I. C. pig at a cost of $15.50 for mill feed and hours of rustling for weeds and green stuff. Henry sees to it that "Tom" has a good scrubbing once a week and a good feeding three times a day. When he pays his note to the Coolidge and McClaine Bank that gave him his start, he is going to increase his business to two pigs.—Silverton Appeal.

HERTLING PEACE BID

duct for an interminable continuation of the war.

"What have we lived to see, however? While for years there has been no doubt whatever of our willingness to hold out our hand toward an honorable peace, we have heard up to these last few days inciting speeches delivered by enemy statesmen.

"President Wilson wants war until we are destroyed, and what Mr. Balfour, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, has said must really live the flush of anger to the cheeks of every German.

Says Germany Insulted
"We feel for the honor of our fatherland, and we cannot allow ourselves to be constantly and openly insulted in this manner, and behind these insults is the desire for our destruction. As long as this desire for our destruction exists, we must endure, together with our faithful nation.

"I am also convinced—I know it—that in the widest circles of our nation the same serious feeling exists everywhere.
"As long as the desire for our destruction exists we must hold out, and we will hold out, with confidence in our troops, in our army administration and our magnificent nation, which bears so wonderfully these difficult times with their great privations and continuous sacrifices.

"You will be interested to know how we are working on this standpoint and certain problems will appear which the present time forces upon us.

"Exhaustive discussion took place regarding these questions July 1 and 2 at general headquarters, under the presidency of the Kaiser.

"Naturally, I can only announce here quite generally the lines which were laid down at the time regarding the east, west and on the basis of the peace of Brest-Litovsk and we wish to see this peace carried out in a local manner. That is the wish of the German imperial administration and it is supported in this by the chief of the army administration.

Russian Conditions Mixed
"However, the difficulty of the execution of the peace of Brest-Litovsk does not lie on our side, but in the fact that conditions in Russia are still exceedingly uncertain. We are inclined to believe in the loyalty of the present Russian government, and especially in the loyalty of the representatives of the Russian government in Berlin.
"But we may not, and cannot, presume unconditionally that the present Russian government has the power to carry through everywhere the loyal promises made to us. We do not at all wish to create difficulties for the present Russian government, but as conditions now are, there are incessant developments and endless frictions in the frontier region.

"However, our principle is that we stand on the basis of peace made at Brest-Litovsk and we will carry out this peace loyally and will deal loyally with the present government.

Allies Accused of Murder
"They are still under the depressing influence of a terrible crime in Moscow. The murder of our ambassador there was an act in violation of international law than which a worse could never cry to heaven.

"All indications point to the fact that the accused deed was instigated by the entente allies in order to involve us in fresh war with the present Russian government—a state of things which we are most anxious to avoid.

"We do not want fresh war with Russia. The present Russian government desires peace and needs peace and we are giving her our support in this peaceful disposition and aim.

"On the other hand, it is true that political currents of very varied tendencies are circulating in the Russian empire—movements having the most diverse aims, including the monarchist movement of the constitutional democrats and the movements of the social revolutionaries. We shall not commit ourselves to any political current, but are giving careful attention to the course Russia is steering."

In connection with this point the imperial chancellor passed to a review of the political situation in the west. He then spoke of the reasons which led to the resignation of Dr. von Kuehlmann and concluded:

New Minister's Promise
"The name of the man who is proposed as Dr. von Kuehlmann's successor is known to you. Admiral von Hintze possesses a thorough knowledge of Russian affairs, which is a matter of great importance in the present situation. But it goes without saying that I shall give my counter signature to the appointment of Admiral von Hintze only on condition that he follows my line of policy and not his own.
"However, as far as I am concerned, I already have a sure guarantee for this in Admiral von Hintze's promise. I shall direct the line of foreign policy and the secretary of state for foreign affairs has merely to carry out my policy. The proposed secretary of state for foreign affairs is absolutely clear on this point.

"The course with which the great majority of the reichstag declared itself to be in agreement in November of last year will still be followed.
Comment on Americans
Washington, July 12.—German newspapers no longer able to ignore the presence of American troops on the west front, are carrying out a systematic camouflage propaganda in an effort to quiet the growing apprehension felt in the central empires, according to neutral cables today.
The recent announcement of President Wilson that more than a million Americans are in France has been scattered broadcast through Germany and Austria by the neutral and enemy press. The cables stated, forced to combat this, the German general staff has admitted it partially and is seeking to discount its significance.
"Even if the reports were verified," writes the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, "there is no occasion for alarm, since it is only a question of 'improvised' soldiers."
Other papers, however, are not hiding their anxiety. The Munchener Neueste Nachrichten confessed "that the action of the United States is far more rapid than anticipated and must impede the success of German arms."
The Berliner Tageblatt in an article signed by Theodor Wolff states that "American help is augmenting the morale of the allies."
