Court House News

In the divorce proceedings of Dora Whitman against A. L. Whitman, the court awarded her a divorce and the custody of the four children. The father was ordered to pay $20 a month for the support of the children and a lien placed on his real estate to compel the payment of the award. Mrs. Whitman was given a one-half interest in a ten-acre tract.

Suit for $2000 and foreclosure of a mortgage was ordered by circuit court yesterday in the case of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, a corporation, against A. A. Englehart and others.

Ella Watt, as executrix of the will of Charles L. Watt, has filed suit against P. H. Reeves and others. She alleges that Reeves made false statements as to the value of a $1500 note and mortgage and that Charles L. Watt had sold the same to him far below its real value, all based on Reeves' statements.

Coelia Fiddler as executrix of the will of Sarah Ann Petty John filed a summary judgment for $250. She alleges that she placed a piece of property for sale with Socolofsky for $1800, and that he sold it for $1600 and then deducted $150 for his commission, leaving her only $1450. Also that Socolofsky, by previous arrangement, sold the property to T. Bahusen for $1700.

P. R. Reynolds has filed notice of an appeal to the supreme court of the case entitled P. R. Reynolds against Edith M. Reynolds. Property rights are involved.

Ephraim Shepherd was appointed by Judge Bushy administrator of the estate of James B. Leigh, who died July 10. The estate is valued at $750.

Isabel M. White and Cora L. Prescott made application to the county court for their appointment as executors of the last will and testament of Mrs. Matilda Prescott, who died June 15, 1918. By the will of Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. White and Miss Prescott were named as executors. The estate is valued at about $20,000.

Save Sugar—Save Flour

Yet Serve Luscious Fruit Desserts

Facts to Know

In these times every housewife should know Jiffy-Jell. It means rich, fruity desserts, instantly made, without the addition of sugar.

It means supreme desserts, without the use of flour or sugar, at half the cost of pastry.

It means a way to serve fresh fruit, mixed in jell, to save many ounces of sugar.

It means zesty salads made with vegetable left-overs, and jellied meat loaves made with scraps. All delightful products.

Sugar is needed now for canning. Your supply is restricted. Wastes must be utilized, flour must be conserved. So we make these offers to let every woman see how Jiffy-Jell can serve her.

We urge you, for your own sake, to learn how folks enjoy it.

Jiffy-Jell

For Quick, Fruity Desserts and Salads

Fruit-Juice Flavors Sealed in Glass

No Sugar Need Be Added

Jiffy-Jell is the only product which serves these uses well. It is the only gelatine dainty with true-fruit flavors, highly concentrated, sealed in glass vials.

These bottled flavors do not lose their freshness. They give to Jiffy-Jell a wealth of fresh-fruit taste. Thus Jiffy-Jell desserts and salads taste like fruit-made dainties.

You make Jiffy-Jell by simply adding boiling water, then the flavor from the vial. One package makes dessert for six. If you whip the jell it serves twelve.

To serve fresh fruit, preserved fruit or pastry for six requires 8 to 12 ounces of sugar. Pastry requires flour in addition. The average cost is at least twice the cost of Jiffy-Jell.

Or you can mix fresh fruit in Jiffy-Jell without adding sugar, and have a double-fruit dessert.

With Lime or Mint Jiffy-Jell you can make delicious salads, zesty and green. Use left-overs in cooked vegetables. Or use fresh vegetables.

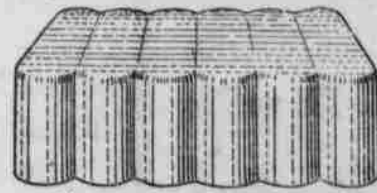

Mix in meat scraps with these flavors and you have a jellied meat loaf. This is a delightful way to save waste.

Millions now use Jiffy-Jell as a conservation dainty. They get fruity desserts and salads of the finest sort, at trifling cost, without using sugar or flour.

We want you to know what it means to you. See how it differs from old-style gelatine products. Buy two packages to try, then send us the coupon, and we will send you molds worth more than you pay for Jiffy-Jell.

Accept this offer, for it means a test at really no cost at all.

July 22nd to 27th Inclusive

Fenwick Newell Sings at Chautauqua

Heads Artists Company on Second Day

The Fenwick Newell Concert Company, who will present two programs at Chautauqua on the second day, is one of the stellar trios of the concert platform. Fenwick A. Newell, heading the company, is a lyric tenor who has been advancing very rapidly in popular favor during the past few years. His rich natural voice, under the care and instruction of the two greatest vocal coaches in the country, Radonovits of Chicago and Oscar Saenger of New York, has developed tones of glorious warmth and color.

Miss Lillian Shank, violinist, is an artist of highly developed technique and deep musical understanding, with a record of unusual success on the platform. Mary Jane Grigsby, accompanist, is a true artist at the piano.

ESTHER JANE CLARK PAGEANT DIRECTOR

New Acquisition to Chautauqua Forces This Year.

The Junior Chautauqua is one of the most important branches of the entire Chautauqua movement. This is recognized more than ever this year by the addition to the Chautauqua force of a traveling pageant director. She will have general supervision over the children's work as well as complete charge

Esther Jane Clark, of the Mother Goose Festival on the closing night of Chautauqua.

Esther Jane Clark has been selected for this important position and is eminently qualified for the work. She has had years of experience as an expert playground worker and pageant director.

In addition to the Mother Goose Festival there will be a story hour with games for the children each day of the week under the direction of the Junior Supervisor.

SOUTHERN PINE HOME WITHSTANDS NEARLY CENTURY'S USE

By P. H. King.

Numerous examples of the last-ling qualities of frame construction are to be found in the early Colonial houses which still occasionally greet the sight of the traveler in New England, the Virginias and elsewhere along the Atlantic seaboard. Many of these houses, which are even now as a rule in an excellent state of preservation, were built years before the Revolutionary War. What is said to be the oldest structure in America today is the Barker house, built of wood, at Pembroke, Mass. This house was commenced in 1629 and is still rendering good service as a residence.

As the Central South began to be developed in the early part of the nineteenth century a type of residence somewhat different from the early Colonial was evolved, more suited to the long summers prevalent in that part of the country. Such houses were built with an abundance of windows, wide porches and hallways. A typical residence of the wealthier class of Southerners of that period is to be found standing today in the town of Quitman, Miss. This house, pictured above, was built by General A. W. Trotter in 1834, and occupied by him until 1876. It is at present the home of Eugene B. Smith.

All lumber used in the construction of the house was hand-sawn and hewn Southern pine. The house was painted three times, first in 1834, then in 1891, and again in 1916. The shingles are made of pine, and are the original ones put on the house. The trees appearing in the picture were all planted since the building of the house. Fifteen miles south of Quitman there is a house several years older than the Trotter residence. It is also built of Southern pine lumber, and in days gone by Mrs. Cornelia Vanderbilt, who was a Mobile girl, was fond of driving from Mobile to this home to attend dances.
