We have with us once again the regulation gypsy fortune tellers or palmists. To ply their vocation in Salem, they put up at the city hall the sum of $25 a week. According to the city ordinance, the business is legal. A fortune teller, clairvoyant, or a medium may open up for business on payment of the $25 weekly. Also an astrologer, mind reader or a hypnotist on payment of a like amount.

We sell for cash. Commencing July 1st we will conduct our business on a strictly cash basis. Patton's Book Store.

The Charles R. Archer Implement Company is in the market for all kinds of hay. 7-19

R. E. Anderson, who came to Salem about a year ago from Iowa, after making a trip or two back to his home state, has decided to make his permanent home in Salem. Last fall he bought a five acre tract at Sunnyside and now is beginning the erection of a $1,000 bungalow on the place. A few days ago he added to his investment here in the purchase of a 17-acre prune and cherry orchard four miles south of Salem on the Jefferson road. Both transfers were handled by W. H. Grabenhorst & Co.

Save 5 per cent with our cash register checks. We conduct our business on a cash basis. Perry's Drug Store. 11

"The funeral beautiful." Webb & Clough Co.

Mrs. I. Bunce claims to have the champion head of cabbage in the city and it is growing at her home 1193 South Liberty street. According to her measurements, said cabbage head is 33 inches in circumference. Then measured from tip to tip of the leaves on one side to those on the other side over the top, the distance is 42 inches.

Revisor Bottom is doing well so far as the Loganberry crop is concerned judging from reports coming in today. Mr. Morgan, who lives about a mile west of the school house reports having harvested 96,000 pounds from three and one-half acres. With present prices, this will net him about $720. Other small tracts report doing equally as well.

Payments on the Third Liberty Loan are being promptly made at the banks today, but few asking for an extension of time. According to the best of information to be had on the subjects, no holder of bonds will lose should they not be able to make this payment promptly. However, the government has set July 15 for the 35 per cent payment. The final payment amounting to 40 per cent of the loan is to be paid one month from today.

The grand stand for the speakers and band will be erected on Water street and the decoration committee, Paul Stege chairman, announce that the bridge will be appropriately decorated.

According to present tentative plans, the first ceremonies of the day will be the auctioning off of the privilege of driving the first automobile across the bridge and the opinion seems to be that the bidding will start with the present offer of Henry W. Meyers of $100. Also that the man who does have the honor of driving across the bridge ahead of the procession will pay considerably more than $100.

The big event down town for the day will be either a military or industrial parade and this of course will depend on conditions not yet decided. W. T. Rigdon is chairman of the parade committee.

With the meeting of the executive committee this evening, plans will go rapidly forward for the great event when Salem expects ten or fifteen thousand visitors. In charge of affairs are 14 committees with the chairmen as follows: Concessions, Dr. H. H. Olinger; buildings and parks, F. B. Southwick; parade, W. T. Rigdon; entertainment, Dr. B. E. Lee Steiner; speakers, A. A. Lee; music, John W. Todd; souvenirs, Henry W. Meyers; auction, Chas. R. Archer; program,

It is now goodbye to frostings on cakes and pies. Such things are now taboo, according to the wishes of the state food administration. Other countries have put the kibosh on the fancy trimmings and now it is the turn of Marion county. It seems that Polk county has been getting along without the fancy frostings but has been somewhat disturbed from the fact that the bakeries of Salem have been shipping into the county some of the forbidden fruit. Hence the bakeries will be asked to fill their Polk county orders for pies and cakes minus the fancy trimmings.

Joe C. Thompson and Mrs. Robert Bybee were married a few days ago according to reports coming from Portland. It is understood they are spending a few days at the beach. Mrs. Thompson's maiden name was Miss Elizabeth Starkey and she was a graduate of Willamette University in 1866. Mr. Thompson is one of Salem's pioneers, having arrived in the city in 1862. He built the Bligh home on High and Chemeketa and also the residence just west on Chemeketa.

Stocks Advance When War News Pleases

New York, July 18.—The Evening Sun financial review this afternoon said: With advances of two, three and four points in the active list of stocks the stock market today responded to the favorable news from the western front. The news appeared before the opening, which was strong in tone and higher in price. Further dispatches showed that the French and American attacks were meeting with success and the market gathered strength the succeeding advances being achieved with only brief and temporary recessions.

All classes of stocks participated in the upward movement, although the rails were less active than the industrials. United States Steel furnished more than a third of the day's bulge. The market, with old time enthusiasm, made further strides upward in the late trading, many issues, including United States Steel, making new highs for the day. At 106 United States Steel was 3 3/4 above Wednesday's close.

Fires of Past Year In Marion County

There were 119 fires, against which there was at least partial insurance protection, in Marion county during the year 1917, according to figures given in the annual report of State Fire Marshal Wells. In Polk county there were 39 fires. Insurance carried on the property affected by these 119 fires in this county totaled $263,960, while losses paid amounted to $67,869.67. In Polk county $34,870 insurance was carried on the property involved in the 39 fires last year, while the amount paid for losses was $24,313.32. Of the 119 fires in Marion county, 55 were dwellings, and 17 were mercantile buildings. The principal cause of the fires was overheated or defective chimneys.

WILL FIX DATE FOR NEW BRIDGE OPENING AT MEETING TONIGHT

Believe That Paving And All Other Work Will Be Finished by August 1

At a meeting to be held this evening at the Commercial club between the state highway commission, County Engineer Culver and the executive committee in charge of the bridge dedication, the date for the opening of the bridge will be definitely decided.

The contract of the bridge building company requires the completion of the bridge by August 1. The work has been running ahead of schedule and the bridge can be turned over to the county a week or ten days before August 1. But there is the paving of the bridge and the building of the cement sidewalks before the official opening day.

At the meeting this evening the executive committee will endeavor to get from Mr. Culver the exact time necessary to do this paving and after this has been decided, a definite date for the official opening can be announced. It is thought that under ordinary conditions, the opening will be about July 31 or August 1.

The souvenir committee, H. W. Meyers chairman, announce that already the souvenir flags have arrived. They are small silk flags with the Red Cross and wording, "Souvenir of dedication under auspices of Red Cross."

The grand stand for the speakers and band will be erected on Water street and the decoration committee, Paul Stege chairman, announce that the bridge will be appropriately decorated.

Thousands of German Prisoners Are Taken

London, July 18.—The American and French attacking between Soissons and Chateau-Thierry have so far advanced from three to four miles, it was learned authoritatively this afternoon. The greatest advance was made in the Aisne valley. Thousands of German prisoners have been taken and more than twenty cannon have been captured.

1500 cards notifying auto owners of the amount they have been listed. In general this is placed at about two thirds of the value of the car, taking into consideration depreciation from age and general use. As yet, the assessments for this year have not been made out and will not until the levy has been made. However, based on that of last year, a car valued at $1000 would cost the owner $29.90 and others in proportion. Mr. West says there are more large cars in proportion to the number reported than one year ago and a large increase in valuation over one year ago.
