

SOCIETY

By MABEL GARRETT

As midsummer is here, more and more people answer the call of nature, some going on camping trips, others motoring to interesting places and still others rushing off to the seashore for the summer or even for a few days to forget the worries of business. For if one could shut his eyes and forget the distance he would think himself in another world when at the coast where people merely enjoy themselves with never a thought of the "work-a-day" world. It is a refreshing relaxation to live a free life, where the daily schedule is not constantly holding up its hands if every detail is not piously followed. Everyone enjoys luxury in every regard, even the luxury of spending some of one's time in doing just the little pastime one particularly enjoys. And so society life is characterized by families and friends, going back and forth on their vacations with few social functions except the informal gatherings. Sometimes these are to celebrate a birthday, a wedding anniversary, or perhaps a little party in honor of a friend who is leaving. In war times it seems that wedding claim the height of attention, for one is continually surprised to discover that another friend has followed Cupid's allurement. But the significant note of all these weddings is their simplicity which is in harmony with war times. Next week however, there will be even less of entertaining because of the Chautauqua programs and lectures. The children will enjoy the playground work and stories in the morning, while the older people will appreciate the afternoon and evening entertainments.

Mr. Moody and sister, Miss Ella Moody, Mrs. F. W. Sale, Mrs. Helyer of Perry, Iowa, who is visiting Mrs. Sale, have returned from Newport after spending a week at the coast.

Another out of town wedding which is of interest to her many Salem friends is that of Miss Lella Lent when she became the bride of Carl Wimberly of Roseburg. The wedding was solemnized by Dr. Oswald W. Taylor, rector of Grace Memorial Episcopal church at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lent of Leota, Oregon.

Mrs. Wimberly graduated from Willamette university several years ago. While in college she was very popular and took an active part in all school activities. She was May Queen in her senior year.

Mr. Wimberly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wimberly of Drain. Until recently, when he became a soldier at Bensen Polytechnic, he has been city attorney at Roseburg. For the past two years, Mrs. Wimberly has been at the head of the English department in Roseburg high school. She will continue her work during the war.

The event of paramount interest which broke the monotonous lull that has characterized society life for the past few weeks was the dance at the Hilborn Country club Thursday night. It was a gay renewal of festivities for Salem society people, who have restrained their merry-making impulses for some time. The party was delightfully informal and many people planned little dinner and picnic parties before which were in harmony with the carefree spirit manifested throughout the rest of the evening. Among those who enjoyed a picnic supper at the club house was the group, which included Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burghard, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Young and their daughter, Is-ella. Mr. and Mrs. Young and their daughter are from Albany and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop. Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Thielen at their home on Lincoln and Rock, entertained several friends at dinner before the party. They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Van Doren, Melvin Plimpton, Miss Marjorie Marvin and Harry McCaunt.

Other out of town guests were Mrs. H. G. Lange from Los Angeles, who is spending several weeks visiting a former University of Oregon friend, Mrs. W. C. Dyer, 330 North Summer street, Miss Gertrude Koltes from Riverside, California, who is spending the summer in Salem, also attended the party as the guest of Mrs. Dyer. Mr. Dyer had as a guest, Mr. Bickets, a former Phi Delta Theta fraternity brother at Oregon Agricultural college. Lieutenant McGill from Astoria was the guest of C. T. and Dr. M. E. Pomeroy.

Mrs. Frank Speers entertained at a dinner party Wednesday evening, when she invited some of her friends in to meet her cousin, Mrs. Frank Tracey. Mrs. Tracey has spent the winter on the coast so that she might be near her husband, Lieutenant Tracey, who has been stationed at Camp Lewis. He has recently gone to France with the 1st division, so Mrs. Tracey will remain in Salem about a month before going to her home in Washington, D. C.

The dinner party which was held on Saturday in keeping with the theme, Dainty garden flowers were used on the table, with yellow as the predominant color scheme. Those who were present were the Misses Elizabeth Lord, Ellen Thielen, Marjorie Marvin, Mrs. Prince Byrd, Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., Mrs. Donnell, the honor guest Mrs. Frank Tracey, and the hostess, Mrs. Frank Speers.

Miss Jewel Williams has been visiting in Salem for several days as the guest of Miss Cora Talkington, 394 Church street, and of Miss Lydia Thompson at the Salem hospital. Miss Williams is a Red Cross nurse and expects to be called to France in the near future. She graduated from Salem hospital several years ago and has many friends here. She left for her home in Junction City where she will be until she is called by the Red Cross organization.

Saturday afternoon, July thirteenth, another wedding, which came as a surprise to the many friends and relatives was solemnized, when Sergeant T. Lehand Brown claimed Miss Vivian Phillips as his bride. The marriage took place in Astoria with the Episcopal rector officiating. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Brown came to Salem, where they spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. Brown's parents, Attorney General and Mrs. George M. Brown, 375 North 14th street.

Mrs. Brown is the daughter of Mrs. Julia Phillips of Walla Walla. Mrs. Phillips has an art studio in Walla Walla and Mrs. Brown has been assisting her mother as a teacher of art there. She is also a fine pianist, having studied in the Whitman Conservatory and is well known among the art and musical circles of Walla Walla. She usually spends her summers at Seaside, where it was that Mr. Brown met her a year ago.

Sergeant Brown, who is the only son of Attorney General and Mrs. George M. Brown is a graduate of Roseburg high school. He was very popular in school and has many friends there. After finishing high school, he went to Behlke-Walker Business college and

This afternoon at her home on 796 South High street, Mrs. Elizabeth Lord was the hostess at a delightful informal party in honor of Miss Ellen Thielen. The affair was in the form of a tea, with Mrs. Frank Tracey pouring. Mrs. Tracey is spending the summer with her cousin, Mrs. Frank Speers. The guests at the party were members of the knitting club to which Miss Lord belongs.

Last Sunday a happy family dinner was given by Mrs. Charles P. Elgin, 674 South Capitol street. The dinner, which was served on the lawn at one o'clock, gave the family an opportunity for an enjoyable reunion. Those present were Mrs. Elgin's mother, Mrs. Sophra Proeksen and Miss Jennie Proeksen of Albany, Mrs. Stella Seely and her daughter, Alice, of Portland, Mrs. P. E. Jackson and son, Richard, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Mishler of Salem Heights, Mrs. Rachel Mishler of Albany, Otto Marshatter of Portland and Florence and Wayne Elgin.

Mrs. Sol Levy and her daughter, Elizabeth, have returned home to Seaside after spending a short vacation at Seaside.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Vandervort, 435 North Winter street, was the scene of a merry party recently when their daughter, Jeanie Vandervort, entertained a crowd of her friends in honor of her fifteenth birthday. The affair was given on the lawn, which was attractive with ocean spray and a background of bunting and flags. Japanese lanterns added a soft light to the party. After various games were enjoyed, the Misses Catherine Vincent and Jaunet Jones assisted in the serving.

The guests were the Misses Gertrude West, Margaret Alden, Jaunet Jones, Lola Millard, Florence Young, Catherine Vincent, Frances Blodgett, Miriam Lovell, Olivevue Enidcott, Letha Wilson and Messrs. Homer Richardson, Roland Randall, Max Moon, Hugh Donny, Ralph Hamilton, Frank Deekebach, Frank Chapman, Evan Jones, Robert Litter, Wallace Griffith, Carson Hunt, Richard Kroisel, John Brown and Lestel Sparks, of Sandon, Oregon.

Maxine Glover, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Glover, 1884 Court street, returned this week from Portland where she has been visiting for several weeks. While there several parties were given in her honor.

After spending a pleasant vacation of five weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Ross and two children, Doris and Hazel, have returned to their home, 2525 Hazel street. Among the friends they visited were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Graham, friends of theirs in northern Idaho. Later they enjoyed a delightful fishing trip to a summer resort where fishing proved a pleasing diversion. Before they returned home they visited at Boise and many other places over Idaho.

The Mothers' class entertained at a lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hunt, 6453 Court street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Acheson who expect to leave Salem in the near future. The families were also special guests. The lawn was gaily decorated with bunting, while bowls of sweet peas and Shasta daisies lent a pretty effect. The company enjoyed games and music and later the dinner was served in picnic style. About fifty people were present, which included the members of the Mothers' class, their families and Miss Jennie Hoyt and Mrs. Fannie Long of Portland, who are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Acheson of Alliance, Nebraska, who are visiting relatives in Salem.

Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson and her small grandson, Robert Chauncey Bishop, are still at Palo Alto, California. They expect to remain as long as Lieutenant Carl Gabrielson is there. At present he is stationed at Camp Fremont and does not know when orders will be given to move.

Mrs. F. P. Talkington and daughter, Cora, are entertaining as guests for the week end, Mrs. William Bohlander and daughter, Nabine. They motored down from their home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Eyre and family returned Tuesday from a few days vacation at Newport. While there they were guests at the New Cliff House at Nye Beach.

Mrs. F. J. Rupert's mother, Mrs. Robert Maender, left this week for a visit in the north. She will stop for a short visit at Vancouver, B. C., and will go later to Calgary, Canada, where she plans to spend the summer with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Young are entertaining at their home on 461 North High street, Miss Jennie Hoyt and Mrs. Fannie Long from Portland. They will visit in Salem for several weeks. Mrs. Long is a sister of Mrs. Young.

This is designated as "children's year," because the United States government has asked the various organizations of women to help in decreasing the amount of sickness and number of deaths of little children that the health of future citizens may be protected. In California the council of defense women's committee has started the work by registering and weighing all children from six months to six years old. Mrs. Fred G. Schilke of La Grande has charge of this work in Oregon. She is president of the joint organizations of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and the State Parent-Teachers association. It will be remembered Mrs. Schilke spoke in Salem this winter before the meeting of the county superintendents of Oregon.

A delightful piano recital was rendered Wednesday evening by Miss Gladys Anderson, one of Professor Harr's talented young pupils, in the Court apartments of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Kophart. The program was greatly enjoyed by her hosts and their guests. Miss Anderson was accompanied by her sister, Esther, in some of the selections. The young pianist is a maid of fifteen, and her skill may be noted by
