CANNED MILK GOES UP

Portland, Or., July 22.—Canned milk experienced one of the sharpest advances ever known here when it jumped fifty cents a case today.
Government buying caused the rise, which came too late to save several canners who recently went out of business.

GUARD GERMAN EMBASSY

The Hague, July 22.—Germany has arranged with the bolshevik government for a guard at the German embassy in Petrograd, copies of the Cologne Gazette, received here today stated. The guards will consist of German soldiers dressed in civilian attire.

ARMENIAN INDEPENDENCE.

Rome, July 22.—A committee composed of prominent Italians has been formed to secure Armenian independence. Its personnel includes former Ministers Luzzatti, Bologni, Ruffini and Scelosis, Admiral Tringoni, the mayor of Rome and the editor of the Corriere della Sera. The Vatican also is interested.

Slicing corn from cob for drying is one of the many suggestions in the canning and drying book which the National War Garden Commission of Washington will send any reader of this paper free for a two-cent stamp to day postage.

Postmaster August Hucklestein is making his annual inspection trips of the nine rural routes leading out of Salem. He rode with the mail carrier over route 1 last Saturday and today is inspecting along rural route 2.

Notice to the Public—As I am to report for service in the hospital division of the navy on Thursday, July 25, I take this means of notifying the public that on and after July 25 my official business will be taken care of by Dr. L. H. Wilson, whom I can recommend as an optometrist of proven ability. My friends and patrons may refer their eye troubles to Dr. Wilson with my assurance that his work will be what it should be.—Dr. C. B. O'Neill. 7-23

Miss Lucile Chase of Salem has been elected as a member of the faculty of the Oregon normal school at Monmouth, succeeding Miss Myra Butler, who will take up canteen work in France. Her work will be in domestic science and domestic art.

The street car employees Saturday evening received the back pay for last January, averaging from four to seven and one half cents an hour. They will receive back pay beginning with February as soon as the pay rolls can be made out. The advance pay given employees of the Southern Pacific was made retroactive back to January and it is this that is giving the boys the extra spending money.

Charles E. Archer Implement Co. is in the market for straw. 7-23

The program for the 88 men who are to entrain Thursday for Camp Lewis is much the same as in the past. The men will meet at the court house at 9 o'clock Thursday morning for final instructions and papers. They will leave on the 1:35 p. m. Southern Pacific for Camp Lewis. It is probable that a band will escort the boys to the depot and there will be the usual number of speeches.

W. C. Hoppes, who has served as rural school supervisor in Marion county for the past year, left yesterday for Camp Lewis. He went with the Dallas boys as he had registered in Polk county. Mr. Hoppes introduced the zone system in rural supervision work in Marion county. This summer he has been working as county industrial club leader for Marion county.

Nick Demas, a brother of Gus Demas, well known in Salem, was seriously injured Saturday while working at a Black Rock logging camp. In driving an iron wedge into a log part of the wedge flew off striking him in the stomach. He was taken to the hospital at Dallas for an x-ray examination. Gus Demas is now at Camp Lewis having been inducted into the service the latter part of June.

Things are somewhat quiet at the police station in Salem. About the only excitement Sunday was the arresting of Arthur Williams last evening at 9 o'clock. The speed cop found him traveling at a speed not provided for in the city ordinances and he put up the customary $5 as a forfeit and let it go at that.

Three navy recruits will leave Wednesday for Bremerton for their preliminary training. Bert K. Thompson enlisted as seaman of the second class. He gave as next of kin his mother, Mrs. Henrietta Thompson of Salem, rural route 4. Raymond A. Boyer, 21, goes in as seaman of the second class. His next of kin is given as his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Boyer of Rickreall. Francis W. Young, 20, will start his career in the navy as seaman of the second class. He gave as his next of kin his mother, Mrs. Hermine Young, 925 North Twenty first street, Salem.

The eastern prune buyers who thought to break the market seem to have decided they must have been misinformed as to prune conditions in the extreme west. At any rate, they are now getting right in on the maximum price and already many of the big buyers have contracted for their needs at the government's top figure. The government did not set a price, but merely named a maximum figure and it is at this figure that the prune packers are selling. The growers will average about one and one half cents a pound more than one year ago. The top figure is of course for the 30-35 run which is figured at 11 7-8 cents a pound and the price gradually slides down until for the 65-70 run the growers get 8 3-4 cents.

State House News

The Ochoco forest road project in Crook county was approved today by the state highway commission for immediate construction. The road which will be 2.7 miles long, will cost approximately $52,500. This cost will be borne by the government, the state and Crook county in equal proportion. As the government had approved the project before the state highway commission had signed the agreement, it was announced that the road will be constructed at once.

Bonds of J. E. Paddock and William E. Holbrook, who were convicted of killing Orin McKendree in Klamath county, were approved today by Chief Justice McBride, who ordered the men released from custody until their appeal to the supreme court is heard and decided. The bonds were for $5000 each.

Another convict escaped from the penitentiary last night. He is Albert M. Jennings, who was in a flax gang employed near Turner. He was 25 years old, and was committed from Coos county in January, 1916, for robbery.

The claim presented to the secretary of state by the penitentiary for $50 for prizes awarded to convicts who took part in athletic events at the prison on July 4 is to be paid.

Attorney General Brown in an opinion given to Secretary of State Olcott holds that the claim comes within the scope of the appropriation made for the upkeep of the prison library and for musical and literary purposes and amusements.

Before the attorney general wrote his opinion, he says he asked Warden Murphy for additional information, and the warden advised him that "the money was expended as compensation to the several prisoners named thereon for their personal services, their energy, efficiency and superiority in providing amusement for the whole prison population on the Fourth of July."

American Troops Have Turned Tide

London, July 22.—America's troops have turned the tide of war for the allies, the Daily Express believes.
"Indications are the tide has been turned by America's sending in three months more than the Germans could produce," the paper says.
"In the pocket, between Rheims and Soissons the Germans sought to make General Foch show his hand. It was a gambler's throw, which sacrificed the initiative. They now stand face to face with disaster."

The U. S. Employment bureau on State street continues to do its share in distributing labor. Today five men were sent to jobs on farms.

The funeral of Darius O. Bright, who was killed yesterday in a motorcycle accident, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapel of Webb & Clough.

Oech Nist, a student of Willamette university, left Sunday for a 60-day training at the presidio. With several other young men he will be given an intensive training for the two months that he may assist the military instructor to be sent here next fall.

The youth who weighs about 110 pounds and was fearful lest he could not enlist in the army or that he would be rejected by the local exemption board may now rest easy. The war department last Saturday and now any man who can tip the beam at 110 pounds or more and who measures five feet in height is assured of the same chance as the big fellow.

The opening night of the Chautauqua was attended by a good crowd who appreciated the efforts of the old soldier fiddlers. The speaker of the evening was enthusiastically cheered, making a decidedly favorable impression. The man who spent his life in the Kentucky mountains will talk this evening. He will speak on "The Kentucky Mountains, Past, Present and Future." On account of the government's war tax the single admissions are 55 cents in the regular 50 cent entertainment and 39 cents for the usual 35 cent shows.

Several prominent clergymen of the east will arrive in Salem this evening and remain here several days. The object of their visit is to confer with the ministers of the Oregon conference relative to the centenary movement of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the world wherein it is proposed by the church to raise $50,000,000 for educational and missionary purposes. Chautauqua Brings "An Evening in Hawaii"

Singers and Players from the Islands with Mildred Leo Clemens, Travel Lecturer

The last night of Chautauqua will be truly "An Evening in Hawaii," with a travel lecture by Mildred Leo Clemens, accompanied by moving pictures of this land of enchantment and a concert by the Royal Hawaiian Quintet. No better group of Hawaiian singers and players has been presented in this country than this Quintet, including as one of its members Kekuku, originator of the steel method of guitar playing. They will bring to you the same plaintive, haunting melodies that are sung, string-picked, crooned and chanted in the native huts of Hawaii.
