Oregon National Guard Company For Salem

A company of Oregon National Guards will be organized in Salem at once, and recruits who are desirous of becoming part of the federal organization may sign up any time at the armory.

The work of organizing a company of O. N. G. will be cared for largely by the officers of the Oregon Guard. Within a few days, or as soon as the required number for the company have signed, a captain will be elected and before he is officially accepted, he will be obliged to pass an examination before the federal authorities.

Members of the Oregon Guard, as now constituted in Salem, cannot be called outside the state. The Oregon Guard is a state organization and is called for and uniformed by the state. The Oregon National Guard, of which a company will soon be organized in Salem, is organized under a federal act and becomes part of the federal army, in every respect similar to the old company M. It will be equipped by the government, paid according to the provisions of the federal act and may be called into service anywhere.

The Oregon Military Police uniformed in blue, is for police duty in the state only and its duties are along the line of a general state constabulary.

SCHWAB SAYS STEEL MUST BE CONSERVED

Foreign Shipments Must Cease Until Shipyards Have Ample Supplies

Philadelphia, July 25.—Charles M. Schwab, director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, returned today after an inspection of Pacific coast shipyards and declared there should not be "one ounce of American steel sent to foreign countries until the shipyards of America each have accumulated a reserve of at least 60,000 tons." Exportation of steel, he said, is hampering the shipbuilding program.

While Schwab declined to comment extensively on foreign steel shipments, it is understood he has in mind agreements made with Japan and China whereby shipbuilders in those countries are allowed by the United States government steel for their own ships for every one constructed by them for this country.

Schwab declared the railroad administration is hampering speed up work in the shipyards through its use of steel in the building of cars.

"If necessary," Schwab said, "we will build our own plate mills. Ten million tons of ships must leave the ways of this country each year. We need the enthusiastic help of every individual in the country to make this possible."

State House News

The Silverton Hospital association filed articles of incorporation today. The association has a capital stock of $5000. The incorporators are W. C. Keene, P. A. Loar, F. E. Callister, G. W. Hubbs, M. Digneress, Julius Alm, P. L. Brown, George Henriksen, John T. Hoblett, E. R. Ekman and G. B. Rentson.

Articles were filed by other corporations as follows:

Dean Hill company, Portland; real estate business; capital stock $10,000; incorporators, Metta B. Evans, Margaret B. Graves and Anna L. Yates.

Dan E. Erickson Corporation, Portland; engineering; capital stock $3,000; incorporators, Dan E. Erickson, H. G. Erickson and W. B. House.

Federal Building company, Marshfield; constructing and handling buildings; capital stock $8000; incorporators, Arthur McKewen, N. Oswald, and John D. Goss.

Francis Motor Car company, Portland; capital stock $25,000; incorporators C. E. Francis, Esther Francis and James A. Bamford.

Home Mercantile company, St. Johns Portland; capital stock $8000; incorporators W. R. Hollenbeck, E. W. Godfrey and J. E. Hall.

Siletz Fir and Spruce company, Siletz; capital stock $5000; incorporators M. H. Franklin, C. E. Franklin and M. S. Collins.

Western Auto company, Portland; capital stock $10,000; incorporators, J. M. McNaughton, Thad Robinson and Roy Hemphill.

The Portland Seed company increased its capital stock from $250,000 to $300,000.

The Elwood Logging company and others have filed with the public service commission a complaint against the Columbia & Nehalem River Railroad company, alleging that the railroad company refuses to furnish needed equipment for hauling logs offered for shipment and that its charges are unreasonable.

L. W. Metzger, designing engineer for the state highway bridge department, returned today from an inspection trip to Dillard, in Douglas county, where a new bridge is being constructed over the Umpqua. The bridge has three 144-foot spans of wood construction. It will be completed about September 1, at a cost of approximately $25,000.

"It looks like 2,500,000 bushels of grain will be handled in Astoria this season," says R. R. Bartlett, manager of the Port of Astoria, in a letter received today by the public service commission.

Mr. Bartlett asks for the appointment of a chief deputy grain inspector, with the necessary weighers and samplers, for Astoria, and offers to provide rooms and laboratory equipment for them.

He says the bulk grain handling plant, built by the port, will be ready for use within 30 days. It has a maximum storage of bulk grain for 1,000,000 bushels, while in addition there is 500,000 bushels of storage space, which has been already contracted.

The Oregon Insurance Rating bureau has issued a new schedule showing a 20 per cent decrease in fire insurance rates on warehouses used exclusively for the storage of grain. The decrease has been approved by the insurance department. It is due to the better police protection now being given such warehouses, and the fact that owners are using greater precaution in guarding against fires.

BUSINESS HOUSES WILL CLOSE TUESDAY FOR BRIDGE OPENING

Opportunity Will Be Given Everybody To Take Part In Celebration

The business houses of Salem will close for the dedication of the Marion-Polk county bridge next Tuesday. A canvass was made of the city this morning and 40 of the leading business houses signed the agreement to close all day Tuesday. This includes the four banks in the city.

It is probable that the grocery stores and meat markets will remain open until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The druggists of the city did not sign the agreement to close, although all were willing to properly observe the day excepting one.

With the town practically closed from a business standpoint, opportunity to take part and enjoy the day will be offered to thousands.

To correct a misunderstanding as to a charge to be made for crossing the new bridge, it may be said that the official parade to be held in the morning, every one must have a souvenir flag. At other times it is understood there will be no conditions put on for those going over the bridge. For the early morning travelers before the official procession, the old bridge will be open. In other words, there are no conditions or expense in going on the bridge, except during the official opening procession, to be led by the man who will bid the highest for the privilege of being the first man officially over.

Souvenir flags, the small silk flag to retail at 25 cents, are now being distributed by A. E. Wallace, chairman of the flag committee. Last evening Mr. Wallace left flags with the Silverton auxiliary and this evening the Independence, Monmouth and Dallas auxiliaries will be given flags to sell. This 25 cent flag entitles one to take part in the official crossing of the bridge about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The executive committee will meet this evening, to complete arrangements in every detail for the biggest celebration ever observed in Salem.

The speakers of the day will include Justice George H. Burnett who will deliver the dedicatory address in the morning. Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, president of Willamette university for the patriotic address and Mrs. Dr. Lovejoy of Portland for the Red Cross address. Mrs. Lovejoy has seen active service as a Red Cross nurse in France and is regarded as one of the most interesting speakers on the coast.

In the circuit court, a divorce was granted in the case of Pearl Parker vs. W. H. Parker. The decree gave the mother the custody of the younger boy, Delbert Baker, age five, and to the father the care and custody of the older boy, Edward Parker, age 12 years. The father is to pay the mother $25 a month for her maintenance and $10 a month for the support of the younger son.

A conclusion of the law in the matter of the estate of Francis Xavier Matthieu, is that S. A. Matthieu is entitled to a decree, to the extent that certain objections in the county court are not entitled to the relief demanded and that their objections should be dismissed and that the decree of the court, from which an appeal had been taken, should be reversed. Also that the case be remanded to the county court and that the executor should be discharged from further trust.

In the county court, a stipulation was filed in the estate of Robert Enkin deceased, between the widow, Mrs. Mary Enkin and the three children by which a certain promissory note of M. C. Jory, secured by real estate mortgage, valued at $1086.53 is to be received by Mrs. Enkin as cash as part of her share of the estate. Also an agreement that the third Liberty loan bonds purchased by the estate be accepted and considered by any of the heirs as cash.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Charles E. Kramer, 54, a baker of Stayton and Mrs. Katherine Lonsway, 53 of Stayton. This is the second marriage for each.

Organize Guard At Armory Friday Night

A company of the Oregon Guard is now being organized in Salem, one that will fill the needs of the man who would like some sort of military instruction, yet not able to do the advanced work of the three Salem companies of the Oregon Guard.

The new company is to be organized by A. B. Poole and others and members are called to meet Friday evening at the armory for the official organization. To officially organize a company of Oregon Guards, there must be 65 recruits and it is understood fully two-thirds of this number have already signed.

As soon as the new company is organized, which it is expected will be tomorrow evening, uniforms will be issued in order that it may appear in the parade of the bridge ceremonies next Tuesday.

Several of the men who have signed up for this new Oregon Guard company are experienced military men and the recruit who knows nothing at all about drilling or military matters, will recruit who knows nothing at all men who have seen service.

All who may be interested in joining the new company are requested to be at the armory Friday evening.
