

SOCIETY

By MABEL GARRETT

THE Women's work along patriotic lines has advanced merrily all week. In fact this week has reached the zenith of the various activities, women are carrying on to alleviate world suffering. Red Cross work has been continually in the foreground. On Tuesday, when so many people, including out-of-town guests, thronged the Red Cross auxiliaries, by many clever schemes and hard, faithful work succeeded in raising a large amount of money which is needed to maintain this vast work.

That women are working sincerely for the sake of the cause and not in obedience to any mere whim is evidenced by the heart and energy so many of them all over Salem are showing in their work.

One of the most recent activities is that of starting an organization in Salem of the National League for Woman's service. As yet the Salem branch of the organization has not been perfected and the officers are not chosen. But as some women felt that the summer ought not to slip by without efforts to preserve fruit for use in the army hospitals, they have been taking charge of this work even though the technical organization is not finished.

The National League for Woman's service is an independent body which aids the noblest causes in whatever way it can. As it is not so highly involved as some organizations it renders its aid in a quick and effective manner.

As long as there is fruit donated for canning the women will meet in the domestic science room of the high school on Thursday mornings.

A message from one of the Oregon girls who is doing Red Cross nursing shows how much this kind of work is appreciated. She says:

"I often think of all the work we did in the Red Cross in all ways. Urge everyone to keep on. I know the enormous amount of things we use in our hospital alone and realize that we are one of many. I say work-work-work. One of our treats for the bed patients is home-made preserves. I often wish I could tell some of the different units at home, who sent them, how the boys enjoyed them."

Miss Marjorie Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kay, 266 North Capitol, left the first of the first part of the week for Long Beach, Washington, where she is the guest of Miss Benita Smith, a Gamma Phi Beta sister at the University of Oregon. Miss Smith's home is in Pendleton, but her family is spending their vacation season at their summer home in Washington. Miss Kay will stay for about two weeks before returning home. About the middle of August the Kay family are planning to go to Rainier Park.

Mrs. C. B. O'Neill has just returned from Portland where she has been visiting for a few days. Dr. O'Neill is in the medical service at Bremerton, where Mrs. O'Neill will join him later if he is not stationed elsewhere. At present she will stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Faulkner, 1166 Ferry street.

The Belgian Relief commission of Salem which has been arousing the interest and sympathy of townspeople in the need of alleviating the suffering of Belgian babies, will again offer an opportunity for every one to assist in the great cause. They are planning a benefit which will be given in Willson park about the middle of August. The affair will be quite unique and it is hoped that people will respond heartily to this noble and worthy work.

Mrs. R. A. Mahoney, accompanied by Mrs. Karl Neugebauer have left for a visit in Tacoma.

WILLIAM E. LERCHEN

Who will claim Miss Elizabeth Lacey of San Francisco as his bride on August fifteenth.

William E. Lerchen has left for California where he will be married to Miss Elizabeth Lacey of San Francisco on August 15. After a short wedding trip through southern California Mr. and Mrs. Lerchen will return to Salem where they will be at home in the Court apartments. Mr. Lerchen who is well known in Salem has been active in the life of the city and served as King King of the Cherubians last year.

In honor of their house guest, Miss Arlene Jones of Amity, the Misses Ada and Laura Ross entertained at a pretty Kennington Thursday afternoon at their home, 518 Chomoketa street. The time was merrily spent with knitting. During the afternoon Miss Ada Miller sang and Miss Dorothy Pearce played in a pleasing manner.

The invited guests to the party were the Misses Irma Botsford, Harriet Rigdon, Beryl Holt, Ruth Hodge, Gertrude Eakin, Helen Rose, Margaret Goodin, Rosamond Gilbert, Loretta Ford, Ada Miller, Ola Clark, Helen and Dorothy Pearce and their cousin, Leonede Plenary from San Francisco, and Mrs. Edward Chambers, and the honor guest Miss Jones.

Miss Jones, who has been spending a part of the week here leaves today for her home in Amity.

Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Griffith, Center street, have been entertaining for several days Dr. and Mrs. Carl Griffith of Burns. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith are enjoying an automobile tour and are expected to leave today. On their way home they will go by Crater Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Downing, 245 North Church street, accompanied by their daughter, Hazel, motored to Portland Thursday. Miss Downing took the boat there for San Francisco. She will be gone for some time visiting friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Downing left yesterday for Cascadia for the week end. They will probably motor back Monday.

Mrs. W. C. Knighton who has been spending the summer in Salem will probably leave sometime the latter part of this month for her home in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. George Waters, she went to Portland to visit friends for a short time.

Miss Jessie Miller is spending the week-end with her parents at Harrisburg.

One of the large affairs of the week was the reception given Monday evening at the parlors of the First Methodist church, in honor of Miss Ruth Field, who will leave some time this month to teach in the Calcutta girls' high school, Calcutta, India.

Mrs. A. A. Lee and Miss Lina Heist introduced the guests to the receiving line which was composed of people representing the different organizations of the church. Those who stood in the line were Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Avison, Mrs. Umeyer, Mrs. A. E. Hunt, Mrs. La Moine Clark, Mrs. John Todd, Miss Ruth Field, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Talbot, Mrs. M. C. Wire and Miss Mary Paronagian.

Mrs. J. O. Goltra, Miss Lina Heist and Mrs. Long met people at the door and assisted around the rooms.

After a varied and delightful program was enjoyed, four little girls presented Miss Field with the gifts given by the organizations.

The rooms were decorated with artistic bowls of goldenrod and during the evening punch was served by the Misses Beryl and Grace Holt, Genevieve Avison, Eva Scott, Ola Clark and Muriel Steeves.

Miss Field, who is going as a missionary-teacher to the high school in Calcutta, plans to have charge of the music there. The courses of study there are similar to our American courses, and the grade of work done is considered to be of a high standard. Miss Field will also be pipe organist of the English church in Calcutta.

Miss Teresa Fowle has left for Washington state where she will visit relatives and friends for several weeks. Her brother, Harold Fowle, who is head mechanic at the Aberdeen ship yards planned to meet her in Seattle. Because of this capacity he always takes the ships around the Sound to Seattle before turning them over to the use of the government. They visited Camp Lewis together and later went on to Aberdeen, where Miss Fowle will visit for a time.

W. J. Busiek left today for Eugene where he will take preliminary training for an officers training camp.

Some people in their enthusiastic response to war time necessities have eliminated much of the music they formerly enjoyed, because in their zeal to economize they have that that music was superfluous and could be dispensed with. However, many musical authorities and those who have studied the psychological effect of music affirm this is not true. They contend that music is a necessity, and especially in times of mental strain, music tends to rest and soothe by the peculiar effects of its harmony.

A distinguished music composer, of New York City, Miss Marion Bauer, spoke in Portland recently on the subject of "The Modern Trend of Art in music and its relation to the war." Among other things she said:

"It is significant of the war that many letters are being received from our soldiers now in Europe, asking that more men of musical attainment enlist in Y. M. C. A. service, because of the healing influence of music on the troops. This season there have been numerous concerts in New York City, because people have found these concerts necessary to turn their thoughts for a while away from the war. Some American singers have each sold $1,000,000 worth of war bonds. Poets like Rupert Brooke have done good work that they are counted among the immortals. The moving pictures, now are a part of the art movement. Painting and sculpture have suffered. The president of a McDowell club in the east, a distinguished artist, has gone to France to assist in camouflage work. Of all arts, music is the most democratic. Poetry has a difficult time nowadays to reach the masses. Of course, there is chaff in modern music but still it is necessary to get rid of the chaff to reach the wheat."

To emphasize what Miss Bauer has said it might also be added that the commission on training camp activities has compiled a list of camps and naval stations where musical instruments are greatly desired for the use of the soldiers and sailors. This commission says that especially in the more isolated camps there is a demand for the instruments, as there are those who could play and furnish entertainment for their company if they only had the instrument. Many people have an old guitar, mandolin, banjo or violin which no one in the family can play, but which a soldier would appreciate. No better use could be made of them than to send them to the cantonments.

Mrs. Fannie J. Long and Miss Jennie Hoyt who have been the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Young at their home, 461 North High street, are now being entertained at the apartments of C. B. Clancy, 359 North Liberty street. They were former friends of Mr. Clancy in Salem about three weeks longer.

Among the parties who are returning from their vacations is a group of people who went to Crater Lake. They motored there, camping out part of the time. Those who went were, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gillingham and Donald Byrd.

Mr. and Mrs. Roma C. Hunter and daughter, Maeyle, have returned from Newport where they have been spending their vacation.

Miss Lela Belle McCaddam, Miss Lena Cherrington and her brother John Cherrington motored to Edysville the first part of the week. Miss McCaddam will remain for several weeks as the guest of Miss Mildred McBride, whose home is there.

Later Miss McCaddam will return to Salem, on her way to Kellogg, Idaho, where she will have charge of music in the five public schools there.

Miss Roy Wesley Burton (Zita Rosenquest) accompanied by her sister, Vera Rosenquest, will leave Sunday for a vacation at Waldport. While there they will visit their sister Alfa Rosenquest who is teaching in a summer school there.

Mrs. Lola Fursman and son, Oliver, accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Robinson and son, Maey, are enjoying an extended motoring trip in California. They have visited Los Angeles as well as other places of interest, and do not expect to return to Oregon until the middle of August.

Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Fursman are daughters of Mrs. S. E. Oliver, 334 South Winter street. Mrs. Robinson is from New York, and has been spending the winter with her mother. Mrs. Fursman's home is in Seattle, where she is doing civilian relief work in connection with the American Red Cross there.

Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Olinger arrived in Salem last evening to visit Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Olinger, 807 Mill street. Their home is in The Dalles. The two families plan to motor to the coast Sunday where they will camp at Neskevin for a time.

Another week end trip is the one planned by Dr. O. C. Scott and family and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Laflin. They left today for the Tillamook beaches and expect to come home the first of the week.

Mrs. Henry Schulderman, and her two children, Marie and Peter, left this week for their vacation. Mrs. Schulderman's mother, Mrs. Ford also accompanied them.

Mrs. Martha Weaver and her daughter, Miss Edna, from Redfield, California, have been visiting at the residence of J. H. Robins, on North Fifth street. They were very much pleased with Salem, commenting on the climate and were enthused with the beautiful locations and the beautiful structure of Oregon's state institutions.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry H. Raymond, 1070 Center street, left Thursday morning for California. While there they will visit Mrs. Spangler and family in Oceanside for about a month. Mrs. Spangler is a daughter of the Raymonds and will be remembered as Mrs. Raymond.

The Misses Gladys and Elma Wirsing are spending the week-end at the home of Miss Opal Robertson on Salem Heights. Their home is in Lebanon but they are taking work during the summer at the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Glover and daughter, Maxine, of 1694 Court street expect to leave tomorrow for the coast. They will be in the Johnson cottage at Newport and plan to be gone about two weeks.

ADVANCE FALL STYLES---At the left is a combination of flesh colored georgette and ostrich. The wide brim adds to the attractiveness of this pleasing Fall model. At top, a purple velvet round hat has all the trim. At right, a small black velvet hat, the distinctive feature of which is its trimmings of black monkey fur.

pose them and permit the withdrawal of vast numbers of enemy troops—with which the crown prince could have held the pocket indefinitely if it had been only a question of man power—together with the removal of great stores, including a portion of the hastily harvested crops.

While there is no doubt that the Germans immediate purpose is to get out of the pocket, there is considerable speculation as to whether they propose to form a new line at the Vesle or wrap back to the Aisne, or else they are preparing for a new blow—utilizing, perhaps some of the first troops withdrawn from the salient.

my outfit," and joined up with their own unit again.

Meantime, uncaring rain poured down on the boys, who had been fighting constantly without rest and snatching a bit to eat at irregular intervals. They laughed it off.

Stray prisoners were picked up here and there and were sent back to the rear, along with captured machine guns.

The doughboys continued to trudge through the mud and water. Wagon carrying guns, ammunition and rations followed in their wake. By noon all the roads the horses had held in the morning were jammed with every sort of army conveyance.

Cohan, six miles east and slightly north of Perre-en-Tardenois, is a mile north of Coulouges, the last village officially announced as captured in that district.

Dr. Rumeley Indicted

By Federal Jury

New York, Aug. 3.—Federal indictments charging conspiracy and perjury against Dr. E. Rumeley, formerly publisher of the New York Evening Mail, and S. Walter Kaufmann, former attorney here for the German embassy, were presented to United States Judge Knox's court today.

It is alleged that Rumeley, in making a report to the alien property custodian, falsely swore that he owned certain stock in the Mail which really had been purchased for the German government with money supplied by Count Von Bernstorff, whom Kaufmann represented.
