AGRICULTURISTS ARE HOLDING CONVENTION PAY VISIT TO SALEM

Came From Corvallis To Investigate Loganberries And Prunes

Famous agriculturists to the number of 35, men holding responsible positions in the colleges and agricultural institutions of the northwest, were visitors in Salem today. They are members of the Western Agriculturalists' society, holding its first annual session this week at Corvallis.

Arriving from Corvallis this morning, the party was taken in autos a short ride out to the Cunningham loganberry tract and this afternoon to Resedale to investigate prune conditions in that section.

The program for the first annual meeting this week at Corvallis opened Monday morning with an address by C. I. Lewis, professor of horticulture of the O. A. C. "Some Horticultural Problems in Utah" was the subject of an address by M. C. Merrill, professor of horticulture of the Utah agricultural college.

"Clover cropping and building up of orchard soil in British Columbia" was discussed by B. Hoy, assistant provincial horticulturist of Kelowna, B. C. R. L. Ringer, who has a number of friends in the city addressed the society on "What the U. S. bureau of markets does for the fruit grower." He is now with the department of agriculture, bureau of markets.

A subject of interest to apple growers was discussed Tuesday by G. P. Weldon, chief deputy commissioner of horticulture, Sacramento, Calif. He spoke on "The work we are attempting in California and its relation to the apple industry of Washington and Oregon." F. C. Reimer, southern superintendent Oregon experimental station at Talent, Oregon, spoke Tuesday before the society on "Oriental pears and their importance to American horticulture."

The horticulturists were initiated into the mysteries of Loju, Phez and Apple before returning to Corvallis this afternoon. They will spend Thursday with an inspection trip to the experimental plots of the Oregon experimental station and Thursday start for a camping out trip to Mary's Peak, the highest point in the Coast range. While on this trip they will be the guests of members of the division of horticulture of the Oregon Agricultural college.

Among the men prominent on the coast in horticultural work who attended the first annual meeting at Corvallis and who were in Salem today are the following:

C. I. Lewis, professor of horticulture, Oregon Agricultural college.

M. C. Merrill, professor of horticulture, Utah Agricultural college.

B. Hoy, assistant provincial horticulturist, Kelowna, B. C.

E. B. Bennett, field horticulturist, University of Idaho.

R. L. Ringer, bureau of markets, U. S. department of agriculture.

R. J. Barnett, professor of pomology, Washington State college.

L. D. Bachelor, University of California.

E. J. Kraus, professor of horticulture research, O. A. C.

G. P. Weldon, chief deputy commissioner of horticulture, Sacramento, Cal.

A. D. Shamel, bureau of plant industry, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

M. S. Middleton, provincial horticulturist and inspector of fruit pests, of British Columbia.

F. M. Clement, University of British Columbia.

R. C. Therne, Dominion entomologist.

F. C. Reimer, superintendent southern Oregon experiment station.

M. L. Dean, chief division of horticulture, department of agriculture, of Olympia, Washington.

C. B. Wood, of the horticultural commission of Yakima, Wash.

Others who registered today and who are prominent in the agricultural work of the northwest were: C. C. Vincent, Moscow, Idaho; E. F. Stephens, Nampa, Idaho; Guy Graham, Boise, Idaho; E. S. Cox, White Salmon, Wash.; J. R. Fletcher, Vancouver, Wash.; M. S. Middleton, Victoria, B. C.; W. T. Hunter, Penticton, B. C.; Chas. Knight, Vancouver, Wash.; E. W. White, Victoria, B. C.; Luke Ponelle, Prosser, Wash.; F. M. Rhoder, Seattle; J. L. Stahl, Puyallup, Wash.; A. L. Straus, Missoula, Mont.; C. F. Kinnam, U. S. department of agriculture of Sacramento; A. F. Bars, Corvallis.

Want Dutch Shipping In Sugar Trade

Washington, Aug. 7.—Negotiations are under way to obtain Dutch vessels to carry more sugar from Java, it was learned today.

Portly vessels are now idle in East Indian waters, either through fear of seizure or the menace of submarines and other vessels are tied up in home waters. Allied officials are strongly representing to the Dutch government that vessels will not be requisitioned in allied ports.

There can be little improvement in the sugar situation in America until the Cuban crop becomes available about the first of the year, food officials say.

It is desired to make available East Indian ships without disturbing present tonnage arrangements.

Only by the most careful conservation will the present sugar supply meet American needs and rigid observation of the ration of two pounds a person per month is said by the food officials to be imperative.

Yesterday we saw on Washington street a woman taking four dogs for a ride in a seven-passenger automobile. The poor beasts looked most humiliated.

COMMISSION WILL BUILD ROADS BUT NOT IN MARION COUNTY

Lets Contracts For Building Two Post Roads In Union County

Contracts for two post road projects in Union county were awarded by the state highway commission at a meeting held in Portland yesterday to the county court of Union county. Both contracts are for grading, one being for the Elgin-Minam road and the other for the Elgin-Minam section of the old Oregon trail. The bid of the county on the Elgin-Minam road was $37,410, and on the Elgin-Minam section it was $27,474. Both bids were under the state highway department's estimates. The cost of both projects is to be borne equally by the state and federal government.

State Highway Engineer Nunn was instructed by the commission to make a survey of a proposed road in Crook county up Crooked river, for which the county has bonded itself in the sum of $95,000.

The commission instructed its secretary to notify all county courts that speed laws must be enforced, and also to ask the attorney general for an opinion as to whether the law can be enforced requiring county courts to put sign boards at cross roads.

Bids for paving Ashland hill, near Ashland, were rejected and the highway department will do the work by force account. The paving plant which was used on the Sheridan job will be moved to Ashland.

A contract was awarded to S. S. Schell for macadamizing 8600 lineal feet of the Pacific highway between Divide and Camstock, in Douglas county. The price was $14,537.

GREAT GULF STORM TAKES MANY LIVES PROPERTY LOSS BIG

25 Deaths At Lake Charles.—Government Aviation Field Destroyed

Orange, Texas, Aug. 7.—Three towns are badly wrecked, the death toll is estimated at 25, Gertner aviation field at Lake Charles, La., is reported wiped out and nearly 100 persons are injured.

This summarizes results of a tropical storm which struck the gulf coast late yesterday.

The death toll at Lake Charles, La., and vicinity, totaled 26, according to the manager of a lumber mill at that city, who arrived here today. He said twelve were killed at Lake Charles, five at Sulphur, La. and six at Dequincy, La.

Gertner aviation field, upon which the government spent more than $1,000,000, is a total wreck, he said. Officers refused to estimate the loss of planes, many of which were wrecked.

While no accurate estimate of damage in the storm's path was available yet, because of crippled wire communication, travelers from the stricken area said it would total several millions.

Lake Charles, a city of 20,000, suffered heavily. Reports reaching here today declared two thirds of the buildings and houses in the city were wrecked and three persons are known to be dead.

The Louisiana oil fields, east of Lake Charles, also suffered heavily. Hardly a derrick was left standing.

Rice crops were reported heavily damaged.

Storm Kills 25.

Lake Charles, La. Aug. 7.—Twenty-five lives were lost and property damaged estimated at several million dollars was wrought by the tropical hurricane which swept this section late yesterday.

Public Ownership Not Favored Here

Government control or regulation of local utilities is not favored by the public in Oregon, according to the opinion of the public service commission as expressed in a letter written by Chairman Frank J. Miller to Charles E. Elmer, secretary of the national association of railway and utilities commissions.

"We feel that such matters could not be competently and wisely administered," says Chairman Miller. "A local organization on the ground certainly is in possession of more detailed information and can act more advantageously than an organization not so well informed."

He says also that the commission does not believe the federal government should assume to fix rates for local utilities. The public would not favor such procedure, he says.

Answering another query from Mr. Elmer, Chairman Miller says that local officers of cities and towns have no jurisdiction in fixing local utility rates and generally they are not willing to permit an increase in rates, but on the other hand oppose such increases vigorously.

He says the railroad under federal control are violating numerous orders of the commission relative to rates which were increased by order of the director general of railroads.

FELT LIKE MUSCLES WERE TIED IN KNOT

That Is Exactly The Way Tindall Says His Rheumatism, Acted

"I had never taken a dose of Tanlac in my life till some six weeks ago, but I have received more benefit from the three bottles I have just finished than from all the other medicines I have taken put together," said George R. Tindall, of 6002 18th avenue, South, Seattle, the other day. Mr. Tindall is employed at the Skinner & Eddy Ship Yards.

"For several years," he continued, "I suffered terribly from muscular rheumatism and kidney trouble. The muscles of my right arm would draw up at the elbow, and feel like they were tied in a knot. I had no appetite and the little I forced down didn't do me much, if any, good. My kidneys worried me night and day. I had an awful misery up and down my spine, and my back right over my kidneys would hurt so bad that if I stooped over it would almost kill me to straighten up again. I couldn't rest well at night, and many a time I would wake up at midnight, and never sleep another wink the balance of the night, then my back would start hurting so bad that I could hardly get up out of bed."

"I guess I have taken most every kind of medicine sold without getting a bit of relief, and I was in mighty bad shape when I decided to see if Tanlac would help me. Well, I can honestly say that I haven't had an ache or a pain since shortly after I started on Tanlac. I sleep like a log at night, and my wife tells me that I'm able to eat up both out of house and home if I keep on with the appetite Tanlac has given me. I feel as well and hearty in every way that I have told the boys down at the ship yard how much good Tanlac has done for me, for I hope that my experience will be the means of helping others who may have troubles like I had."

Tanlac is sold in Hubbard by Hubbard Drug Co., in Mt. Angel by Ben Goeck, in Gervais by John Kelly, in Turner by H. P. Cornelius, in Woodburn by Lyman H. Shorey, in Salem by Dr. S. C. Stone, in Silverton by Geo. A. Steinhilber, in Gates by Mrs. J. P. McCurdy and in Stayton by C. A. Beauchamp.

THESE TOOK PART IN GREAT OFFENSIVE IN MARNE POCKET

Third Division Regulars Only One From Pacific Coast

By Lowell Mellett

(United Press Correspondent)

With the French Armies in the field, Aug. 7.—(2-15 p. m.)

—General Mangin, in a special order of the day, addressed to the third United States army corps, said:

"Your magnificent plan has taken the enemy by surprise and your indomitable tenacity has stopped a return offensive by his fresh divisions. You have proven yourselves worthy sons of your great country."

General Mangin is commander of the allied forces which conducted the counter-offensive between Soissons and Chateau Thierry. The third army corps consists of two regular army divisions, two national army divisions, and two national guard divisions, totaling 165,000 men. Their identity, training camps, and their commanders follow:

Third division, regulars, Camp Greene, Major General Dickman.

Fifth division, regulars, assembled from many posts, Major General McMahon.

Seventy-eighth division, national army (third to go to France) consisting of troops from Delaware and part of New York, Camp Dix, Major General McRae.

Eighty-third division, national army, Pennsylvania and Virginia troops, Camp Lee, Major General Cronkhite.

Twenty-seventh division, national guard, New York troops, Camp Wadsworth, Major General O'Ryan.

Thirty-third division, national guard, Illinois troops, Camp Logan, Major General George Bell, Jr.

Story Of Experience In Dime Novel Class

Following three years service with Camp Lee, Major General Cronkhite, the British royal flying corps, Captain Guy D. Smith, D. S. O., is spending a leave of absence with his parents here. Smith left his unit in Palestine early in June, arriving here Sunday.

Captain Smith is 23 years of age, having enlisted in Victoria at the age of 20. He has hunted U-boats in the North sea and has bombed Turks in the Arabian desert. At one period of his adventures he was lost for a month on an island in the Indian ocean. With the aid of natives he finally made his way to Ceylon, where he got in touch with his unit again.

Prior to enlisting in Victoria, Smith was a wireless operator on the steamer, Mastan.

State House Notes

When a district attorney is charged with a crime the circuit court may appoint an attorney to prosecute the case against him, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Brown to Governor Withycombe.

A question as to whether this could be done arose in Columbia county, where District Attorney Glen R. Metzker recently assaulted Ham Kautzman, the aged editor of the Houlton Herald. The matter was taken up with the governor who asked the attorney general for an opinion on the question.

As described by Mr. Kautzman in his paper, the assault was most brutal. The district attorney's ire was stirred up by an article in the paper which said in effect that it would be a good thing if the government would draft all useless attorneys, including the district attorney for Columbia county.

Kautzman says that Metzker came into his office when he was at a type case distributing type. Metzker began to abuse him and struck him, knocking him off his stool and then beat and kicked him.

It is the word pile and the buck saw for the untidy and disobedient convicts at the state penitentiary hereafter. Governor Withycombe has issued an order, which went into effect today, that all convicts who escape and are captured or who attempt to escape will be put to work with a buck saw inside the prison yards from morning until night under the eye of an armed guard who will see that there is no lagging on the job. The four convicts who recently escaped and were sought were put to work sawing wood today. They were also put in stripes.

Warden Murphy of the penitentiary went to Portland today to investigate the report that Bennett Thompson, the escaped murderer, had been seen near Seapooce.

Holding that a charge of $5 for weighing cars is not justified, the public service commission has issued an order, permanently suspending a tariff to this effect which had been filed by the O. W. R. & N. The company, at the hearing held by the commission, did not attempt to justify the charge, so much as it contended that the commission did not have jurisdiction in the case.

The L. H. Briggs Lumber Company of Portland has filed articles of incorporation. It has a capital stock of $5000. The incorporators are L. H. Briggs, Robert F. Maguire and John P. Winter.

Articles also were filed by the Western Foundry Company of Portland, which has a capital stock of $5000. The incorporators are R. E. Huffscheidt, Ralph T. Montag and John P. Winter.

Receipts Of Accident Commission Breaks Record

During the month of July the receipts of the state industrial accident commission amounted to $364,953, which exceeds all past records of the commission. The commission disbursed and expended for the month the sum of $144,990, leaving a net gain for the month of $219,963. The commission had a total balance on hand on July 31 of $1,247,547.

The receipts for the month were segregated as follows: Employer, $341,205.71; workmen $23,533.58; interest by employer, $298.62; penalty, $5.12.

The expenditures were as follows: Placed in reserve fund for permanent partial disability cases, $4,644.79; for total permanent disability, $4,983.31; pensions in fatal cases, $36,840.68; payments to workmen for time lost, $50,070.19; payments for first aid, $25,577.68; burial expenses, $1,798; administrative expense, $13,176.24.

Since the workmen's compensation law went into effect in November, 1914, the total receipts of the commission have been $1,796,575.60, while the total expenditures have been $3,548,928.34.

Orders Affecting Grinding Of Wheat

Orders received today by the county food administration are of special interest to farmers. They read as follows and were issued by the national food administration.

"When a farmer brings to the mill wheat grown by himself, the miller may deliver to him on a toll or exchange basis, a sufficient amount of flour without substitutes, to provide eight pounds per month for each person in his household or establishment until October 1, 1918; provided that the farmer signs the following certificate and that the miller has reasonable cause to believe the truth thereof."

The certificate which the farmer signs provides that the wheat was grown on the land of the farmer, and that the flour to be delivered to him with that already on hand, will not average more than eight pounds per person per month. There is also an agreement not to lend, sell or deliver the flour to other parties.

Dentists Enough For Five Million Men

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Inside "dope" on the Kaiser was to be given 30,000 dentists here today for the National Dental association meeting. Dr. A. N. Davis, American practitioner in Berlin, and the Kaiser's dentist, was to tell his colleagues of experiences with the German emperor. Senator Borah and Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis were other speakers.

The dentists yesterday were assured America's army is preparing and fighting under the best health conditions. General W. C. Gorgas told them the soldiers would come back lean and fit—the stay-at-homes would benefit by patriotic abstinence in eating. There are now enough dental surgeons in the army to care for five million troops, Gorgas said.

Thin People Should Take Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain Bitter-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Family Troubles Were Behind Arrest Of Ernest Feller

Ernest Feller, who was arrested at LaPine, charged with larceny by bailie, is now in Klamath Falls where he is trying to sell the Hudson Six that figured in his sensational ride from Portland to Albany, and thence to Bend and later at LaPine where he was arrested. Had he held until the family's affairs were straightened out.

It seems that Feller's father and mother do not regard him as a competent person to care for his three year-old son, especially as there had been trouble between him and his wife.

The three year old boy was visiting relatives last week in Albany and Ernest Feller took the Hudson Six in which he and his father were interested, drove from Portland to Albany, picked up the boy and headed with him for California by way of Bend and the McKenzie pass.

The only way to stop him was by swearing out a warrant for larceny by bailie, which warrant was sworn to by his father. At Bend parties tried to stop him but he drove his Hudson Six on without taking the trouble to stop. However, the officer at LaPine was prepared and there the arrest was made.

Officer Holmes of the sheriff's office went Monday to bring Feller back but it seems that all that was wanted was the boy. Upon giving up the boy to the officer and the machine to his mother, Feller was released. The mother at once gave the car back to Feller with instructions to go on to Klamath Falls and sell it. The boy was brought back and is now with his mother at Donald. Ernest Feller promises his mother to sell the car and return with the money.
