ALL DEPARTMENTS ASK FOR INCREASE OF APPROPRIATIONS

Military Wants $1,111,215 Monmouth Normal Second In Amounts

Practically all the state boards and commissions and departments which are filing tentative budgets with the state tax commission are asking for bigger appropriations for the next biennium than they received for the last two years. These budgets are being filed for the consideration of the tax commission which expects to initiate a bill to authorize an extra tax levy to raise enough funds to take care of the state's needs during the coming biennium. The tax commission will meet August 15.

Budgets for the state institutions have not been filed. The biggest budget so far filed is for the state military department, including the state police.

The state military department is asking for an appropriation of $1,111,214.92. Of this sum $649,474.92 is for the expenses of the state police, $250,000 is for the emergency appropriation allowed for the present year, and $212,740 is for the expenses of the military department centering in the adjutant general's office.

These estimates provide for the organization of a new national guard equivalent to two regiments of infantry, battalion of engineers, battalion of field artillery, hospital units and sanitary corps, making a total of 36 companies with 150 officers.

Major Diehl, commanding the state military police, estimates that the salaries for the police will amount to $537,148, clothing $55,811, autos, motorcycles and accessories, $28,700, while the remainder is divided into small amounts. He recommends that the salaries of the men be increased 10 per cent after the first year.

The reports which have thus far been received by the tax commission are as follows:

State military department $1,111,214.92

Labor commissioner $11,500.

Supreme court library $10,500.

Supreme court $100,500.

Governor's office $28,700.

State livestock sanitary board $53,720.

Dairy and food commissioner $38,000.

State board of forestry $70,000.

Board of higher curricula $200.

McLaughlin house $50.

State land board $18,000.

State exhibit of Oregon's resources $1,222.

Oregon Normal school, Monmouth $111,830.

Insurance department $37,400.

Corporation department $35,585.

St. Agnes Foundling asylum, Park place $15,185.

Salvation Army rescue and maternity hospital $5378.

Boys and Girls Aid society $20,417.

House of the Good Shepherd $11,167.

Oregon Historical society $24,340.

Department of public instruction $41,068.

State treasurer $35,900.

Oregon bureau of mines and geology $30,000.

State water board $30,080.

Grain inspection department, public service commission $2933.

Florence Crittenton refuge home $6551.

Minville is a valid claim against the state and should be audited and paid, is the opinion of Attorney General Brown given today to Secretary of State Olcott. The secretary of state referred the matter to the attorney general because the records show that Mr. Collier at the same time was drawing his full salary as deputy district attorney. The attorney general holds that there is no law requiring a district attorney or his deputy to give all their time to the duties of their office and they may do work on the side and receive additional remuneration.

From the 507 acres planted to flax this year for the state, it is now estimated that approximately 250 tons of flax straw will be harvested. The price the state will pay to the farmer will range from $17.50 to $20, depending on the length of the straw.

For the purpose of putting in his time investigating certain records and performing other work in connection with the prosecution of the Pacific Livestock Company land fraud cases, Assistant Attorney General A. O. Bailey will soon move to Portland to live. When the cases are finished he expects to resign his office and engage in the practice of law in Portland.

If the cool weather continues, it is not likely the state board of forestry will ask the governor to issue a proclamation postponing the opening of the hunting season as a precaution against forest fires. State Forester Elliott said a board meeting will be held in Portland tomorrow, when this matter will be considered, but he was of the opinion it would not be necessary to close the season.

The public service commission received assurance today from F. L. Burchhalter, superintendent of the Southern Pacific, that the nuisance resulting from refuse being dropped from passenger trains while passing on Twelfth street would be abated at once. Complaint was made to the commission by City Attorney Macy.

FRUIT EXPERTS ARE GREATLY PLEASED WITH THIS SECTION

Astonished At Areas Devoted To Walnuts, Prunes And Berries.

The visit of the distinguished company of agriculturists from the western states to Salem yesterday was an event that may have far reaching consequences, according to Robert C. Paulus, manager of the Salem Fruit Union.

Of the 35 men who saw this part of the Willamette valley for the first time, hardly half of them had ever imagined there was such a productive country as that surrounding Salem, judging from their general expressions of surprise when shown the Rosedale prune orchards and the Polk county hills.

Few of the learned agriculturists knew that in Marion county alone there is 1,000 acres of English walnuts soon to come into bearing. The southern California fellows didn't know that Oregon could produce English walnuts. And a very few of the men from either Washington or Oregon or California knew that in Polk and Marion counties alone there is already 6,000 acres of prunes in bearing and more than 7,000 acres that will soon be producing.

Their surprise at what this country can produce was greater than ever when they were shown about the Hunt canneries where there is packed ready for shipment more than five car loads of canned goods with an assurance that the Oregon Packing company had canned several million of cans this year and that the Salem King's Product company had one of the largest government contracts awarded in the west for evaporated potatoes.

The California men as well as those from British Columbia were wonderfully impressed with the productiveness of the valley surrounding Salem and at the same time with the low price with which the best of prune trunks could be purchased. It was noted that when a California man talks of fruit producing tracts, he thinks in thousands of dollars, while in this valley, it is in hundreds. It was observed that the California man was a natural born booster and believed in irrigation, while the Willamette valley product was neither strong for his home country nor a believer in irrigation.

LOCAL SHOWERS GIVE TEMPORARY RELIEF BUT HEAT NOT OVER

Philadelphia And Richmond Swelter—More Heat Is Indicated.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Local thunderstorms have somewhat moderated the extreme high temperatures in the west, the weather bureau stated today. But high temperatures still persist in Atlantic coast districts. Some rainfall was reported in Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. A return of high temperatures within 36 hours was forecast for the northwest, due to approach of low pressure areas now over the Canadian northwest.

Thunder showers are in sight this afternoon and evening for New England, Philadelphia and Richmond, Va., and the heat wave in the last 24 hours, with temperatures of 106 each, Washington was "livably" today, following heavy showers last night.

Rain in Wisconsin

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 8.—Heavy rain, accompanied by wind and lightning, brought relief to southeastern Wisconsin today, after a torrid spell. One death and several prostrations were recorded in the last two days. Thermometers shot down below 70.

Hot Wave Broken

Chicago, Aug. 8.—It's the humidity today. The wave of 100-degree weather which caused eight deaths here in 48 hours was definitely broken after one of the most oppressive nights ever experienced here.

Salem Man Arrested On Charge Of Burglary

Constable Percy M. Varney yesterday afternoon arrested Will S. Singleton, a member of the Salem fire department, on a charge of burglary in the night time. He was taken to the city jail, and this afternoon arraigned before Justice Daniel Webster to plead. On his plea of not guilty bond was placed at $750 with the preliminary hearing to be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock in Judge Webster's court. He was unable to secure bond and was returned to the county jail.

On the night of July 27 Hauser Bros. store was burglarized and three revolvers stolen and some other goods. The revolvers were a Colt, a Smith and Wesson and a H. & R. double action. As this was the night that Thubert and Thompson escaped from the penitentiary it was presumed for some time that the revolvers had been stolen by the convicts. Later Constable Varney went into the case and on a complaint being sworn out, arrested Singleton yesterday afternoon. One of the guns stolen, which Hauser Bros. had the number, was purchased a few days ago by Varney and it was upon this evidence the complaint was made.

Stock Market Dead No Change In Prices

New York, Aug. 8.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

There was neither animation nor price changes of importance in today's market for securities, which was purely nominal, supplying another argument for those who circulated to close the exchange on Saturday.

The stock list ebbed and flowed slightly through the afternoon. Steel held closely around 110 and Baldwin kept its gains. The copper shares, heavy at first, recovered from the setback caused by the decision not to change the present price for the metal.

Swiped Edibles From Lebold Store

Thieves entered the Lebold grocery store on east State street last evening between 10 and 11 o'clock and managed to get away with some bananas, water melons and cookies. The people over the store heard some one moving around and telephoned Mr. Lebold. It seems, according to reports given the police, that not only Mr. Lebold but several others say the thieves prowled around in the store, but none of them were quite sure whether they had any right to stop them. Anyhow, when

American Steamer Merak Torpedoed Off Cape Hatteras

Washington, Aug. 8.—The American steamer Merak was shelled, torpedoed and sunk by a submarine at 1:50 p. m. August 6, fifteen miles northeast of Diamond Shoals lightship off Cape Hatteras, the navy department announced today.

The Merak was a vessel of 3023 gross tons. Elizabeth City, N. C., Aug. 8.—Twenty of the crew of forty from the American-Dutch built steamer Merak were landed here today. The men were Elizabeth City, N. C., Aug. 8.—Twenty of the crew of forty from the American-Dutch built steamer Merak were landed here today. The men were the police arrived, they found the Yale lock on the back door had not been tampered with, although the thieves made their entrance and get-away through that door. Two full grown young men with a Ford were standing guard out front while two boys, who apparently unlocked the back door, were helping themselves to things to eat. Anyhow, the four boys were gone and when the police arrived there was no open doors or broken window to show that the store had been burglarized. This is the third time the store has been entered through the back door by thieves.

brought in by a United States safety patrol ship. Captain Scarborough is reported to have been landed near Keneyket coast guard station.

The Merak was sunk just previous to the sinking of the Diamond Shoals light ship, reported yesterday. From 35 to 40 shots were fired, according to the members of the crew and the vessel went down shortly after being abandoned by her crew.
