No Drugs in Stanolax

Experts agree that one of the chief dangers of self treatment for Constipation lies in habit-forming cathartics.

Stanolax is distinctly different—it is a natural lubricant, tasteless, colorless, odorless. It is neither digested nor absorbed by the system.

Stanolax lubricates the walls of the intestines and acts as a solvent of toxic poisons. It soothes as it eases. It does not produce the slightest physical strain nor abnormal activity.

Old-time drug remedies can now be put aside. By using the gentle but certain Stanolax one can gain relief from Constipation and keep relieved.

One bottle is convincing. Your druggist has it—or will get it.

BOLSHEVIKI NOW IN DEFENSIVE WAR ON GERMAN SIDE

Premier Lenine Explains That No Offensive Steps Will Be Understaken

Washington, Aug. 9.—Russian events took a new and sensational turn today when the American government was officially informed that the bolshevik regime of Russia considered itself in a state of war with the allies.

It was explained to allied consuls in Moscow the position of the Russians, however is purely one of defense against invasion—and that the bolshevik desire to remain in the same position toward the allies as the soviet now is toward Germany.

In making public an official cable message announcing the new tack taken by the bolshevik toward those desiring to help their peoples, the state department made no comment. Plans for helping the Russian populace by way of Vladivostok and Archangel are going forward without material change. It is not believed possible here that the soviet can organize the Russian people against their allied friends.

To Irrigate Big Tract

Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—One hundred and fifty thousand acres of land in the Colorado river Indian reservation will be brought under irrigation soon, it was announced here today by H. V. Clotis, supervising engineer of the Indian service in the southwest, following a conference with local Indian service officials. The land will be tilled by the Mojave and Chimeuvi Indians, said to be skilled agriculturists. It will be irrigated by a gravity system.

PAPERS INDISPENSIBLE

Washington, Aug. 9.—Secretary Baker, commenting upon the order of the Waterloo draft board ordering newspaper reporters to get into other work or join the army, said that the newspaper business is an indispensable industry in his opinion. Individual cases however, will be decided on their merits, Baker indicated.

SOCIETY

By MABEL GARRETT

The committee of the Belgian Relief commission which will have charge of the Belgian Fete to be given August 16 at Wilson park, are busy with their preparations. Many unique features are being planned to make the affair successful.

Miss Bertha Gale has returned from her vacation after spending a month in San Francisco visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. George Rubenstein. Dr. Rubenstein is field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the Presidio.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Hoff are expecting Miss Jean Alexander from Portland to visit them next week. While she is here they are planning to take several motoring trips. Miss Alexander will remain for several weeks.

Mrs. L. S. Geer, 765 Marion street, is spending a few days in Portland.

Little Miss Nancy Hunt, of Seattle, has been spending the most of the summer with her aunt, Mrs. Clark, on Chemeketa street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Brown of 605 North Summer street and Mrs. D. W. Matthews will leave tomorrow for Harrisburg, where they will visit for a few days with Mrs. Gertrude Shisler. Mrs. Shisler is a niece of the Browns and a granddaughter of Mrs. Matthews.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard N. Avison and daughter, Genevieve, have returned from a vacation at the coast. They were encamped at Newport.

Miss Mary Ellen Benson of Cottage Grove is spending a fortnight with Miss Gertrude Aldrich, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. N. Aldrich, 348 Myers street. She was a school friend of Miss Aldrich when the Aldrich family lived in Cottage Grove.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Utter of 244 North 12th street, are spending their vacation at one of the Tillamook beaches, where they have a cottage. They left Sunday and are planning to remain about a month. Dr. Utter has returned for a few days but will join his family again the first part of the week.

Mrs. Alpheus Gillette of Sherwood, Oregon, is spending a few days in Salem visiting friends.

Mrs. Anna Read, a teacher of Portland, who is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Hoff at their home 296 North 14th street, is spending the week end in Portland.

Seattle Attorney Attacks Charles M. Schwab

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 9.—James W. Reynolds, a Seattle attorney, in an address before the Young Men's Republican club here today, denounced Charles M. Schwab, chief of the Emergency Fleet corporation, as one of the United States' greatest profiteers.

"The profits of Schwab's Bethlehem Steel corporation were $43,593,000 in 1916, compared with $3,075,000 in 1913," he said.

Reynolds, in his address on "patriots and profiteers" declared that 48 big profiteering companies have representatives on the president's national council of defense.

"They advise the president not to interfere with business as it would disturb conditions, and they then go back to their offices and raise the prices of the goods they manufacture," he declared.

"If the level-headed citizens of the United States don't settle the profiteering problem, it will be settled for us after the war by the bolsheviks in this country," Reynolds warned.

EDDIE RICKENBACKER TELLS STORY OF LIFE

Finds One German He Is Willing To Treat, Or To Be Treated By.

(Copyright, 1918, By United Press)

With the American Airmen in France July 10.—(By Mail).—"There's certain German airmen I'd like to meet after the war. If he lives and I do," said Lieutenant Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace, and former automobile racer.

"If we meet in the states, I'll buy him an ice cream soda and if it's in Germany, I'll expect him to buy us both beer. He flies No. 16 in a certain German squadron. His machine is an observing and fighting type combined. For a German he is an exceptional sort. We had four days successive rendezvous together without result and it was real fighting all the time.

"The first morning I hopped into the can and went up to a pink tea, looking for anything in general and nothing in particular, soon spotted No. 16 and he spotted me. We jockeyed for position, both of us trying to get the blind spot in front of the sun.

"Finally I got under his tail, after half an hour of maneuvering this way and that, and let him have it. The gun fired two shots and jammed. There was nothing to do but zoom off home which I did.

"Next morning I went up at the same hour over the same spot.

"There was he in No. 16, escorted by two German fighting planes. He was higher than them but I was higher than they, so I jockeyed for position. Again the gun jammed and I fell into a vrille to get out of his range.

"When I zoomed away I got the gun working again and jockeyed for position with Heinie, whose two fighters had been driven off by other Americans by now. He began shooting out of his belly at me and I zig-zagged to dodge his bullets, which were whizzing by me.

"Then we began playing around and kept it up for three quarters of an hour each trying to get a bead on the other. Finally I got in the blind spot and started down on him. Again my gun was jammed and of course he had the edge on me.

"Instead of running, which would have been more dangerous since he had the altitude after I dived past him, I again jockeyed for position, though I knew my gun wouldn't shoot. I wanted to fox him and make him think I was still in the fight.

"It worked for after a few minutes more of maneuvering he decided it was enough for the day, since neither of us could get position. So he fired two shots wild as a good bye, waved his hand and went home. It was a good thing for me, because my motor went cuckoo a minute later and I struggled home on a glide, barely making it over the lines.

"The boys had seen me come down and my mechanics were beginning to figure their Eskimo wasn't coming when I finally got traveling most of the way in an ambulance.

"Next morning I had to borrow a plane, since mine wasn't repaired yet. I went out looking for Heike No. 16. He was there at the given spot, but very very high. I maneuvered for all I was worth but couldn't make my plane reach him. It was out of the question for I had one with two guns and the weight kept it down.

"Heinie had an exceptionally good plane, and I saw him directly above me several times. But he didn't shoot—that is with his gun. I saw him take a picture of me with his camera, and finally went off while I tried to get position close enough to shoot.

"Next morning I again borrowed a machine and went after him, with two guns. He was there, taking pictures. We began maneuvering for position and finally I got it and let him have it. Then one gun jammed. Before I could get a bead on him with the other he was letting me have it. I vrilled and came back at him still higher.

"Finally, both of our guns jammed and both of us knew the other couldn't shoot, though we tried to repair the guns. But no luck. So we wobbled each other good bye with our flappers and both departed. Next day I was sent away for a few days and the boys said Heinie No. 16 wasn't there either. Some day we'll settle it and a lot of bets that were placed on us by the mechanics."

FEDERAL RESERVE HEAD

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—Governor Jas. K. Lynch of the federal reserve bank, addressed a conference of bankers of the twelfth federal reserve district, here today concerning the necessity of their taking up the treasury certificates of ineptness and otherwise aiding in the matter of war finances.

Representatives from Nevada, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California were present.

The purpose of the conference is to secure the cooperation of the bankers in order to insure the success of the new loan drive.

TO INVESTIGATE TEACHERS

Seattle, Aug. 9.—The record of all foreign language instructors in the Seattle school will be investigated following a decision by the school board.

Judge Thomas Burke, mover of the investigation, hinted at propaganda when he said that Germany had spent millions in the schools of foreign lands and that it was unfair to have teachers who formerly instructed in German, now teaching Seattle youths Spanish or French.

Captain McClure Is Over Gas Attack

Eugene, Or., Aug. 9.—Captain Walter McClure, former University of Oregon track star and graduate of the state institution in 1913, who for the past several months has been commander of company M, Twenty sixth infantry, in France, was gassed recently and has just been discharged from the hospital, according to a letter received by his mother, Mrs. O. Bennett, of this city.

McClure was one of the first Americans to see active fighting on the west front and already has several notches on his pistol handle, testifying for some of the "good boches" the Yankees have made. He states that he is back at his old job of training troops behind the lines now.

German-American Publisher Under Arrest

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.—Edward Steutz editor of the Los Angeles Deutsche Press, a German weekly, was at liberty on $5000 bonds today following his arrest for alleged seditious publications in his paper. Steutz was arrested on complaint of C. L. Keep, a department of justice agent.

The article on which the charge is based was published July 26, being a quotation from a dispatch sent out by the Wolff News bureau, the official German press service. Steutz declared it was translated into German for his paper from the report of a press association and was published in at least one local morning paper.

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything.

I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I did, and through it, I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."

—Miss CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?
