A boycott has been placed on the state fair by the Portland Implement and Tractor Association according to advices received in the city today. It seems that the association has it in for the state fair and has gone on record that it will not allow the demonstration of any tractor at its meeting early in September that will be entered for demonstration at the state fair. Just why the Portland Implement and Tractor Association should place itself as opposed to the state fair has not been given out, but if their ruling holds good, dealers in the state who handle tractors will soon be called on to decide whether the Portland show or the state fair reaches the men who are interested in tractors and whether the Portland Implement and Tractor Association are bigger folks than the Oregon State Fair.

The camp meeting at 14th and A Sts. is interdenominational in character and is progressing nicely. The interest and attendance is increasing; there are three services each day at 10:30, 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. and sleeping accommodations and a place where meals can be purchased on the ground at very reasonable rates. 8-9

"Do not accept and forward any applications from your office until further orders." This was the telegram received this afternoon by Sergeant Davis of the army recruiting office from Col. George S. Young, in charge of the recruiting district of Oregon. This confirms this morning's dispatches to the effect that the war department had decided to discontinue all enlistments until the present draft law has been passed and the time named for registration. It is understood that this action was taken to protect the industries throughout the country as it was feared the present uncertainty as to future draft laws might cause a general rush of recruits. As the order now stands, no recruits will be accepted for the regular army until further orders.

Women For Highway Work Is Latest Plan

Wherever possible women will be employed on highway work in the future, according to a statement made today by State Highway Engineer Nunn. Two women already are in the service of the state in this capacity, working on the macadam between Ingles and Galena on the Columbia River Highway, and Nunn asserts that they are honest, competent and even take more pride in their work than the men. These two women assist in settling the macadam by pouring water upon it.

The orders issued do not mean that the women are to engage in the heavy work incident to highway construction, but they will be used as inspectors, rock checkers and on similar light jobs more fitted to the feminine sex.

In every instance where practicable and possible the bosses of highway jobs are instructed to employ women in preference to men and it is believed that a large number will soon be on the payroll of the commission.

low the market price. For instance, the wholesale price today of plain white cloth is 33 cents, and the delivered price in Salem easily 35 or 36 cents. The wholesale price today on standard American calico is 22 cents. The plain Everett Chambray work shirt for men that sold retail about three years ago for 50 cents, today is quoted in the wholesale markets at $15 a dozen and scarce at that. And even that old standby Rockford sock, sold for the past generation at three for a quarter, now costs the dealer in Salem 17 1/2 cents from the wholesale house. The story runs the same on standard drygoods and the fact is, merchants in Salem are retailing in many instances at about the present wholesale market quotations.

A demonstration will be given of the Moline tractor on the Russell Catin farm Saturday. A demonstration will be given any time to parties interested in learning just what the tractor will do.

Harry W. Scott telephoned to his folks in Salem yesterday that he had been transferred from Vancouver to Joyce, Washington. He is in the spruce division, serving as truck driver. Before going into the army he was one of the partners of the firm of Scott & Piper.

Captain Spong has given the use of his grounds at Spong's landing free for the picnic to be held Sunday for the Red Cross. The admission fee will be 25 cents per load while those who travel in singles such as hikers, bicyclists and motorcyclists will be asked to contribute five cents each.

The cash drawer of the Koguan restaurant, 110 1/2 North Commercial street was robbed of $8.30 yesterday afternoon while the proprietor was attending a moving picture show. As soon as he returned and discovered his loss, a report was made to the police. A young man had been seen coming down stairs from the restaurant. After talking it over with the police, he confessed and the money was returned to the owner. There will be no prosecution.

"Until further orders no more men will be enlisted or enrolled in the navy or the U. S. naval reserve force. This order does not apply to those who on or before Thursday August 8, had filed application for enlistment or enrollment or where being examined with a view of their acceptance." This telegram was received this afternoon by J. E. Adams, navy recruiting officer and is similar to some extent to the telegram sent to the army recruiting station. This has the effect of cutting off all enlistments for any war service until further orders, however the following young men had made application in time to be accepted for service in the navy and left this afternoon for San Francisco: Ralph L. Palmer, J. L. Waring, David C. Howard, L. A. Culbertson, W. H. Paulus, J. A. Neal, Clyde Terhune and Maurice W. Sawyer.

The prune scare seems to be over, or at least many who were somewhat alarmed at the reports that the crop was about all lost after investigation are convinced that while there has been considerable dropping in certain sections, the crop this year will be almost a record breaker. From the lack of moisture and also proper cultivation prunes in some localities have been dropping and showing diseased spots. However, after investigation, the general opinion is that the prune crop is all right and that the troubles found were not a disease but due to lack of moisture. From all accounts, it is not the growers who should be worrying, but the packers. According to a recent order issued by the government, packers are not permitted to exceed a profit of four per cent.

The four companies of Oregon Guard have been ordered out to meet at the armory this evening for a discussion of the proposed organization of an Oregon National Guard company in Salem. This is a meeting to which every man interested in the organization of an Oregon National Guard company is invited. The public is welcome to hear these discussions.

Max Solof contributed another $5 to the city treasury this afternoon. A few days ago he was arrested and tried on a charge of buying from a person under the age of 21 years and making a false report. The jury found him guilty and the fine was placed at $5. This morning he was again arrested charged with obstructing the alley in the rear of his place of business. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

A meeting of the state board of central high school athletics for Oregon will be held this evening to determine what shall be done in this branch of the high school activities the coming winter. The board is composed of J. A. Churchill, A. C. Strange, superintendent of the public schools at Bayer, and J. C. Nelson, principal of the Salem high school.

Two members of the Salem fire department are under arrest charged with burglarizing the Hauser Bros sporting goods store on the night of July 27. Will S. Singleton was arrested by Constable Percy M. Varney Wednesday afternoon and yesterday evening he arrested Wald emoro Galey. It is understood that Galey confessed to his share in the theft of several revolvers and other goods. Constable Varney got out a search warrant yesterday and succeeded in finding most of the stolen goods. The clue that led to the arrest of the two firemen was a chisel from the fire department that had been used to jimmy the back door of Hauser's and which had been accidentally left in the store. Also the fact that Singleton had sold one of his revolvers. Galey has not as yet had his preliminary hearing. Singleton is still in the county jail under $500 bonds.

Mrs. J. P. Rusk whose husband "Jerry" the well known legislator, left La Grande some weeks ago for service in France in Red Cross work has received a letter telling of his safe arrival in England. The letter is dated London, July 3.

Why Enlistments Will Not Be Allowed

Washington, Aug. 9.—One of the principal reasons for banning enlistments in the army and navy, it was learned today, is that the introduction in congress of the 18 to 45 draft limit bill caused a rush to enlist by thousands of men, many of whom are holding positions which they should not leave. Their belief apparently was that the government needed every man that could be gotten hold of and they did not wish to wait until drafted.

Baker said in discussing the draft issue with newspaper men after the meeting that it was probable that the 18 year old class would be placed last on the list and would not be called until the older classes were exhausted. He pointed out, however, that the power to draw men by classes depending on their age rests with the president. The 18 year old class would register at the same time as the older men within the new draft age limits.
