Florence Pope, aged 14, caused a commotion last evening. It seems she went to the band concert and later concluded to go with a girl friend to the moving pictures. Her folks were not aware of the program as outlined for the evening by Florence and about 10:30 o'clock sent in a call to the police station that she was lost. After the show, about 11 o'clock Florence went home and the hurry up call to the police station to look for a lost girl was cancelled. Dance at Moose hall tonight. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the church and their friends to attend. Dance at Moose hall tonight. There is one way and only one by which money may be sent to American prisoners in Germany, Turkey, Bulgaria or any of the countries at war with the United States, and that is through the Red Cross at Washington, D. C. The money order is purchased here, made payable to the Red Cross. The name and prison of the American is given and then the sender must depend on the Red Cross for its finally reaching the prisoner. Some folks think that writing poetry does not pay, but W. T. Rigdon, who has been doing considerable in that line lately, is of another opinion. He has the figures to prove it. During the bridge day celebration he sold 400 copies of his 'Ode to the Bridge' from which he turned into the Red Cross treasury $20.00. Then he wrote a poem for the Wisconsin folks when they observed their annual picnic and the sales amounted to $10.00 which was also given to the Red Cross. Now Mr. Rigdon is working on a poem for Iowa day, August 17, which he will sell for the Red Cross and he figures that before many months pass, he will have benefitted the Red Cross more than $100. from the sale of his poetry. Soldiers Service Kits, trench mirrors, wrist watches, Watt Shipp Co. 8-10 Lee L. Gilbert, Elgin Six distributor announces that the Simonizing station he has lately installed is doing a good business and is proving a big success. Having turned out several cars to satisfied customers, he says that inquiries are coming in for service. Mr. Gilbert explains that Simonizing for re-finishing and bringing out the original color of the car and that the only way to judge the process is to see the car both before and after being treated to the Simonizing process. He says that cars that appear to need painting are made to look like a new car with little expense. J. S. Hanson, Salem manager of the Elgin agency for Mr. Gilbert also has charge of the Simonizing station here. Watermelon thieves broke into a car this morning at 4 o'clock stationed near the S. P. freight house on Front street. But it happened about that early hour of the morning two officers were also on duty in that part of town and within a short time Earl Meeks, 14 and Ivan Meeks, 12, of 1608 South Commercial street and Lloyd Schafer, 12, of 1701 South Liberty street found themselves in the clutches of the law and placed in the city jail. They were later turned over to County Judge Boshey who gave them a moral lecture with the understanding they were to go home and tell their folks what they had done. The police cannot quite understand why a woman will leave her purse on the seat of an automobile in plain view and then start on a shopping tour. Mrs. Bertha Steuding of Eugene tried it yesterday but when she returned to her car, her purse was gone. She reported to the police that it contained one ladies' Elgin watch, a diamond ring, a ring with a small red set and several other valuables. Her car was parked about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon on North Commercial street. The police are asked to notify E. L. Knapp of the Eugene Register should any one be kind enough to return the purse and contents. There is still an impression that if a soldier writes for several things he would like to have sent him, and the letter passes the censor, that packages may be sent to the boys in France or anywhere overseas. Postmaster Hucksstein has received special instructions that no packages must be forwarded from the postoffice at Salem unless there is shown a special permit from the soldier's regimental or superior officer. An officer cannot O. K. his own request. Hence, the O. K. of the censor of a letter merely means that the letter can be mailed. A package to be mailed overseas should not be brought to the postoffice unless the sender can present the special permission, signed by a regimental officer. Some idea of the activities of one branch of the Willamette chapter Red Cross in Salem may be had from the fact that since the knitting department of the chapter was organized, 10,275 pairs of woolen socks have been forwarded to our soldiers in France. The dedication of a service flag will be observed at Auburn Sunday. The program will include an address by the Rev. G. L. Lovell of the United Evangelical church. Parents of boys are especially invited to attend as well as all others who are interested in the services. Although a report came from Portland that gasoline was about to advance half a cent a gallon, things seem to be quiet along the Willamette. The three agencies here say no advances have been received to peg the price up half a cent and today the customary 22 1/2 cents a gallon holds good. The advance in price is said to be due to the extra freight charges since the government's tariffs went into effect. Virgil Lloyd Tyler and Homer Montgomery of Hulsey signed up for merchant marine service through J. C. Perry, the Rexall druggist. Mr. Perry has received notice that age limits now are from 18 to 35 years. Services will be held in the Salvation Army hall at 202 State street on Saturday at 8 p. m. and Sunday at 10:45 a. m., 3 and 8 p. m. Sunday School at 2 p. m. Every week night (except Monday and Thursday) at 8 p. m. All meetings are open to public and every one is welcome. 'Pershing's Crusaders' at the Liberty theatre, was witnessed Thursday and Friday by more than 2,500, according to Frank Bligh. This afternoon and evening the showing of the films will be continuous as this will be the last chance to see the pictures here. It is alone worth the price of admission to take a good look at the first bunch of German prisoners captured by the Americans, 6 privates and two disgraced officers. The deer season opens up next Thursday and in order to get in on the ground early, the following hunters will leave at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning for the Umpqua National Forest: Judge George G. Bingham, Dr. M. C. Zindley, H. H. Vandervort, Walter C. Winslow, O. B. Gingrich and Wm. H.

TWO MORE CONVICTS ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE BUT ARE FORLED

Give Guards Lively Time For While And Shots Are Fired Robert Burns, serving from 2 to 20 years for forgery from Multnomah county, and J. R. Rogers, colored, serving from 1 to 10 years for assault with intent to kill, gave Penitentiary officials a lively morning at the prison today when each attempted to stage a spectacular escape, but each in his own way and at different times. With Burns it was his third chance in a year, as he escaped August 8, 1917 and May 28, 1918. Burns was working on the inside of the prison yard at the flax mill, assisting in loading flax onto wagons. Guard A. E. Bell, who is a new man at the work, had been told to watch out for an effort such as Burns tried, but was not looking as he evidently misunderstood the instructions, and while the guard's back was turned Burns slipped in under a pile of flax on a wagon and was covered up by his comrades. He succeeded in getting outside of the prison walls under the flax and at a convenient moment slipped out from under his covering and made his getaway. A man named White, who lives on D street, saw Burns hot-footing it east on that street and notified the prison authorities. Guards Dorman and Putnam were sent on the trail and they were followed up by Warden Murphy and Parole Officer Keller. A bunch of vacant buildings, including a hophouse, barn, and house, stand on the street and these were spotted as a possible hiding place for the quarry and Burns was pulled from out of a cellar. He was armed with a long dirk, which from its appearance was unquestionably slipped in from the outside in some manner. In the meantime Sam Worrell, guard on Post No. 1, was having his troubles with the little negro, Rogers. Rogers is employed as an older and handy man at the gate and Worrell told him to oil the hinges on the outside. As the gate opened for him to go to the work, Rogers started to beat it. Worrell shouted at him, but when Rogers only sprinted the faster, Worrell took a shot at him with his Krag-Jorgensen rifle. At that Rogers hopped behind a pillar, being missed by only a hair. Worrell held Rogers behind the post with a threat of further shooting and Warden Murphy grabbed the man up and took him back into the prison.

OREGON'S LOAN QUOTA THIRTY-SEVEN MILLION

Double Amount Of Last Quota Will Be Asked In Next Campaign Oregon's quota in the third liberty loan is apt to be $37,000,000, or twice its last quota of $18,500,000, according to a letter received by Governor Withycombe from James K. Lynch, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank at San Francisco. In writing to the Governor, Mr. Lynch said in part: "The secretary of the treasury has informed us that the fourth campaign will last three weeks, commencing Saturday, Sept. 28, and closing Saturday, Oct. 19. While no further particulars have as yet been announced, the indications are that the amount will be so much in excess of previous liberty bond issues that it will call for the greatest possible effort on the part of all interested in making this loan a complete success. "This can be better appreciated when it is remembered that of the three billion dollar third loan the twelfth district's share was 7 per cent, or $210,000,000, which means that if the next loan is six billion dollars, this district's portion would be approximately $420,000,000, and therefore practically double the quota allotted to Oregon in the last campaign."

State House Notes

Leading to a complete unification of the lines of the Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric in the Willamette Valley, a comprehensive survey is now being made by Federal Manager O'Brien and General Manager Davidson, according to a letter received by Commissioner Buchtel of the Public Service Commission from District Director Gilman. Mr. Buchtel asked Mr. Gilman as to what has become of the proposed physical connection at Eugene. In response Mr. Gilman states that such a connection at that point is of doubtful value, and would probably be decidedly expensive, but he will ask the two officials, named to incorporate a statement as to such connection in the general report that they plan to make on valley conditions. Superintendent Churchill reports that there was a vast movement of high school boys toward recruiting stations yesterday throughout the state when the impression got abroad that yesterday was the last day in which enlistments could be made in the volunteer service. He communicated with W. F. Woodward, new chairman of the State Council of Defense, who advised him that such enlistments could not be made yesterday and the boys attempting it were having their trouble for their pains. Mr. Woodward told him to urge students to remain in school as the government no doubt will keep them there as long as possible, whether they become of draft age or not. At least such was the policy announced by Secretary of War Baker in a communication sent to Superintendent Churchill some time since. It is expected that the State Council of Defense will need $25,000 to conduct its affairs during the next biennium. At least that is the estimate made in a telegram received by the State Tax Commission from John K. Kollock, secretary of that organization. An estimated deficiency of $110,000 is facing the Industrial Accident Commission, according to a supplemental report of that body filed with the State Tax Commission today. The Legislature appropriated $250,000 for the two years, and expenses are expected to mount up to $360,000. The Oregon Naval Militia is coming back strong with a request for $30,710, in a report filed with the State Tax Commission. It had been expected that the Naval Militia would probably seek no funds for the next biennium, or at least only a nominal request. But it wishes $20,000 for harbor patrol work, to see that harbor regulations are not violated and that war work is protected from enemy agents. It also wishes funds for a radio school and for headquarters where splicing, knotting and elementary seamanship may be taught. Following are estimates filed by various state activities with the State Tax Commission today as to the respective wants for the coming biennium: Department of State $35,500; receipts $36,000; elections, $45,000; a reduction from $50,000; capital, supreme court building and grounds, $69,800; Attorney General, $38,320; State Engineer, $29,010; receipts $29,797.06; Desert Land Board, $9,640; Oregon Social Hygiene Society, $48,000; Patton Home, $24,000; receipts $24,879. Governor Withycombe has been notified that the State Board of Forestry has voted unanimously to uphold his action in refusing to close the hunting season on August 15, when it opens as provided under the statute. The R. J. Brown Company, Portland, $10,000 capitalization, wishes to engage in a general lumber and building business; the Portsmouth Mercantile Company, Portland, $100,000, in a general mercantile business, and the Morrison Metal Company, $100,000, Portland, in a general mining and metal business, according to articles of incorporation filed with Corporation Commissioner Schulderman today.

GASOLINE GOES UP. Los Angeles, Aug. 10. - Simultaneously with the announcement by State Oil Director D. M. Folsom that the government proposes to stabilize oil prices west of the Rocky Mountains, gasoline and kerosene in Los Angeles county went up half a cent today. Higher freight rates was given as the reason. Folsom who has been holding conferences with oil producers here, in a statement, said the government will not permit the present heavy demand for oil to regulate prices west of the Rocky Mountains.

PERSONAL

A. M. Clough and family left this morning for Portland for a Sunday drive up the Columbia Highway. Frank Meyers and wife are home from a visit at Medford with relatives. Arthur Hartley who has been spending his furlough with friends and relatives in the city left this morning for Philadelphia. He has been assigned to the destroyer Dorsey, one of the new vessels to be commissioned in September. Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElhinney of Roseburg were in the city yesterday. Mrs. Anna Read left yesterday for her home at Portland after a short visit in the city with friends.

Society For Relief of French War Orphans

The Society for the Relief of French War Orphans began its work on babies' shirts made from cast off hose. About twenty ladies met at the public library for the purpose on Friday afternoon. The supply of hose failed to supply the workers, but those present took the pattern home to make up at their leisure. Another opportunity for the work will be offered on Tuesday afternoon in the educational room at the public library. In the meantime, everyone is urged to leave the old hose at the library: children's or ladies' hose, white or black, though white is far preferable. Even more useful is the old woolen underwear from which fair sized pieces may be cut. Samples of the little sets of underwear the ladies are making are on display at the library. It is hoped that many more ladies will respond on Tuesday to secure the directions and the materials from which to make the garments. The society expects to make a shipment of these and other children's clothing on the fifteenth of September. All children's clothing in good condition is acceptable.
