WANT MORE MONEY IN DEPARTMENT FOR COMING BI-ANNUAL

Budgets Submitted Show Institutions Will Have Large Demands

Oregon state institutions have submitted to the secretary of the state board of control budgets for the next biennium which aggregate $2,865,939, or almost twice the amount which was appropriated for them by the last legislature.

These tentative budgets will be dissected by the state board of control at a meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon and when that board is through with them they will be turned over to the state tax commission, which is preparing to initiate a bill for an additional tax levy to provide funds for the state government.

The institutions are asking for new buildings and improvements to the total amount of $494,750. The penitentiary, the institution for feeble minded and the eastern Oregon state hospital are making big requests for new buildings.

CHILDREN WITH STEEL HELMETS--THE LAST INHABITANTS, LEAVE THEIR DOOMED VILLAGE--Fearing that the German forces would come within the range of their village on the western front the inhabitants gathered what belongings they could and escorted by British military police evacuated their homes and were taken to places of safety.

State House Notes

The consolidation commission will meet at the state house tomorrow morning to consider the reports submitted by Professor J. F. Matthews, the consolidation expert from Illinois, and Fred Topken, his assistant.

In a tentative budget filed today with the state tax commission, the University of Oregon Medical School requests an appropriation of $118,840 for the next biennium.

Asylum authorities are seeking information as to the relatives or friends of William H. Cook, who was received at the state hospital from Multnomah county last Saturday and died the next day from cerebral abscess.
