Dr. Carl Gregg Doney Speaks At Independence

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Independence, Aug. 14. — Dr. Carl
Doacy, president of Willamette university lectured to a capacity house at the Isis theater here Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Doney spoke vividly of his trip overseas and of conditions in the camps. He said: "The heart of America is in France, for every town and handet is alive with the boys in khaki." He told many interesting details of his visit to the trenches and of his marvelous return without a puncture. He told of the splendid work of (Capital Journal Special Service) of his marvelous return without a puncture. He told of the splendid work of the Y. M. C. A. He said our soldiers find a home in the Y's on either side of the Atlantic. That is means home to the boys or rather takes the place of home to all those far away. Dr. Doney was loudly applauded throughout his discourse and had be talked two hours instead of one his listeners would have been delighted to remain.

The human mind cannot grasp the stupendous burden of the war even if we brush aside all considerations save financial ones sione. If the war lasts financist ones aione. If the war lasts until the end of next June, it will have cost America approximately $48,700,000,000. Thus with the plining up of a prodigious war debt, it is at once apparent that the American people must be prepared to practice rigid habits of thrift iong after the days of condition are every

After the war is over, the process of After the war is over, the process of bringing home our millions of troops from Europe will require at least many months of time and additional millions of dollars. There is a possibility that it will take as long to get the troops back as it has to get them over. No one knows how long they will be kept under arms before being mustered out of service and allowed to resume the persuits of peace. Opinions may vary persuits of peace. tices.

The time will never come, in fact, when individual habits of thrift will not be necessary. Lloyd George recently said, "We have suffered in war through the lack of preparation before we entered it. Do not let us make the same mistake in peace."

The present is indeed a most propitious time to prepare ourselves for the unusual conditions that will exist when peace returns—to adjust ourselves to conditions of permanent thrift. We must learn that the days of extravagance in America are gone forever; that waste of all kinds must be climinated that individual efficiency must be increased; that there must be an increment of national production; a greater supply of raw matetion; a greater supply of raw mate-rials; more skillful methods of manu-facture and distribution. Slip-shod methods and lost motion both in the must end.

The war marks the beginning of a new economic cra, and those who are prudent will learn now the truth of this fact. Without thrift there can be no success in the days that lie ahead of us. The man of the future who achieves success will be able to do so only with the elimination of all wasteful habits and idle indulgences. This does not mean that we have reached the end of so-called luxuries, recreation and sensible pleasures, but it does mean that conditions will make imperative the permanent and make imperative the permanent and constant elimination of waste of every
