STAYTON NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Stayton, Or., Aug. 16.—Saturday evening when C. H. Rossiter, of Coon Hollow, was having his Ford tank filled with gasoline at one of our stations he lighted a match to light a cigar, and the fumes from the gasoline ignited, causing quite a blaze. The top of the car was burned but no further damage was done.
C. E. Daugherty and wife left Saturday morning for a visit of a week with relatives at Castle Rock, Washington. From there they will go to Palo Alto, California, where Mr. Daugherty will take a course of three weeks at Stanford University, to be better fitted for his work as Y. M. C. A. secretary. Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty made many friends during their stay of nearly two years in Stayton, who are sorry to see them leave, and who hope that success will follow them wherever they may go.

Mrs. Horace, Miss Gladys Rice, Mrs. Alexander and Miss Marya Alexander motored to Corvallis Wednesday.
Miss Ruth Roy is home from a visit of several weeks in Portland.

FRUITLAND ITEMS

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Fruitland, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Ryland whose daughter is Mrs. J. S. Donaldson of the State training school, is visiting

Mr. Donaldson's parents at this place, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Donaldson.
It is reported a light frost was observed in local sections here Monday morning.
Corn seems to be coming well as could be expected this dry weather. It is a good plan to prune the corn hills. Where there are three or four stalks in a hill there will commonly be one that will have an ear that will mature. Out the others out and give to the cows now while they are green and juicy, as they are twice the value they will be two or three weeks later when they are yellow and dry. And too the remaining stalk will have room to mature the ear, also not dividing moisture and fertility with useless stalks. All hills that will not have ears should now be cut and fed while green. There are some stalks large and thrifty growing six feet high that will never have an ear. Cut them too for the cow. For some reason there are always such stalks. A pruned corn field and a pruned orchard are much the same.
Wm. Donaldson's wheat went above 35 bushels to the acre.
H. C. Todd, our teacher, is spending his vacation in Portland.
Dr. Doney of Willamette university, lately returned from France, is credited with believing tobacco will not help our boys win the war. Correct, it will take something more potent than a hurtful habit. I suppose the German-Tun has along with him the "Dutch paper" and maybe the pesky cigarette the same as at home, but they won't help him win.
The Wurtenburger and Potsdamer are giving back before the sturdy blows of our northern and southern boys. The spiked helmet is not always invincible.
H. C. Bressler, who has been employed at Toledo on government work writes home that he has given it up and is now with the Oregon City paper mill. While the wages per hour are less than at Toledo the cost of living is much lower, so in that way he is earning more.
Rev. Edward Simpson, who has charge of churches in western Lane county, writes to relatives here that he has made application to go to France, presumably for Y. M. C. A. work. Mr. Simpson is a minister of the Evangelical association.
M. J. Cerak and family are at the coast. M. M. Ransom and Mrs. Ransom lately from Colorado are care takers during their absence.
Wm. Pstak is employed at the state prison.
The Anderson boys, Elmer and Harley, are working at the Spaulding lumber mills at Salem.

IF YOU CANNOT GET COAL, BURN WATER

Kakabeka Falls near Fort William, Ontario
Magog Falls, Sherbrooke, Quebec
Are you worrying about coal shortage, Mr. Manufacturer? Does the outlook spell "shutting down" for you? Do not be discouraged. A remedy is at hand; a remedy tried and proved by many manufacturers. Use water power.
Where is this water power, do you ask? Good sites in the United States have been pre-empted pretty generally, you say. Granted, then why not cross the border into Canada and use some of that seventeen million horse-power water power going to waste over there? Why do the Canadians not use it, you ask. They do use some, but not all. Canada has an available water power of almost nineteen million horse-power of which she uses about 10%. This small percentage supplies, with a few exceptions, all the principal Canadian cities and a great majority of its towns and villages, and not a few farms, with hydro-electric energy. Further, this 10% yields a considerable surplus which is exported. New Brunswick's surplus goes to Maine, Quebec's to New York, Ontario's to New York and Minnesota, and British Columbia's to Washington.
The bearing which this exportation of power has upon the imports of coal into the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, the source of two-thirds of the available current, may be surmised. Since the war resulted in a scarcity of vessels for transporting coal up the St. Lawrence for the industries of Montreal, there have been converted to the use of electrical energy in that vicinity, no less than one hundred and fifty private steam plants with a demand of about as many thousand horse-power. Others are considering a like transformation. Hydro power being the one necessary commodity which decreases in
