Mrs. E. S. Parnham left this morning over the Oregon Electric for Seattle.
R. A. Case, a prominent stockman of Mill City, is in Salem attending to business affairs.
John Hamilton of Mehamm is attending to business matters in the city today.
Miss Alma Ashby of the Salem public library will leave in a day or two for an auto tour with relatives. They will visit several Sound cities including Seattle.
J. S. Cherrington, the electrician, and mother, Mrs. W. M. Cherrington, motored to Newport today to visit Miss Lena Cherrington, who is spending her vacation there.
W. Al Jones, who is seriously ill at his father's, T. H. Jones, 417 north Commercial street, is reported this afternoon to be holding his own. In response to an inquiry, the family stated that they felt quite a little encouraged that afternoon. Mr. Jones' illness is a recurrence of an attack of malarial fever suffered last spring.
While a Mr. Rush of Albany was enjoying a movie of Mary Garden in "A Splendid Sinner" at the Liberty theater yesterday afternoon a policeman tapped him on the shoulder and asked him to step outside on an accusation that he was something of a sinner himself. It seems that the husband of Mrs. Jesse Smith deserted her about a year ago and as Mr. Rush stepped into the theater, she thought she recognized her long lost husband. And when Mr. Rush appeared, she even insisted he was her husband. By this time Mr. Rush was considerably peeved as he

CONSPIRATOR SEEXECUTED
Amsterdam, Aug. 17.—Of a thousand soldiers imprisoned at Kronstadt because of counter revolution tendencies, 262 have been executed. A Moscow dispatch today stated.
Court House Notes
In the case of Thos. C. Farrell against W. M. Grant, R. L. Swartz, Frank Ford, Mark Skiff and L. H. Fish, a petition was presented asking the court to confirm the sale of real estate involved in the suit.
Mrs. J. I. Coates, administratrix of the estate of P. L. Coates in her suit against Marion county, has asked the circuit court for a change of venue from Marion county to the circuit court of Linn county, as all witnesses and parties concerned live near Jefferson and it is much more convenient to try the case at Albany. F. L. Coates was killed Nov. 1, 1917, while driving a car near Jefferson and the suit is brought against Marion county, alleging that the accident was caused by a defective road and bridge near Jefferson. Eleven witnesses will be called to show the condition of the auto and the health of Mr. Coates and his earning capacity, and two to prove the defective condition of the road, that it was in a dangerous condition and that the county had not warned the public.
In the matter of the estate of Mabel L. Campbell, deceased, the administrators Willard L. Campbell and O. L. Martin, report the sale of 60 by 72 feet of the northwest corner of block 20, University addition to Salem for $500 to Frank Anderson, said sum to be applied on the mortgage of same. Also to Henry Heper for $25, part of lot 20 in University addition to Salem and part of lot 6 in block 20, University addition. Mr. Heper holds a mortgage of $2300 against the property.
