State House Notes

The state desert land board today received notice from Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office, that he would defer action on the state's application for an extension of time for the reclamation of the land included in the Paisley irrigation project in Lake county until after the supreme court has finally passed on the Chewaucan river adjudication case. The court has granted a rehearing on the motion of the Chewaucan Land & Cattle company to dismiss the appeal of the Portland Irrigation Company in the water case.

Nebraska Names Its Choice For Governors
Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 21.—Returns in yesterday's state-wide primaries from about one fourth of the precincts show John J. Morehead, former governor is leading Richard L. Metcalf by twice the number of votes for the democratic nomination for United States senator. Senator George W. Norris is in the lead for the republican ticket, being closely followed by Charles S. Sizoo and Ross L. Hammond. Governor Keith Neville has a long lead on Charles W. Bryan for the democratic nomination for governor. In the republican race for governor there was no contest, Samuel R. McKelvie getting the nomination.

Nearly $20,000 Spent For School Libraries
Approximately 42,000 books, costing $19,489, have been ordered by Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, for the district school libraries of the state. The greater portion of these books are of a patriotic nature. One school district, however, ordered some German books and Miss Marvin said she eliminated that portion of the order and substituted a patriotic book. The largest orders for books came from Tillamook and Baker counties. In Tillamook county the school library fund amounted to approximately $1 per pupil, while the law only requires a tax of 10 cents per pupil.

Day Of All Nations Will Open State Fair
A "day of all nations" will be the opening day of the Oregon state fair this year, according to an announcement made today by Professor J. A. Hall, who has been requested by the state fair management to direct the patriotic program for that occasion. A large American flag will be raised, with the flags of other nations beneath. The flags of the other nations will be raised by former citizens of those nations. A patriotic celebration is to be held in the auditorium at the fair grounds. There will be music, singing, short addresses and a patriotic pageant.

Estimates Of Those Of Age June 5, And Each State's Quota
Washington, Aug. 20.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today estimated 158,011 men who have reached their twenty-first birthday since June 5, 1918, and on or before August 24, will register next Saturday. Of these it is believed 50 per cent of the registrants or approximately 79,000 men will be available for class use.

Demand Equal Pay With Men For Work
London, Aug. 21.—The deadlock in the conductorettes strike continued today. A few women on the tube trains also have quit working, but not enough to seriously interfere with traffic. Between 17,000 and 18,000 conductorettes are now idle.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.
Chicago, Aug. 21.—John T. McCutcheon and Lieutenant Lee Hammond, naval aviator, were to attempt a return flight today across Lake Michigan, despite their accident of yesterday when they were lost in mid-lake. Engine trouble forced their hydroplane to descend to the water where they were luffed for two hours when they started for Michigan. Finally resuming flight, they found their compass refused to work. They at length reached shore at Grand Traverse bay, far to the north.

MACHINE GUNNERS CANNOT ORGANIZE COMPANY IN SALEM

Only One Instructor In State Company Will Be Formed In Portland.
No machine gun company will be organized in Salem, at least not until two companies have been organized and accepted for the Oregon National Guard. This was definitely decided at a meeting of the general staff held yesterday in Portland.

As the authority to organize a machine gun company in Salem comes from the general staff, this means that efforts in this line in Salem will be abandoned. The general staff also decided that owing to the present lack of equipment and trained men and officers, that but one machine gun company could be organized for the Oregon National Guard and that as there was but one officer in the state instructing in this work, it would be recruited in Portland. The one army officer competent to instruct a machine gun company is now instructing at Vancouver.

THINK SPECULATORS ARE BUYING UP HAY TO CORNER MARKET

More Than 4000 Tons Stored Prices Forced To Double That Last Year.
There is just a suspicion among men who are familiar with the hay market that Portland houses are speculating in hay, especially in the upper valley. It is known that at several warehouses, Portland buyers are storing hay, with 2500 tons in one warehouse, 1200 in another and 400 in a third.

This probable speculation is having the effect of gradually pushing up prices until today hay is worth wholesale in the market from $25 to $28 a ton, with a retail of about $35 to $38 a ton, with 10 per cent interest. The result is that dairies and other stock interests are obliged to pay today exactly twice the amount that hay was quoted for at this time one year ago.

Court House Notes

In the case of A. K. Meek against Wm. T. Matlock and Ledema A. Matlock the defendants asked the court for a decree releasing from the attachment the S. W. 34 of section 27 and the N. W. 34 of section 34 of township 25 south of range 15 east, for the reason that the lands were part of the public domain and title remained in the United States up to August 6, 1916. This is asked on the basis of an act by Congress that no land acquired from the United States under the provisions of the act should become liable for the satisfaction of any debt contracted prior to the issuing of the patent.

Leona Yates Has Filed Papers Asking For Divorce
Leona Yates has filed papers asking for a divorce from her husband Bert Yates who is now in the county jail charged with assault and intent to kill. She relates in her petition that they were married Jan. 31, 1905 in Multnomah county and have one child, Crystal Yates, age 11 years, now in her custody. She alleges that he threatened to kill her and the whole family, that he struck her, locked her in a room and was so cruel that she was forced to leave home. While employed in Salem, making her own living, he entered her room on the night of July 31 and attempted to abduct her and she thought to kill her. She asks custody of the girl and $25 a month for the girl's maintenance. They lived on a rented farm near Silverton.

Regina E. Perkins, administratrix of the estate of Gottlieb Hirsch requests the county court to appoint A. J. Banick as guardian for the two minor children, Richard age 10 years and Edwin Hirsch age 8.

LIETENANT SUICIDES.
Chicago, Aug. 21.—Dr. Victor E. Lager, lieutenant in the dental reserves was a suicide here today. Melancholia induced by his failure to see active duty was the cause assigned by friends.
