WILL VOTE ON BILL 4 O'CLOCK TOMORROW

Amendment To Fight Or Work Clause May Prevent Opposition.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Senator Fall, New Mexico, today introduced an amendment to the manpower bill providing that all men from 45 to 60 shall be classified for industrial or military service. The amendment provides that authority shall rest with the president to call men for industrial or military duty when he sees fit and that permits for industrial service may be withdrawn and the holder be transferred to the military service.
The senate late today agreed to vote on the manpower bill not later than four o'clock tomorrow afternoon.
By a vote of 53 to 13, the senate today adopted the educational amendment.
An amendment providing that soldiers and sailors regardless of their age, shall be eligible to receive commissions and attend officers' training schools, was adopted.
Senator Shields' attempt to remove the civil service restriction from eyes of soldiers and sailors seeking government positions was defeated 40 to 30.
The senate then adopted the committee amendment providing that no wife of a soldier or sailor shall be disqualified for any government position because she is a married woman.
An amendment to the 'work or fight' section of the manpower bill, providing that it shall not apply when strikers agree to abide by the decision of a board named by the president regarding labor disputes, was offered by Senator Cummins, Iowa, late this afternoon.
This amendment, if adopted, would make the work or fight law much less drastic and probably silence much of the opposition of labor leaders.
The Rev. James Elvin former pastor of the First Congregational church of this city is one of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries chosen to return from France to take part in the coming Y. M. C. A. drive for war funds. Mrs. Elvin received a cablegram with this news but no information was given as to whether Mr. Elvin would work on the Pacific coast. He was recently promoted in the service and is now division manager of Y. M. C. A. huts near Bordeaux.

D. A. White is home from Newport. He says the wonderful thing in that country is the amount of railroad building that is going on, both directions from Newport. The bridge across Yaquina bay is about half way across already.

Automobile Race On Opening Day Of Fair To Be Leading Feature

An automobile elimination race will be one of the features of the opening day of the state fair this year, it was announced at a meeting of the state fair board yesterday. This was the final meeting of the board before the date of the fair.

In the automobile race, all the machines, which will be stationed at certain distances apart, will start at the same time at the crack of a gun and whenever a machine lapses it by another it must drop out. The race is continuous until all machines but one have been passed.

Another feature of the opening day, which has been previously announced, will be the flag raising, in which all the allied nations will be represented.

Secretary Lea of the fair board says he is endeavoring to arrange for an Indian pony relay race.

The board decided to purchase a good supply of hay and other stock feed to have on hand for the convenience of the stock exhibitors, as last year the exhibitors had some difficulty in getting feed. The feed will be sold to them at cost.

Music for the fair will be furnished by the Bonadians and Campbell's bands and the Old Soldiers Fife and Drum Corps. Selection of the soloists was left to Mr. Campbell.

The prospects for a big fair are fine, declared Secretary Lea.

ATTY GENERAL BROWN FILES NEW COMPLAINT IN LAND FRAUD CASE

Alleges About 20,000 Acres Of State Lands Were Obtained By Fraud.

Alleging that approximately 20,000 acres of lands were fraudulently obtained from the state by means of forgeries and false affidavits, Attorney General Brown today filed a new complaint in the circuit court, for Harney county in the famous Pacific Livestock company land fraud case.

A new complaint was necessary, the attorney general points out, because the original complaint, which was filed in 1914 by Attorney General Crawford, alleges that the lands were obtained thru a conspiracy and by means of dummy entryment, while Attorney General Brown's investigations show that they were obtained by forgeries.

The circuit court for Harney county convenes in October and the attorney general hopes to go the case to trial then. He says in the past the Pacific Livestock company has wanted a speedy trial and if it is still in that frame of mind the case undoubtedly will come up in October.

Attorney General Brown has persistently fought to keep the case from being squelched. The last legislature refused his request for an appropriation of $5000 to defray the expenses of the litigation, and after the legislature adjourned the governor sought to have the case dismissed. He said he would order it dismissed if Secretary of State Oleott would join with State Treasurer Kay in giving a vote of approval, but Oleott refused to do it.

If the lands involved are recovered they will enrich the state school fund. These lands are divided into three groups, namely school lands, school in density lands and swamp lands. It is alleged that the school lands were obtained from the state by John S. Devine and W. B. Todhunter through forged applications and false pretenses. The industry school lands were obtained by Henry Miller and F. A. Hyde and others by similar means, it is alleged, while the swamp lands were obtained by Henry Miller.

In 1888 Henry Miller organized the Pacific Livestock company to take over the title to these lands. It is alleged that Miller, up to the time of his death in 1914, owned practically all the stock in the company, which was a mere tool to cover his scheme.

BILLY SUNDAY TALKS TO MEN AT THE PRISON

Tells Them Of His Early Life And That It Is Never Too Late To Reform.

One woman who was determined to secure a good seat for the Billy Sunday address yesterday afternoon at the armory, arrived at the armory steps about 11:30 o'clock and sat there until the doors were opened.

A man coming quite a distance was accompanied by his six year old child. As no children were admitted and as the man had no one with whom to leave his little girl, he did not hear the address.

Billy Sunday arrived ten minutes before 2 o'clock. He at once told the Salvation managers to begin with the afternoon program as there was no use in waiting. The armory was packed to the limit long before that time and Billy said there was no use to delay matters as those on the outside could not gain admittance.

Sunday morning Mr. Sunday was taken out to the Oregon State penitentiary to address the men. He told them the history of his life from the time he was playing right field with the famous Chicago White Sox, about 30 years ago.

The baseball players of those days were given to considerable boozing and gambling and Billy acknowledged he went the paces with the bunch. One morning after he had been on a pretty good sized drunk the night before, he announced to his pals that he was through with it all. With the exception of one man, his baseball friends made fun of his resolution to lead a better life. Shortly afterwards he joined the Presbyterian church and married the present Mrs. Sunday.

Billy has the satisfaction, he told the men, of feeling he was right as there is not a man living today of his former associates. Booze and fast living got them all, he said.

Billy spoke to the prisoners in the sporting language and incidentally showed them how he used to throw the ball and how he did some fancy catching when a professional. He told them the world was full of men who were ready to do the right thing by them when they got out, provided they themselves showed the right spirit. Mrs. Sunday spoke briefly corroborating her husband's remarks about his early days when he went the pace.

Mr. Sunday told friends in the city
