SOCIETY

By MABEL GARRETT

The guests whom Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano, 1530 State street, entertained over the week end left the first of the week. They were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Varney and children, Myrle and Preston. They were motoring through on their way from San Francisco to Portland. Their home was formerly in Portland, but the last fifteen months they have been living in California. They are now planning to make their home in Portland.

After enjoying a motoring trip of ten days, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Epley of North Winter street, returned Wednesday evening. They motored to Rainier National park, Tacoma, Seattle and Camp Lewis and then back to Tawnee mountain home at the foot of Mt. Hood. On the trip they were accompanied by Mrs. Epley's sister, Mrs. E. E. Lewis, and her nephew, Glen Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tarpley of 739 North Liberty street, motored over to the Tillamook beaches the first of the week. They will probably be gone about a week.

Mrs. F. N. Toothaker of 910 North Church street, left last week for Newport, where she is spending her vacation with her daughter, Mrs. Burton. She will probably return next week.

Miss Myrtle Albright is expected sometime today to spend the week end as the house guest of Mrs. Allan Byron, at the home of her parents on 765 South Commercial street. Miss Albright's home is in Marquam.

The Misses Alice and Mildred Welch have been at Newport for the last ten days spending their vacation. They are expected home soon.

Ivan G. Martin returned from Portland this week, where he attended the Elks convention. As a side trip he drove to Tawnee near Mt. Hood.

After spending a fortnight's vacation at Seaside, Mrs. Edward Yenne and two children, Velma and Edward, returned home Wednesday night. They were accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Van Allen, Mrs. Yenne's mother.

Among those who motored to Mt. Hood for their vacation were Mr. and Mrs. John Bewley, who have now returned to their home in Independence.

After spending a vacation of several days in Portland, Miss Helen Root returned the middle of the week.

It was the German purpose to hold the Drocourt-Quantin line at all costs, although it was in a bad state of repair and unfit for a good defense. Their orders were to withdraw if strongly attacked, first to an intermediate line and then to Drocourt-Quantin line.

The fighting at Drocourt Hill and at Roiry indicates the withdrawal was not made voluntarily. It is believed the only immediate defense line of any importance now lies behind the canal tunnel.

Stephens Leads Rolph With 20,815 Plurality

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—The plurality of Governor William D. Stephens over James Rolph, for the republican gubernatorial nomination, was more than 20,000 on the face of returns from 612 precincts out of 6303 in the state early today.

The returns gave Stephens 163,104 Rolph 142,289.

For lieutenant governor, approximately 5300 precincts gave C. C. Young of Berkeley a lead of 11,000 over Rominger his nearest opponent, with Snyder third and Breed fourth in the race.

GRAND OPERA STAR HAD TO LEAVE STAGE

Mme. Mantelli Restored To Health By Tanlac—"I Cannot Praise It Too Highly," She Says.

A statement of unusual interest was recently received at the Tanlac office from Mme. Jean Mantelli, the noted grand opera singer, who was formerly a member of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York, where she achieved distinction as leading contralto, singing on the same stage with Melba, Nordica, Calve, Fances, Scarpia, Jean and Edward de Reszke, and other stars of the first magnitude. A few years ago Mme. Mantelli was forced by ill health to retire from the operatic stage. She is now living in Portland, Ore., where she has an apartment in the Royal Annex building, 350 1/2 Morrison street, and in telling of her experience with Tanlac said:

"I feel that I cannot praise Tanlac too highly, for it has done me more real good than all the other medicines I have ever taken put together.

"About eight years ago," she continued, "while traveling in the south I left Havana for Chicago, in the dead of winter, where the thermometer was 18 degrees below zero, and this was the beginning of serious trouble for me. The sudden change brought on such a severe cold that I almost completely lost my voice and was obliged to leave the stage. I went to California to work in moving pictures, but my health failing, I had to give that up, too. I decided to rest a while, and try to build myself up, but got steadily worse. I lost my appetite everything tasted alike, and I couldn't enjoy eating a thing. My kidneys were in such a terrible condition that I thought at times the pain in my back would drive me distracted. My lower limbs and feet were so awfully swollen I couldn't stand up at all, and my nerves were in such a wretched state that, with my kidneys worrying me so much, I could not rest at night. I became so weak and rundown, and was so discouraged and miserable that I didn't care what happened.

"I was actually down in bed when one day I read a statement about Tanlac that impressed me so much that I just got out of bed and went to the 'phone to order a bottle. The druggist couldn't send it at once so I asked a stranger passing through the hall to get it for me. Well, he did and by the next morning I was feeling much improved. After this my nights were more restful and I slept better than I had in some time. I continued the treatment and it wasn't long before every bit of the swelling had gone out of my limbs and feet, and I was able to get up and walk about. I am just starting on my third bottle now, and really, I can hardly eat enough to satisfy my appetite and I really enjoy all my meals. My kidneys don't worry me at all now and I am free from that awful misery in my back. I sleep like a baby, and am so much better in every way that I am now telling my friends what a wonderful medicine Tanlac is, and have written to my daughter in New York advising her to take it."

Tanlac is sold in Hubbard by Hubbard Drug Co., in Mt. Angel by Ben Gosh, in Gervais by John Kelly, in Turner by H. P. Cornelius, in Woodburn by Lyman B. Shorey, in Salem by Dr. S. C. Stone, in Silverton by Geo. A. Steelhammer, in Gates by Mrs. J. P. McCurdy and in Stayton by C. A. Beauchamp. (Adv.)

Madge Kennedy Doffs The Bridal Veil And Becomes A Crook

No sooner does a film player score a success in parts of a certain kind than he or she begins to burn with an ambition to do something different. Any number of emotional heroine hankers to skim through light comedies, and everyone knows that comedians yearn to play Hamlet, or Macbeth. So it is with Madge Kennedy, star in Goldwyn pictures. Recently she confessed to a sympathetic interviewer that she would hazard her all on a production of Charlotte Corday, though with characteristic sanity the piquant comedienne added that no one would take her seriously if she did get the chance to be Marat's slayer on the screen.

Yet by holding to the thought of doing something different, of being a heroine of another sort, the little wife of "Baby Mine" and "Nearly Married" is getting nearer to the serious side of feminine character. It is happening in "The Danger Game," her newest Goldwyn production to be seen at the Liberty theatre today.

on the front lines, but last night the entire front echoed to the roaring and pounding of guns on both sides. There were infantry combats throughout the day. In many instances American patrols penetrated beyond the main German line and brought prisoners in. Organized and individual expeditions hunted up machine gun nests, and exterminated them.

Tanks encountered stiff going in some places but continued to operate, even when many of their crews were wounded.

It is now permissible to describe the arrival of the Americans in this part of the battle front. Throughout Tuesday, Tuesday night and Wednesday, American men, guns and wagons, wound up roads, through valleys which concealed vast plateaus. They passed over round conquered by the First and Second divisions when the Americans first fought in the Soissons region. Late Wednesday just as the news of the repulse of a German counterattack came in, I saw an entire American battery silhouetted against the dark sky, the men lashing their horses as they hurried up along the very peak of a long rise. Meantime infantry and machine gunners were moving along the road and across the fields. The movement Wednesday in conjunction with the French was carried out without great initial resistance.

The Americans advanced their line slightly across a plateau which was deeply pitted with shell craters. In a edge in the rear prisoners were being gathered in an almost endless stream.

War Summary of United Press

1488th Day of the War; 44th Day of Counter Offensive

Paris front—Piercing of the German line south of Peronne where British patrols crossed the river, is the most important achievement since the Hindenburg line was broken east of Arras.

Peronne, which, next to Ham, is the most important railway center within the German salient, is now invested from the west and out flanked from the south. This operation also threatens to flank Ham from the north. These successes, together with the capture of Noyon, have rendered practically untenable the new Somme line which the Germans sought to establish from north of Peronne to Noyon. In addition to crossing the Somme the British began a new attack south of the town this morning and were reported to be progressing favorably. They have already penetrated four miles south of the Hindenburg line in this region. The French have made further progress south of Peronne, while between the Ailette and the Aisne, French and American troops are striking eastward through the heights protecting the Chemin-des-Dames ridge from the west.

Flanders front—British troops advanced along the Lys and Lawe valleys.

Aisne-Vesle front—German raids last night were repulsed.

Champagne front—French troops broke up German raids last night.

Lorraine front—American airmen shot down a German airplane near Pont A-Mousson.

Vosges front—German raiding and patrol encounters are increasing.

Austria-Hungary—Martial law has been proclaimed in the Vinokovce district, where deserters have turned out.

Russia—The population at Kieff is reported to be starving.

Persia—Persia is reported to be on the verge of declaring war against Turkey.

of a well informed officer in General Horn's army today.

"The German army is beaten," this officer declared. He is a cool, practical thinker, who had not before been influenced by the fluctuating German morale. "Their morale is down to stay," he added. "We've got them whipped."

The Itching and Sting of Blazing, Fiery Eczema

Seems Like the Skin Is on Fire.

There is a harassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only delay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source.

The source of Eczema is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., for this remedy so thoroughly cleanses the blood that no impurities can remain. Get a bottle to-day at any drugstore, and you will see results from the right treatment. Write for expert medical advice, which you can get without cost, by addressing Medical Director, 21 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

One tank placed itself across a short trench, enflading and driving out the boche. The doughboys said they did not see how the tank was going to get off, but it climbed on across without any trouble.

When the Americans encountered several strings of caves into which the boche had retired, they used great numbers of grenades with telling effect. From the heights where the Americans and French are fighting, the spires of Soissons cathedral are visible.

Machine guns were found everywhere. The wounded say that every other boche appeared to have a machine gun. They are cared for in dressing stations safely located in the depths of caves. They said they suffered more from the cold at night, waiting for the attack than during the fighting.

The sky swarmed with aeroplanes during the day. One boche climbed the French patrols shot down two observation balloons in rapid succession. As the sauses were still falling in flames, the boche darted back toward his lines with French planes in pursuit. But he got away.

The artillery fire slackened in the rear areas at mid day and concentrated

PERONNE IN DANGER.

(By Lowell Mellett, United Press staff correspondent)

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 30.—The British today had Peronne under the same direct and flanking threat which resulted in the fall of Bapaume.

Bapaume is a picture of desolation, almost as complete as that of Albert. At noon the Australians faced Peronne, across the Somme from the south and had reached almost within striking distance on the north side of the river.

All bridges have been smashed, except at Clerly, toward which the Australians advanced on both sides of the river.

Along the river below Peronne the Germans are withdrawing their field guns. Their heavy pieces already are some distance behind the city.

Cambes has been taken together with a battery of field guns. Comparatively few prisoners have been reported. So far only 200 have been taken on the river below Peronne.

While visiting Bapaume this morning the only evidence I saw of the Germans was an occasional shell dropping in the town. The British guns, ready to move immediately were making the air vibrate with shells directed toward Beaumont on the road toward Peronne and Premicourt, on the road toward Cambrai, which ruins the boches are evidently trying to keep for the present.

Sequel To Love For Doll

Maternal Instinct Greatly Developed by Teaching Children to Love their Dolls

The little child's doll is mother to the most romantic fairy. And in the years that pass, the doll fades into the petals of a June rose, to evolve the most wonderful of all transformations.

And now comes a more serious period when the joy of real motherhood should be as tranquil as best efforts can provide. This is accomplished with a wonderful remedy known as Mother's Friend. An external application so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate the myriad network of cords, tendons, nerves and muscles join beneath the skin of the abdomen.

It relieves the tension, prevents tenderness and pain at the crisis and enables the abdomen to expand gently. The muscles contract naturally after baby arrives and the form is thus preserved.

It should be applied daily, night and morning, during the period of expectancy. By regular use it enables the abdomen to relax without the usual strain when baby is born—Natalist, pain and danger at the time is less.

You will find Mother's Friend on sale at every drug store. It is prepared only by the Bradford, Regulator Co., Inc., Lansing, Mich., Atlanta, Ga. They will send you an attractive "Motherhood Book" without charge. Write them to mail it to you. Do not neglect for a single morning or night to use Mother's Friend.
