

SOCIETY

By MAEL GARRETT

As one looks back upon the summer days that are fast slipping away, he senses immediately the new atmosphere that has prevailed in society life. The extravagant and lavish entertaining that formerly has been prevalent is decidedly out of date and although war benefits and similar affairs have been carried on with energy, there is not a twinge of regret for the former life. The need of the patriotic work has somehow mysteriously fascinated people and captured their attention so they do not feel comfortable unless they are doing their part at least along some of the many opportunities offered.

It matters not what type of personality one possesses in this great work of helping every type is recognized. For the practical person there are continually opportunities given for sewing for the Red Cross; or if one prefers cooking she may help with the canning of fruit at the high school where such quantities are being preserved for use in the soldiers hospitals.

The Belgian Fete was an incentive for those of an artistic nature to lend their aid in arranging the artistic and clever booths.

The beauty of all patriotic work is the democratic nature of it; one phase is as worthy and dignified as any other so that all classes and natures can work together with a common sympathy.

Of interest socially was the wedding which was solemnized Wednesday at 10 o'clock in Portland when Eazel Williams and Miss Eleanor Fellows were united. The wedding which took place at the First Christian church, officiated by H. B. Griffith officiating, was a pleasing in every detail. The bride was lovely in a blue satin and white accessories to match and a beautiful hat of the new corded effect.

The affair was very quiet only the immediate relatives were present. After the wedding the couple left for Seaside and other beach resorts. They are expected home next week when they will be at home in the Court Apartments.

Miss Kay has many friends in Portland where she has lived for some time. She is the daughter of D. Fellows.

Mr. Kay, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Kay, is assistant manager of the Kay Woolen Mills. At the University of Oregon where he graduated, he was a Sigma Nu fraternity man and has always been popular socially.

The home of Mrs. E. Hofer, 763 North Commercial street was the scene of a pretty party Monday afternoon when Mrs. Hofer was the charming hostess in honor of Mrs. Anna Hofer from California.

An artistic profusion of bright-colored summer flowers lent a pleasing effect to the room. Knitting was the happy diversion of the afternoon. Mrs. Hofer was assisted in the serving by her sister, Miss McKinney, and her daughter, Mrs. Allen Byson, and Miss Marie Hofer.

The guests invited to this afternoon affair were Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Mrs. R. S. Wallace, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. Charles Parks, Mrs. G. S. Gephart of Los Angeles, Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. H. B. Thielens, Mrs. Charles Snyder, Mrs. Mae L. Kellog of Alaska, Mrs. A. L. Brown.

Mrs. George F. Rodgers, who has been spending the most of the summer at Astoria returned to Salem last week. Mrs. Rodgers is expected today for the week end.

Mrs. F. A. Wiggins of Toppenish, Washington, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Albert for several days and Miss Helen Rose, will accompany the Rodgers when they return to Astoria the first of the week.

About the middle of September Miss Margaret Rodgers expects to leave for the east where she will resume her college work at Wellesley college.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton at 1535 State street, was the scene of a happy dinner party Thursday evening in honor of Clarence Burnett, a brother of Mrs. Fullerton. Centering the table was an artistic bowl of yellow marigolds which were in harmony with the other summer flowers used in the room. The dinner was a family affair as only the relatives were guests. Mr. Burnett, who has been spending the summer here left last night for Seattle, where he will visit for a time before journeying east to his home in Ottumwa, Iowa. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnett, Mrs. Ada Petram and two children, Donald and Melv, Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton and the guest of honor, Clarence Burnett.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fargo of 1085 North Church street are entertaining as their guests their niece, Mrs. Laura Knott, and Mrs. Emily Fargo. Mrs. Knott and her husband have been in New York studying music for several seasons. At present he is in the south and she is spending the summer visiting relatives and friends in the west. Before coming here she visited in Walla Walla and Portland.

Mrs. Emily Fargo, mother of W. H. Fargo, has been visiting at the Fargo home for several weeks also.

When she returns to her home in Spokane about the first of September she will be accompanied by her grand daughter, Mrs. Knott.

Among those who left this week after an extended visit in Salem were Mrs. Anna Hofer and her two daughters, the Misses Marie and Dorothy Hofer. They have been spending the month of August at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hofer, 763 South Commercial street.

While here they accompanied the Hofer's to Newport where they enjoyed a vacation at the Hofer's summer home. Mrs. Hofer and daughters will go directly from here to their home in Pasadena.

Miss Lyra Miles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, 993 Court street, expects to leave the latter part of next week for the east. She plans to do post graduate work in Columbia university in the departments of philosophy and education. On her way back she will visit in Richmond, Indiana, for a week and will then go on to New York where she will pursue her studies this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Albert returned the latter part of last week from a trip of three weeks in California where they visited at San Francisco, Santa Cruz and various other places.

Easterly people who have come west for the purpose of attending the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic have taken advantage of the opportunity to visit their western friends and relatives. Those visiting in Salem has been the inspiration of many motoring trips and various informal affairs.

Monday afternoon the home of Mrs. G. E. Terwilliker, 776 Chemeketa street was the scene of a delightfully informal party when Mrs. Florence Spencer and Mrs. Lizzie W. Smith of the Woman's Relief Corps, entertained in honor of Miss Cora Harris, department president of Wisconsin, and her sister Mrs. Adell Ballard, department secretary. Mrs. Julietta Morris, past department president of Wisconsin, Mrs. Anna Bell Roberts, past department president of Maryland, and Commander Carl of Colorado and Wyoming. The rooms had been decorated in flags and palms quite appropriate to the patriotic spirit of the times. During the afternoon the guests enjoyed music and informal talks from various ones present. Later refreshments were served by Miss Marie Cook.

These women were formerly friends and co-workers in the east in the work of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Miss Ballard and Miss Harris left Wednesday noon for California, where they will stop a short time before returning home.

Mrs. Morris will remain for several weeks as the guest of Mrs. Spencer.

A group of Salem people who enjoyed a delightful motoring trip on the Columbia highway and up to Mt. Hood returned the middle of the week.

Those who participated in this trip were Mrs. Ella Watt, Miss Leona Peterson, Mrs. Laura Osborne and Mrs. Mattie Endicott. Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Endicott are guests of Mrs. Watt from Petaluma, California.

Miss Lizzie Wyatt Smith has been entertaining several of her friends who attended the G. A. R. convention this week at her home, 1883 Center street. Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Hall of Ashland have been visiting her and renewing former friendships as they were residents of Salem about eighteen years ago.

Mrs. Alice Mallory of Grants Pass, who was an officer on the press work in connection with the G. A. R. convention, has also been a guest of Mrs. Smith. She and the Halls plan to leave tonight for their homes in southern Oregon.

Miss Laura Purvine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Purvine, 1009 Fifth street left recently for a vacation at various points on the lower Columbia. Among other places she will visit at Astoria and Seaview, Washington, where she will be the guest of Mrs. Fred Wright.

Miss Purvine expects to return in about three weeks. She has been employed for several months at the state library, but she expects to enter Willamette university this fall.

Miss Elma Weller returned this week from San Francisco, where she has been studying piano with noted masters during the summer.

The Rt. Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, bishop of the diocese of Oregon and Mrs. Sumner are expected home

Orville Crowder Miller, son of Professor Della Crowder Miller, arrived recently to spend the winter with his mother. Mr. Miller for the past year has been teaching public speaking at Blinn college North Carolina. This winter he plans to study at the university and to assist his mother, who is head of the department of public speaking at Willamette university. Before coming west Mr. Miller spent several weeks visiting and studying in Boston. They will have apartments on Perry street.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Crowder who came west for the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, left this week after spending a short time with Professor Miller. Rev. Crowder, who is Professor Miller's father, is past state commander of Illinois.

From here Rev. and Mrs. Crowder went on to Los Angeles, where they will visit a short time before returning to their home in Decatur, Illinois.

Miles Miller arrived Thursday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Miller, 666 North High street. Mr. Miller is pharmacist mate in the hospital corps on the U. S. S. Mercy hospital boat now stationed at Hampton Roads, Virginia. He is now home for a furlough of ten days.

Mr. Miller's sister son, Fred, is also in the navy. He is a fireman on the Leviathan transport which is the largest in the world. Just recently he has returned from his fifth trip across the Atlantic.

Yesterday Mrs. Frank Myers entertained at her home on Chemeketa and Cottage street, Mrs. Hugh Williamson and two children, Walter and Josephine, and Mrs. Homer Gouley of Hopmets. Mrs. Williamson is well known in Salem.

Miss Fannie Chamberlain, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Chamberlain, announced her betrothal to Horace W. Tevis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Tevis, at a smart tea given recently in Portland by Miss Coraella Tevis. The announcement which came as a surprise to the guests was greeted with good wishes. The date for the wedding has not been set as yet.

In speaking of the bride-elect the Oregonian says: "Miss Chamberlain was educated in Washington, D. C., where Senator Chamberlain and family have lived for several years. The bride-elect also attended Miss Oatlin's school in Portland. She made her formal debut here, but spent the winter following in Washington and has been at Long Beach, Wash., for the season, and so has not been in the city for many of the recent social affairs. Miss Chamberlain is a charming and interesting girl and socially popular."

"Mr. Tevis is in the lumber business. He is connected with the L. B. Menefee Lumber company, of which his father is vice president. He also is manager of the Black Diamond Lumber company, of Winlock, Wash. He was graduated from Washington high school and later attended business college and took special studies that fitted him for his present work. Mr. Tevis is a cousin of Lloyd Tevis of San Francisco, and is socially prominent and popular in clabbond."

Mrs. Anna Bell Roberts, past department president of Maryland, left yesterday for her home in Baltimore. She attended the meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic in Portland and since then has been visiting Mrs. Lizzie Smith.

Miss Mary Eyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eyre, 1973 Mill street, is planning to leave the latter part of next week for North Bend. Miss Eyre, who graduated from Willamette university in June, will be one of the instructors in the department of history in the North Bend high school.

Wednesday evening a jolly picnic was enjoyed by the employees and managers of Gale and company. The affair was the third annual one that has been given. The party met at the children's play grounds where all the usual jollity and gaiety of a picnic was enjoyed with the fun of a blazing bon fire and of toasting buns and "wienies." Those making up the party were Miss Bertha Gale, Miss Evelyn Greenleaf, Miss Mabel Bradford, Miss Edna Waldorf, Mrs. Ella Cooley, Miss Mae Seeley, Mr. and Mrs. William Christian and daughter, Carolyn, Lawrence Gale and M. Gale.

Miss Teresa Fowle returned recently from a month's vacation in Washington state, where she visited Seattle, Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Olympia and Aberdeen. Miss Fowle expects to leave soon for North Bend, where she will teach English in the North Bend high school during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay O. Smith and two children, Lawrence and Robert, of 1023 North Church street, are enjoying their vacation at Pacific City. They are planning to stay until the second week in September.

Frank Churchill and his mother have returned after enjoying a fortnight's visit with relatives in Walla Walla.

Last week end Mrs. Nina Hoshine left for Portland, where she will accept a responsible position with the Northwest Lumber company. Her little son, Burt, will enter Hills Military school for boys this winter. For the past three years, Mrs. Hoshine has been well known as the cashier at the Liberty theater.

A very quiet wedding occurred yesterday when Miss Florence Elizabeth Luebke became the bride of Osmer L. Lathrop. The ceremony was performed at eleven thirty at the home of the groom's parents, 303 South Winter street, with Rev. E. N. Arison officiating, in the presence of a few immediate relatives.

AT THE LIBRARY.

"Keeping our fighters fit" by E. F. Allen under the supervision of Chairman Fiedick of the Commission on training camp activities. It is a book of information about what is being done for the comfort, the happiness and efficiency of the men in camp. There are chapters on athletics, singing, the library system, entertainment and hostess houses.

"Blown in by the draft" camp yarns collected at one of the great national army cantonments by an amateur war correspondent, Fraser Hunt.

"The dark people, Russia's crisis" by Ernest Poole. This is a history of the Russia of the war, showing especially the constructive forces that are building up the nation. Mr. Poole was in Russia in 1917.

"Two towns—one city; Paris-London," by John F. MacDonald who has been called "the interpreter to England of the spirit of France." The book pictures the two cities before the war and again in war time.

"Keeping up with William" in which the Honorable Secretary Potter talks of the relative merits of seagulls common and preferred by the author of "Keeping up with Lizzie," Irving Beckeller. William, of course, is the kaiser.

MRS. LOIS LUCILE JUNK TO GIVE SONG RECITAL THURSDAY NIGHT NEXT

Salem Will Have Chance To Hear Salem Composer Interpret Music

In the song recital to be given by Lois Lucile Junk next Thursday evening at the First Methodist church the music loving people of Salem will be given an opportunity to hear a Salem composer make her debut to the musical world. For the concert is to be her first public appearance in which only her own compositions will be sung. She will be assisted by some of the leading musical talent in the city.

While Mrs. Junk has not lived in the city for the past five or six years, she may be included in Salem's musical talent as her childhood days were passed here. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Peebles. Mr. Peebles will be remembered as superintendent of the city schools, county superintendent of schools and later vice president of the state normal of eastern Oregon.

As a child Lois Peebles was well known in Salem's musical circles. She really began her musical career at the age of three years when she sang as soloist in one of the cantatas given at the First Methodist church. From her first appearance in concert, she sang in many of the musical events in the city and for two years was soloist of the First Presbyterian church here.

Twelve years ago she married Herbert Lee Junk, a mining engineer and since that time has lived mostly in Berkeley, California.

While giving her time to singing and piano playing, Mrs. Junk felt the inspiration of composing but not until with the past few years has she sought the approval of the public in offering her compositions to the public in sheet music form. Finally through the urging of friends her compositions were submitted to publishers in San Francisco and having met with such a decided favorable reception, she has been urged to continue her work as a composer. And for this purpose, after appearing in Salem and later in Portland, she will leave for the east.

One of her first experiences that encouraged her to continue her work of composing was the approbation of Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras. She set to music his poem "The Dove" which she sang to him at a musical gathering in Oakland.

With the exception of one or two numbers, the recital on Thursday evening will be entirely compositions of Mrs. Junk. Two of her songs recently published, "Yearnings" and "Faithful," will be sung by Mrs. Junk while Ralph Zeeher will sing "Love's Reply." These are the three songs that have been presented to the Salem public in sheet music form.

"To Hell with the Kaiser!" This exclamation has been said, either silently or aloud, by patriotic Americans and lovers of decency everywhere. Everyone agrees that the monster of Europe is not fit to live anywhere else. But in this multiple reel screen classic, feature, the expression is taken literally. The Berlin beast is actually shown in "the hot place." How he gets there, and what becomes of him after his arrival, form an interesting part of this wonderful picture.

It is only a pari, however, mingled with events now in actual progress, romance and vivid drama. A family of Americans living in Europe are among the leading characters, and are instrumental in bringing about the tremendous denouement. Alice Monroe demands dire penalty for the fate that overtakes her little sister at the hands of the dastardly crown prince.

"To Hell with the Kaiser" is the greatest arraignment of Prussianism and the Hohenzollerns ever made. It is America's challenge to bestiality and "frightfulness."

Will be shown for four days starting tomorrow, Sunday Sept. 1, at regular big feature prices. Adults 25c, children 10c, at the Liberty theater.

Music War Necessity--

The music business is classed as an essential. Music is not a luxury, even in times of peace. Many great battles have been won by soldiers singing. The music at home fills a place made vacant by those we love who have gone to the front to fight for Democracy. This great necessity (music) in homes is supplied by
