It would be a favor to the University if any one knowing of a suitable house close in would telephone. Recently several complaints have been telephoned to the city hall regarding the riding of bicycles on sidewalks by children. In some localities it seems the children are doing some fast riding and have adopted the motto of let the pedestrian beware. Ordinance 1401 of the city of Salem reads: 'It shall be unlawful to ride a bicycle upon any sidewalk abutting upon any street that is improved with a hard surface pavement or to ride a bicycle in any public park.' If complaints continue to come in of children disregarding the bicycle ordinance, it is probable the city authorities will take some action to stop it. The address was on the lines of how to be courteous and decent to the inquiring public, notwithstanding the fact one is in the government's railroad service. It seems that it has become necessary throughout the country to continually remind railroad employees that courtesy is a fine thing to have on hand in dealing with the public. Postoffice Cashes $5,000 Worth Of War Stamps Names May Be Published

More than $5000 worth of War Savings stamps have been cashed at the Salem postoffice since the government has been offering them to the people as a means of raising money to continue the war. Today stamps to the value of $216 were cashed in. The law provides that postoffice officials must be given a ten day notice in writing before any postoffice shall cash a war savings certificate. While it has not been customary to publish names, there is a possibility that this may be done should people continue to cash in their stamps. The primary object of the government in selling stamps in small amounts was to secure funds and if this after they were purchased should continue and become general, the object in placing them before the people would to some extent be defeated. A record is kept in the postoffice of those who cash their stamps. It has been suggested that this practice of buying and then within a short time cashing stamps is at the least, most un patriotic and a trifle suggestive of playing patriotism in buying stamps and then not living up to it.

COURTESY TO PUBLIC URGED ON EMPLOYEES

Director General McAdoo Issues Instructions Which Will Be Heeded.

P. H. Tynan one of the oldest conductors on the road, in point of service, and C. M. Andrews district freight agent are in the city today on a special mission of a good deal of importance to the public as well as to railroad men. They are seeking to impress upon all employees the importance of showing courtesy to all with whom they come in contact in the discharge of their duties. This is in accordance with Director General McAdoo's orders that war efficiency is first, courtesy to the public next, in the operation of the railroad lines under government control. On this subject, Mr. McAdoo says: 'For many years it was popularly believed that "the public be damned" policy was the policy of the railroads under private control. Such a policy is indefensible either under private control or government control. It would be particularly indefensible under public control when railroad employees are the direct servants of the public. "The public be damned" policy will in no circumstances be tolerated on the railroads under government control. Every employee of the railroad should take pride in serving the public courteously and efficiently. Courtesy costs nothing and when it is dispensed, it makes friends of the public and adds to the self-respect of the employee. My attention has also been called to the fact that employees have sometimes offered as an excuse for their own shortcomings, or as a justification for delayed trains or other difficulties the statement that "Uncle Sam is running the railroads now" or "These are McAdoo's orders," etc. Nothing could be more reprehensible than statements of this character, and nothing could be more hurtful to the success of the railroad administration or to the welfare of railroad employees themselves. No doubt, those who have made them have done so thoughtlessly in most instances, but the harm is just as great if a thing of this sort is done thoughtlessly as if it is done deliberately. There are many people who for partisan or selfish purposes wish government operation of the railroads to be a failure. Every employee who is discourteous to the public or makes excuses or statements of the kind I have described, is helping those partisan or selfish interests to discredit government control of railroads.'

Messrs. Tynan and Andrews held a meeting with the Salem railroad employees today and were assured of their hearty cooperation in meeting the wishes of Director General McAdoo.

shall not have attained their forty sixth birthday on or before the day set for registration by the president, must register. There are several exceptions that do not apply to the average man. If a young man has celebrated his 38th birthday or does so on Sept. 12, he must register. For the older man, if he has passed his 46th birthday, need not register. But if he is 45 years old he must register. This information is given in response to an inquiry as to whether a man who has passed his 45th birthday should register. He should. But if he has passed his 46th birthday, he need not register. The man from 46 to 50 years of age may get in the army by voluntary enlistment.
