ANNUAL TAX BILL AFTER WAR CLOSES WILL BE VERY HEAVY

Four Billion Dollars Yearly Will Be Necessary For Explosives.

By L. C. Martin,
(United Press staff correspondent)
Washington, Sept. 7.—America's annual tax bill after the war will be at least $4,000,000,000, Representative Kitchin, chairman of the ways and means committee predicted today, opening debate on the $8,000,000,000 war tax bill. A billion a year for pensions, a billion more for the army and navy and $1,250,000,000 interest on war bonds will take the bulk of $4,000,000,000 each year for years after peace is declared. "And, we will raise these after the war taxes out of greatly diminished profits," said Kitchin. "They will come out of 10 cent cotton, $1.50 coal and $3 shoes."

Notice was served today on the group of congressional politicians trying to delay passage of the war tax bill until after election that their plan can not go through. Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee, declared: "We will not let the revenue bill drag over until after election." Simmons admitted he had heard of the plan to delay the bill. He said "certain house members" were responsible. He did not add, as he might have, that certain senators are also agreeable to the plan. The only chance those favoring the delay now have of trying up the measure until after election is by getting the house to recess, and thereby delaying house action necessary to send the bill to conference after the senate is through with it.

Most members of both houses are puzzled to know what advantage can be secured by postponing the measure. They point out that the whole country knows that there will be a tax bill and that it is going to hit war profits, incomes and luxuries heavily. But a certain few have figured out that if the bill is held off, with its provisions with respect to the industries and businesses of their particular sections still undecided, they will be able to gather more votes by promising to see that the bill is "made right" before it finally passes. The bill comes up in the house today. It is expected to pass within ten days. At the same time the senate finance committee begins hearings so as to be ready to re-write the measure as soon as it passes the house. Finance committee members hope to send it to the senate no later than September 15 and much ahead of that if possible.

OBITUARY SKETCH.

Fred Carl was born Dec. 20th, 1858 in Bavaria, Germany, and died August 23rd, 1918 at the home of his son, August G. Carl. In 1867 he was married to Carolina Wuestner, who preceded him to the home above on April 21, 1910. Their union was blessed with eleven children of whom five have gone before to the home above. The surviving children who are left to mourn his death are Mrs. Godfred Winkler, of Noel, Mo., Mrs. Henry Marsh of Callaway, Neb., William Carl of Omaha, Neb., Fred Carl of Campbell, Neb., and August Carl of Salem, Ore., and twenty grandchildren and a host of friends. In 1886 Mr. Carl and his family left Germany and came to America and settled on a farm near Clatsonia, Neb. and there he became acquainted with the Methodist church and it was there he found the peace which passes all understanding by surrendering himself entirely to Jesus. He led a happy Christian life and in later years he took great pleasure in telling of his conversion. In 1904 he came to Salem, Ore., and has resided here until his death and after his companion had been taken

SCOTTS MILLS ITEMS

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Scotts Mills, Ore., Sept. 7.—The harvesting of prunes is on here in full force. There are many workers from different localities come in to help in the work and everybody is busy from the children to old folks.

The Church of Education of this place have found it quite difficult to secure suitable teachers. Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Coulson and little son David, of Newberg, visited last week with friends and relatives here. Miss Lulu Dale attended Normal at Oregon City and then visited with her sister, Mrs. Milton Shipley, of Oswego, for a few days. Miss Lulu will teach west of town the coming fall and winter.

The Union Christian Endeavor was held at the Christian church and was quite interesting. Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Coover of California visited last week at the home of W. H. Commons and others of this place. They also visited their grandchild, Mrs. Leota Seharbach of Mr. Angel. Mr. Coover was a former resident of Scotts Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Escondido, Calif., visited in our town on their way from attending the G. A. R. encampment at Portland. Mr. Thompson is an old veteran of the Civil War. Mr. and Mrs. Lents, also of Escondido, Calif., stopped here on their return from the G. A. R. encampment at Portland. They were former residents of this place.

Miss Sophie Towne of Portland is spending the week with her nephew, L. J. White and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and little son visited with their parents and other relatives here last Sunday and Monday, returning home Monday evening.

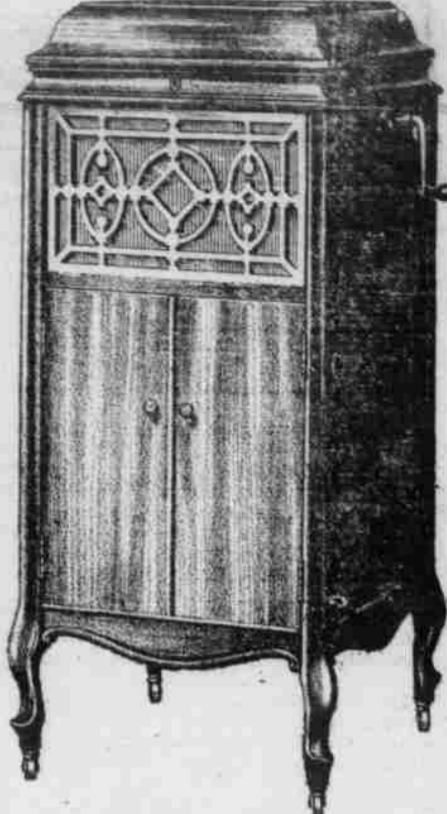

C. B. Adkins of Pipestone, Minn., has returned home from visiting his father, S. D. Adkins and family. Dr. Lutgen of Montana is visiting his son, E. J. Lutgen and family. Mrs. Margery Adkins Asbo and children of Coos Bay, is visiting her parents and other relatives here. J. A. Taylor and C. A. Adleman made a business trip to Salem last Saturday.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL RESEMBLE ARMY TRAINING CAMP

Uniforms And Military Drill Will Be Feature of Salem School Course.

No more are readin' an' writin' an' 'rithmetic taught to the tune of a hickory stick. This is now the military age, and instead of the persuasive methods of a generation ago, we will have this fall in the high school the spruce young gentlemen in the military suit who will do his parading not only before the eyes of the admiring yoemenettes of the high school, but as he may appear in his daily walk in the city. For the high school boys are to be trained not only in the many useful pursuits of life, such as in the trades manual school, but in the military arts as well. And in order that a proper military spirit may be instilled into the budding youths, he will only be seen in uniform. Military training will be compulsory for the young men attending the Salem high school. Each will be obliged to uniform himself in the regulation uniform. While this may incur some additional expense at first, it will really be an economical proposition. School days will begin Monday, September 30, according to announcement of Superintendent Todd. For the high school pupils, several changes are in store besides that of compulsory military drill for the boys. There will be double periods of study and recitation. Under the new plan,

The BRUNSWICK PHONOGRAPH

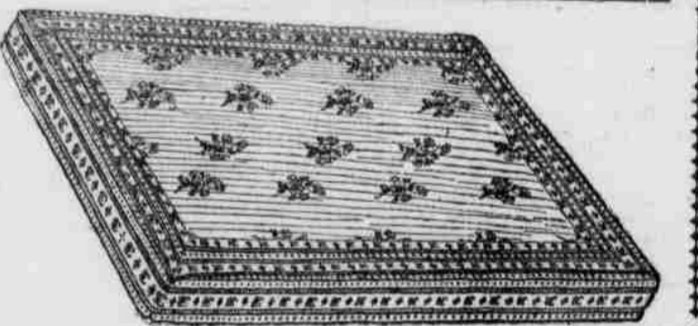

There are several makes of phonographs which play ALL MAKES OF RECORDS--But no other machine has a reproducer so accurately adopted to each make as the Brunswick. Its tone with all makes of records sells it. More than handsome cabinets, more than its convenient features, more than the fair prices, it is the Tonal Quality of its reproductions, with all makes of records that determines people to choose the Brunswick. The voice is reproduced in a rich natural tone, heretofore unknown to other leading makes of phonographs.

GIVE THE RED CROSS AN OLD TIRE

the student will study and recite with the same teacher. This plan has been satisfactorily tried and worked out in the Seattle schools, Everett, Astoria, and a number of the advanced schools in the east. The new plan will give one and one half hours a day to academic subjects instead of 45 minutes and three hours a day to the boys in the meta-trades school and to the girls in home economics.

Supreme Court Issues Habeas Corpus Writ

The supreme court today issued a writ of habeas corpus directing Sheriff J. V. Burns, of Clatsop county, to appear in court at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning and show cause, if any, why Jack Weensens, who is now confined in the Clatsop county jail, should not be released. Weensens is one of eight men who were arrested in Astoria last week for conducting alleged gambling games during the Regatta. He is being held on a commitment issued by Circuit Judge Eakin. In his petition for a writ of habeas corpus, he alleges that his confinement is illegal because no indictment has been returned by the grand jury charging him with any crime. He contends that he was conducting a game of skill instead of a game of chance. He sold cuff buttons and each purchase gave the buyer three throws at a group of cans. If one of the balls entered a can the thrower received a copper doll. He received a kewpie doll.  The Journal classified ads are great favorites with people who do things--Try one. *****
