the British, less resistance from the Huns, or both.

Total allied captures in 1918 are approximately 150,000 prisoners and 2,100 guns or about one gun for every 60 prisoners. Plainly the German soldiers have improved only in running.

Counter Attacks Fail

London, Sept. 12.—Determined German resistance taking the form of sharp counter attacks at certain points and British assaults on positions before the Hindenburg line were reported in night official statements of the allied war offices. The fighting was only light sparring and maneuvering for position, compared with the heavy battles of past weeks.

Field Marshal Haig announced his troops had advanced north of Ephey on the Hindenburg line, taking some prisoners.

Near Verdun, northwest of St. Quentin, the British pushed forward during the day. The ridge west of Gouvaucourt, held by the British, was again attacked but Haig by gun fire repulsed the enemy. German artillery near Havrincourt, wood on the Cambrai front is developing "considerable activity," Haig said.

In Flanders the British further improved their positions.

French troops during Wednesday merely held their gains against counter attacks. Six of these were hurled at the allied line near Lauffaux and Colles-Sur-Aisne. The allies, including Americans, "menace the Chemin des Dames and the enemy's Aisne river positions from the western flank."

Attacking down the high road from St. Quentin to Ham, the Germans struck French forces southeast of Roupy, it was announced, but were beaten and repulsed.

Berlin's night report said the day on the battle front passed quietly.

British Capture Towns

London, Sept. 12.—Attilly, Vermand, and Vendelles, northwest of St. Quentin, have been captured by the British, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

On the front before Cambrai the British crossed the Canal Du Nord.

Attacking during the night the British seized the powerfully fortified railway triangle southwest of LaBassee, in Flanders.

The statement said:

"We crossed the Canal Du Nord, northwest of Havrincourt, and established ourselves on the west bank of the canal east and north of Moeuvres. During the night we attacked and captured the strongly fortified position known as the railway triangle southwest of LaBassee, taking a number of prisoners and machine guns."

"Yesterday evening we captured Attilly, Vermand and Vendelles. During the night we progressed to the western outskirts of Holnon wood. The English in successful local operations yesterday afternoon in the Havrincourt and Moeuvres sector overcame considerable opposition."

New Defense Line

Paris, Sept. 12.—The Germans are constructing a new line of defense from Antwerp to Metz, according to advice here today. The forts of Antwerp are being restored and improved. When completed the new defense system will be known as the Parafal line.

A line of defense such as described in this dispatch would run across the middle of Belgium down to Metz, the important fortress of Alsace. To reach such a line would mean surrendering all of France and half of Belgium.

Little Air Activity

London, Sept. 12.—Very little activity in the air on September 10, owing to heavy storms was reported in the British aviation communiqué.

"Owing to continued and heavy rainstorms on September 10 aerial observation was very difficult," said the statement.

"In spite of a high wind some work was accomplished during the fine intervals which occurred from time to time. Several reconnaissances were carried out by our machines, and some photographs were taken. One of our airplanes failed to return."

Berlin Official Report

Berlin, via London, Sept. 12.—"Northeast of Bisching, partial enemy attacks were repulsed," the war office announced today. "We also repulsed enemy advances near Armentieres and in LaBassee canal."

"Between the Ailette and the Aisne, artillery fire increased in the evening. On the heights eastward of Fismes French partial attacks were repulsed. We carried out successful reconnoitering operations in Lorraine and the Vosges."

"On the battle front during the day there were infantry engagements and in the evening violent artillery bombardments between the Arras-Pesonne roads and toward Cambrai. "At Marquain and Havrincourt, on the Canal Du Nord, English attacks and attempts to approach in the darkness failed."

Vienna Reports Actions

Vienna, via London, Sept. 12.—Patrol and artillery engagements were reported by the war office today. The statement said:

"In the Tyrol there was local patrol engagements. In the Asigone region we repulsed an enemy surprise attack with sanguinary losses. Artillery fighting continues on the Piave. We made a successful attack in Albania on the Tomorica ridge taking possession of the enemy's positions at a few points."

Sharp Local Fighting

Rome, Sept. 11.—Sharp local fighting at many points on the front was reported today by the war office.

French Surprise Enemy

Paris, Sept. 12.—"North of the Ailette a surprise attack by us captured some prisoners," the war office announced today. "In the regions of Rhims and Proseus there was artillery fire. In the Champagne and in the Vosges two enemy surprise attacks

G. A. R. Post Presents 133 Volumes To Public Library

The gift is prompted by the wish to insure safekeeping for what will be of increasing value with the passage of time, and even more by the generous desire to place valuable information where the public may have access to it. The presentation was made by Gideon Stolz, Mr. Huston and Mr. Byers.
