Turner Boy, Lloyd Cole, On Firing Line

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Turner, Or., Sept. 13.—The following is an extract of a letter from Lloyd Cole to his mother Mrs. Emma Cole, and tells of his share of work in the trenches:
“I am wounded and in the hospital, but nothing serious. I tried to stop a sharp shell and it exploded and struck me in the arm. I expect to be back with the bunch in a few days. I sure would rather be ‘at work’ than in the hospital.”

Hussey In Hospital.
Corp. Ralph M. Hussey, Battery C, 5th Field Artillery, is in the United States base hospital 24, Limoges, He Vienna. Ralph was severely wounded on June 9th and while his nurse writes to his mother, in regard to his grit and cheerfulness, Ralph writes that he will be crippled for life, he says his face nor hands have no scars but his body is covered with scars.

Massey Are Home.
Dr. George A. Massey and family are home from a month's vacation. The trip was made by auto through the McKenzie pass, west to Elk Lake where they camped for ten days resting and fishing, from there they took in Klamath Falls on to Doris, California, which the Dr. considers the “driest” wet town that he ever saw. On their return home Crater Lake was visited and coming back through Medford they headed straight for Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Small are to move back to the farm soon.
Ralph Farrens came home this week to register.
George E. Mason came home this week from Kerry, Wash.
Mrs. James M. Bones and daughters Maxine and Hildred spent Wednesday in Salem the guests of Mrs. John Bower of 292 North Church street.
Mrs. Florence Besse Shaffer is rapidly improving and will soon be well again.
R. O. Thomas was an over night visitor in Turner this week.
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lyle returned to their home Tuesday morning.
Mrs. Emma Cole came home Wednesday from southern Oregon, where she has been spending the past few weeks with her son DeLoos.
Madame Murray and Wilkison of Portland were house guests of Mrs. Henry W. Smith recently.
A sweet smile of welcome was on the face of Little Miss Miles as she met the Mill City Stage Wednesday evening to meet her aunt.
Mrs. Emma Green has moved into Salem. Walter Sherman, Jr., has rented the farm.
H. R. Peetz and three daughters, Helen, Ruby and Hazel are going to Portland Saturday and spend Sunday going over the Highway.
Mrs. Major Powell of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Rosman of Salem, are visiting at the home of Mr. M. A. Peck.
Born, September 1, 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Busby, a 6 1/2 pound boy. Elmer is a son of A. M. Busby of this place.
Mr. Tom Harris, great uncle of Mrs. Chavis, and old war veteran spent two days with Mrs. Chavis after attending the G. A. R. convention in Portland, he was accompanied by his two daughters, Mrs. Clara McDerby and Mrs. Eleanor Gotehell. Their home is at Crawford, Nebraska.

OLD-TIME SAILOR RETURNS TO THE SEA AT AGE OF 65

Dallas, Or., Sept. 13.—Frank H. Morrison, veteran contractor of Dallas, has succeeded, after several attempts, to enlist in the merchant marine. Mr. Morrison served in Uncle Sam's navy several years when a young man and, notwithstanding his 65 years of age, decided that the government needed him. So he again offered his services. He expects to leave Dallas this week for Portland, where he has been assigned to a quartermaster's position on the steamer Salmon, which is scheduled to leave that city at an early date. Mr. Morrison's family will make their home in this city during his absence.

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulsified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.
The pumpkins are just about ready for the front.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

Conserving the Candy Industry

It is not the wish of the government to disintegrate industry

When people realize the truth about the candy industry, they immediately see that candy is a wonderful food product, rich in nutritive values and a necessary food for people who work hard.

Sugar is recognized as a necessity. Yet few people take their requirements of sugar, a spoonful at a time like a big pill. Many people like the sugar in candy form. Thinking people realize that one man is entitled to his sugar in candy form as much as another is entitled to take his melted in coffee.

In 1916 (the last normal year in the industry), there were approximately 2500 candy factories in the United States, using about 8 per cent of the sugar used in the United States. (Really a much smaller percentage than anybody thought.)

The capital invested in the industry was more than $110,000,000.

It was the thirty-eighth largest industry.

It employs normally one hundred thousand people, seventy five per cent of whom are women.

It also makes possible, to a large extent, the chocolate and paper box industries, with millions invested, and employing thousands of people—mostly women.

There are still people who believe that the candy industry is using from 25 per cent to 50 per cent of the national sugar consumption and that the wiping out of the industry would solve the sugar problem.

But, on the contrary, only 8 per cent sugar is used normally, and today this has been cut to 4 per cent.

Reasoning people, with these facts before them, are realizing that with only so small an amount of sugar going into candy and in view of the high food value of candy, it is time to consider the facts and figures and to conserve in other directions for further savings.

—In normal times the candy industry uses only 8 per cent of the sugar used per capita in this country. Right now this amount has been cut square ly in two.

Call For Massacres.
Stockholm, Sept. 12.—Massacres in revenge for the murder of Moses Uritski, Petrograd police chief and the attack on Premier Lenin, were demanded by the bolshevik newspaper Krasnaya Gazeta, according to a dispatch received here today. The article was headed “blood for blood” and said: “We will turn our hearts to steel and without mercy we will kill our enemies by the scores and by the hundreds. Let them be killed by the thousands for the blood of Lenin and Uritski.”
