ARMY WANTS FIGHT ENDED BY KNOCKOUT

Worst Fear Is That Austria And Germany May Dodge Punishment Due.

By Fred S. Ferguson
(United Press staff correspondent)
With the Americans on the Metz front, Sept. 18.—President Wilson's sharp reply to Austria clearly reflects the sentiments of the American army toward peace negotiations.
From the highest generals to the lowest doughboys, the determination is to whip the boches soundly. The only fear expressed since July is that the Germans may escape a licking by some trick.
The Austrian proposal is regarded as such a trick—the first squeal from the central powers diplomats, the same as the boche squeals when he faces a bayonet.
The American soldier is determined to get on German soil. In other words, the army spirit is to fight to a knockout.

Pershing Hopes To Supply More Doses Of Same Medicine

London, Sept. 18.—General Pershing, replying to Premier Lloyd-George's telegram of congratulation on the St. Mihiel victory, said the American army would endeavor to continue supplying the premier with "occasional doses of the same sort of medicine."
(Lloyd-George who dictated the message to Pershing while ill in bed, said the American success was better than any of the other medicines he had taken.)
"Your telegram of congratulations was deeply appreciated," wired Pershing. "It shall be the endeavor of the American army to supply you with occasional doses of the same sort of medicine, as needed, from now until the final victory has been attained."
"I trust this finds you fully recovered from your illness."

Italian War Losses Amount To 1,350,000

Rome, Sept. 18.—The losses in the Italian armies since Italy entered the war amount to 1,350,000 in killed and permanently disabled, according to a statement by Francesco Nitti, minister of the treasury, here today. In an interview, however, he declared: "After the war Italy will be stronger than ever in men, due to the cessation of emigration. Our difficulties today are in the labor field, for no fewer than five million men have been called to arms since the beginning of the war."

May Use Grape Crop In Making Syrup

Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 18.—Wine and table grapes may be used to make syrup when war prohibition puts the wineries out of business.
Experimenters at the University of California agricultural college announced today the perfection of a grape syrup which is declared to be "excellent for table and cooking uses."
The quarter of a million ton grape crop, if made into syrup will be equivalent to 40,000 tons of sugar with a present value of $8,000,000. This is double the value of the grapes when made into wine.
The college proposes that wineries purchase the 1919 crop, extract and store the 50,000,000 gallons of juice and that the sugar factories turn it into syrup to be used in canneries. Wineries can do this with small change in their present equipment, it is stated.

RHINE TOWNS IN TERROR

Berne, Sept. 18.—Terror is reigning in the towns of the German Rhine region, according to travelers from Kreuzlingen, despite the fact that officialdom has declared the France-American push is not important. Tradign Unusually Dull And Prices Changed

New York, Sept. 18.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today says:
There was little to attract interest in today's operations in the stock market. Trading was dull in the extreme everywhere except in the oil group and in the case of a limited number of individual shares. Firmness, underlay the standard lists. The oil and gas stocks continued in their upward movement, advances of one to two points being registered. Distillers Securities and United States Industrial Alcohol and the tobacco issues were strong spots. American Sumatra Tobacco added some three points or more to its recent gains. The rails were more thinly dealt in.
Stocks held fairly strong through the afternoon with but limited further expansion in trading. Steel crossed 110 easing off fractionally. Shipping shares were well bought and the oil group maintained its lead. Canadian Pacific pushed through 183 and American Sumatra Tobacco through 111. Smelters and Kennecott were strong among the woppers.

And, the district boards upon whom rests the responsibility for preserving the necessary labor supply for essential occupations, should be urged to grant, in the interest of the national needs and with a nation-wide view of the controlling factors, the applications for deferred classification which are supported by the United States railroad administration.
"Instructions have been issued thru the regional directors to all officials and federal control to see that proper applications are made for deferred classifications of all railroad employees and to support such applications vigorously and at the same time to avoid making applications wherever, reasonably practicable.
"This is the duty of the men who are considered necessary for the operation of the railroads to claim deferred classification and to furnish the district boards with the necessary information in their answers to questionnaires to show the basis for fourth classification. Every man who is helping in these necessary occupations to operate the railroads in this country is rendering not only a service indispensable to the war but a service that is praiseworthy and credible as any service could be."
