Now Weigh 135 Pounds

Miss Clara Lehr, 21 N. Gold St., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Recommend it to Her Friends
"I don't need Peruna any more. I am all well. I have taken six bottles. I weighed ninety pounds before I started with Peruna. I was just as poor and so weakly. I had given up hopes of ever getting well, such a cough and spitting, and could not eat anything. Now since taking Peruna, I weigh one hundred and thirty-five pounds. All my friends said I would never get well. I was just a shadow. I have surely recommended your Peruna to many of my friends, and they are using it. I will recommend Peruna, for I am so thankful for what it has done for me."

AMERICAN SOLDIERS EAT THEIR OWN WEIGHT IN FOOD EVERY 37 DAYS

Washington, Sept. 25.—Every American soldier fighting in France eats his own weight in food every thirty-seven days.

This statement, carefully compiled for the United Press by the food administration and the arm quartermaster's department, accepts official computation that each soldier eats on an average 4.3 pounds of food a day and estimates give the average Yankee fighter's weight at about 160 pounds.

It gives some idea of the tremendous shipping problem facing the allied governments as the American army grows to vast proportions. It reveals that for the 1,750,000 Yanks already enumerated from our shores, 280,000,000 pounds, or 140,000 tons of foodstuffs must be shipped them every thirty-seven days. By next July, when our arm reaches 4,000,000, 640,000 pounds or 320,000 tons of foodstuffs, must be sent over every 37 days.

What this means in shipping may be realized from the fact that during the month of June, last, the United States shipping to all allied countries and neutrals was only 1,701,427,000 pounds of foodstuffs—less than three times what was sent every thirty-seven days to the army alone by next July.

Total food shipments have materially decreased since, owing to the increase of the American army and increased demands for food for it. As a result it becomes evident that the rationing of neutrals is one of the greatest tests before the government today. Not that America's larder is scant, but her ability to ship food will be more and more limited as the war continues and as her armies grow.

Neutrals, to secure food, probably will be called upon to brave the U-boat danger and come after what they want with their own bottoms.

In view of this fact, the appeal of the state department to Holland to release 400,000 tons of shipping now lying

All Choked Up With Catarrh? Why Continue Makeshift Treatment? Sprays and douches will never cure you.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing painful and difficult breathing and other discomforts. But the real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs.

This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface. To be rid of Catarrh, you must drive the disease germs out of your blood. Splendid results have been reported from the use of S. S. S., which completely routs from your blood the Catarrh germs, for which it is a perfect antidote.

S. S. S. is sold by all druggists. If you wish medical advice as to the treatment of your own individual case, write to-day to Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. B, Atlanta, Ga.

Gerard will be the principal speaker at the Liberty loan mass meeting in the exposition auditorium, Sunday night.

MISS LENA BELLE TARTAR has been chosen as music director in the Salem high school for the ensuing year. Miss Tartar is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college school of music and a student of William Frederic Gaspian. In 1916 she graduated from the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, as student of Karleton Hackett. In addition to the musical education Miss Tartar has had several years experience as a high school instructor and has met with splendid success as director of choirs, glee clubs and other choral organizations, and is thus amply qualified to meet the demands made upon her by the Salem schools. Miss Tartar will continue her work as director of the First Baptist choir.

Miss Tartar has also been conducting classes in Dallas, Independence and Corvallis, in addition to her work in Salem, and has a number of pupils.

Miss Elizabeth Levy, violinist, is to be presented as soloist at the state fair this week, and has the distinction to be the first violinist to be featured at one of the Oregon state fairs. She will appear as soloist Thursday and Friday nights, when she will be heard in classic and patriotic numbers. On Tuesday evening Miss Levy directed an ensemble of 24 violinists, organized from her classes. Miss Levy will soon assume her duties as head of the violin department of the Willamette university.

George Holt, accompanied by a number of the members of the younger boys classes of the First Baptist church, is spending the week encamped at Vitas Springs. They propose to return to Salem the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Farnsworth who have been the guests of Miss Mary Hart of 160 North 18th street during the past two weeks, will leave Thursday for Portland where they day. They are from Denver, Iowa, and are planning to make their home in the Willamette valley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jefferies of Portland were in Salem the first of the week and were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Kufner.

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Eyre and children, David and Dorena, have returned to their home in Salem, after having spent the past fortnight in Newport, where they have been entertained.

A delightful dinner party was given Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Elgin of 647 South Capitol street. Centering the table was a graceful bowl of golden glow. Seated around the table were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Freerksen, Mrs. S. Freerksen, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Misher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Elgin, Miss Florence Elgin and Wayne Elgin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Fuller of Dallas are in Salem this week attending the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kenne and family of Astoria are spending a few days in the city visiting with friends. They will remain in Salem during the remainder of the week to attend the state fair.

Miss Isabell Lord of Portland is the guest of friends in Salem this week.

Mrs. Joseph Goertz of Dallas is in Salem this week and has charge of the Polk county exhibits at the state fair.

J. D. Irvine, a commissioner from Linn county, is spending the week at the state fair, and is in charge of the Linn county display.

Miss Claudia Brown of Tillamook is in Salem this week and has charge of the Tillamook county exhibits at the state fair.

Food Administrator Hoover expects shortly to complete his world food allowance schedule, which will show what each neutral may expect from the United States in foodstuffs.

Loan For $6,000,000 Wilson To Open Campaign

Washington, Sept. 25.—President Wilson will open the $6,000,000,000 Liberty loan campaign in New York, Friday night, it was officially stated today. He will speak at the Metropolitan opera house.

The fourth Liberty loan will be for $6,000,000,000, will run for fifteen to twenty years and bear interest at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo made this announcement at Carnegie Hall here, speaking to a gathering of bankers and representatives of the second federal reserve district.

New York, he said, will be asked to raise thirty per cent of this amount, or $1,800,000,000. Chicago is given the next heaviest assessment, with $850,000,000, with Cleveland third, to be asked for $600,000,000.

This will be President Wilson's first opportunity to discuss the international situation since it has developed its new and sensational features—the great allied victories in all theatres and the Teuton peace maneuvers.

As a result his address is awaited as one of probable far reaching importance.

It is not doubted here that the president in calling on the nation for its greatest financial investment of the war to date will give not only an ac-

"FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE WORLD"

American Legioners Carried Own Flag In Secret To War

Few people know that in the famous American Legion of the Canadian army every man carried an American flag over his heart. When an American, eager to enter the big fight for liberty, went up to Canada to enlist he was first sworn in as a Canadian soldier and then his commanding officer presented him with a small American flag, which was pinned inside his tunic.

"I'll carry this to Berlin or bust," was what many a man said.

This in fact became the slogan of the famous 97th Battalion, around which is written the plot of "For the Freedom of the World," Ira M. Lowry's motion picture spectacle to be seen at the Liberty theater on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Will Of J. M. Morley Admitted To Probate

The will of J. M. Morley, of Silverton, who died September 19, 1918, was yesterday admitted to probate by Judge Buishey in the county court. The estate is valued at $17,000 in Marion county and about $300 in Multnomah county.

The will was made five days before his death. John L. Morley was named as executor and the county court appointed as appraisers H. C. Whitlock, J. P. Warnock and W. S. Jack.

The heirs are the widow and a son John Woodrow Morley, age two years and eight months. After providing for the payment of his just debts the will directs that the widow and son shall have share and share alike in the home place in Silverton, which includes two lots and a dwelling. They are also given, share and share alike, the business property in Silverton on the west side of Water street.

The widow is willed all real estate located in Irvington, Multnomah county, Oregon. Also all of the home household goods, furniture and kitchen utensils. All personal property of whatever kind, except that in the home, is to be shared, share and share alike by the son and widow.

In case of the death of Mrs. Morley, all property both personal and real, is to revert to the son. And in case of the death of both the son and widow, the property is to be divided equally between the heirs of Mrs. Morley and the J. M. Morley heirs.
