AMERICANS ADVANCE SWEEP OVER GREAT HINDENBURG LINE

Prisoners Going to Rear Were Put To Work Building Roads For Army

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press staff correspondent)

With the American Army West of Verdun, Sept. 27.—The Americans advanced so fast when they charged over the top yesterday morning that they did not even pause to examine the concrete Hindenburg line which was supposed to be impregnable and had proven a barrier to the allies for four years.

Near Varennes (fifteen miles west and slightly north of Verdun) I walked across No Man's Land over two barren kilometers (a mile and a quarter) of solid French and German wires. They were rusty and ragged in spots and on the German side had not been kept up.

The Germans, in retreating behind the Hindenburg bulwarks some time in the past, had blown up a bridge on the road to Varennes leaving an enormous hole more than 100 feet wide and fifty feet deep. Around this, doughboys and tanks pushed, while wagons, motor trucks and artillery followed on a road which the engineers built with magic speed.

Passing through dozens of strands of barbed wire, quickly tossed aside from the road, I reached the Hindenburg trenches. They are protected with a solid concrete wall, more than two feet thick at most points, the passage way averaging three feet in width and eight feet in depth. There are numerous machine gun positions, strong points, crests and dugouts at frequent intervals.

The boches apparently had not held this line except as a reserve position, as barriers of tangled barbed wire blocked the passage way at several points, especially Varennes road, where piled up steel rails, blocked the tanks for a while. The tanks hastily backed away and smashed into the barbed wire.

SKIN WITHOUT WRINKLES
NOW EASY TO HAVE

There's no excuse for any woman having wrinkles now. It has been found that a simple mixture of axolite and witch hazel has a remarkable action upon the deepest wrinkles, no matter what their nature, whether caused by worry, habitual frowning, a debilitated condition or the ravages of Father Time. This harmless remedy, which anyone can easily make and use at home, acts both as an astringent and a tonic. The combined effect of tightening the skin and brightening its vitality is to immediately affect every line and wrinkle, keeping the entire smooth and firm as in youth.

The proportions are one ounce axolite (powdered) to one half pint witch hazel, ingredients which are found in every drugstore. The solution should be used as a wash lotion. It is equally effective in disposing of flabbiness of cheek and neck, as well as sagging below the eyes.

fields, tearing great runways. The infantry jumped into these clear cut spaces and won their way through. Engineers later began dismantling the rails. They needed more help. Spotting the first batch of prisoners, an officer shouted to the guard: "Lend me your Datchies for a few minutes to pull up these rails." One of the guards who spoke German ordered the prisoners to help. Questioning revealed that one of them helped to erect the barriers months ago.

From the Varennes road concrete bulwarks extend downwards into the lowlands of an Argonne forest eastward, under the slopes of the Vauquois hill, under which the boches are reported to have more than forty kilometers (twenty five miles) of underground passageways, the infantry flanked this barbed, shell-went peak. The captured orders showed the German command had ordered this peak held at all costs but the infantry passed it with practically no resistance. Moppers-up, assisted by tanks, easily rounded up the German defenders from dugouts. The doughboys advanced quickly into Varennes through the little hamlet of Bouzeville, which had been razed completely by our artillery.

After the infantry's first encounters with German machine gunners at Varennes, baby tanks invaded the place in flocks, over fifty clanking down the streets, blowing up boche nests with small caliber explosive shells and machine gunning the Germans who resisted. Captured boches were quickly put to work carrying back American wounded.

The tanks cut across country to Choppy (a mile east of Varennes) and captured that village with more prisoners, despite long range anti-tank rifles with which the Germans rained bullets at them.

Returning from Varennes, I encountered a South Dakota farmer lad who exclaimed: "I'm the luckiest guy in the A. E. F."

He explained that he was a tank gunner and that anti-tank bullet plugged the machine just over his head. He escaped with a slight wound.

Some Louisville boys spotted a boche machine gun nest on the edge of a wood harassing our infantry. They swooped down on it using one of their own machine guns to drive the Germans to cover. Then the doughboys rushed up and captured the nest.

Lieutenant Eddie Rickenbacker brought down his eighth boche yesterday in a fight with a Pökker Rik. The boche's propeller was damaged, but he sent the German machine down in flames and barely managed to land inside the American lines near Verdun. An officer nearby saw the Pökker fall and furnished the confirmation necessary to make it official.

STOCK PARADE BIG FEATURE OF FAIR

One of the most attractive features of the fair was the stock parade yesterday just preceding the afternoon races. The stock showing was of the finest quality but as to quantity was the lightest for many years. The horse led the parade followed by the dairy breeds of cattle with the beef breeds next. The taking of so many young men from the farms for the army, and to supply labor for war industries, left the stockmen short of help, and this accounts for the smallness of the exhibition.

The judges stated that the quality of the cattle especially, was so high that the judging was a difficult task, for

DOCTOR SAID "KEEP" ON TAKING TAN-LAC,

Mrs. Bieal Gains Twenty Pounds—Wants Others To Be Helped.

"I have not only gained twenty pounds since I began taking Tanlac, but it has done me so much good that my doctor after seeing the improvement this medicine brought, advised me to keep on taking it," declared Mrs. Mary Bieal, of 519 Dayton Ave., Seattle, a few days ago.

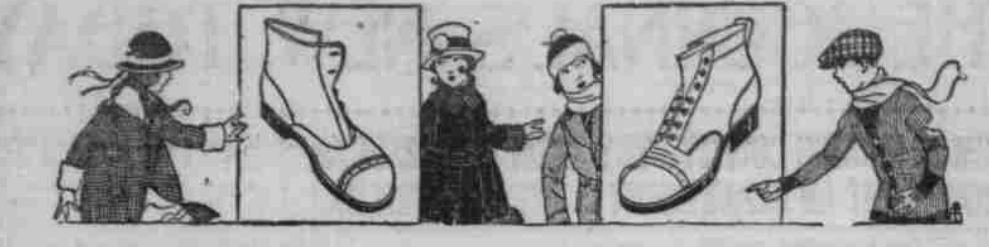

"I feel so grateful for Tanlac, I don't know what to say," continued Mrs. Bieal. "For three years I suffered each agony with my stomach, that I wasn't able to do a thing around the house. In fact, I was hardly able to get around at all. I completely lost my appetite, and what I did force down caused me so much pain, I could hardly stand it. Of course this got my nerves in a terrible condition, and I hardly knew what it was to sleep at night. I'd just roll and toss until morning."

"At last I got so bad off that I was taken to the hospital, and had an operation performed. I was there for five weeks, and when I finally got back home, I was a perfect wreck. I was so weak I couldn't move around the house at all and had to stay right in bed and my husband had to leave his work and wait on me. I had the best attention I could get but nothing seemed to give me any strength and although I tried and tried to get up and move around, it was no use. I was too weak; I just couldn't do it. Everybody insisted that I go back to the hospital, but I said, 'No.' I had been through so much I just couldn't bear the thought of going back there again."

"Then I decided to try Tanlac, as I had heard so much about it and it's the honest truth this medicine did more for me than I ever thought anything could do. I have taken six bottles now, and my stomach is in splendid condition. I have a fine appetite and can eat anything I want and never suffer the least bit afterwards."

"Tanlac certainly has built me up wonderfully. Just think, before I took it, I didn't have strength enough to set my own table, and now I can do every bit of my house work, even to the washing, if necessary, and I sleep like a child and wake up in the mornings feeling refreshed and full of life. I've gained twenty pounds and look so well that my doctor told me to keep right on taking Tanlac, and you may be sure I'm going to do it. I'm glad for everyone to know what Tanlac has done for me and hope the story of my case will help other sufferers to get the same relief."

Tanlac is sold in Stubbard by Subbarb Drug Co., in Mt. Angel, by Ben Good, in Gervais by John Kelly, in Turner by H. P. Cornelius, in Woodburn by Lyman H. Shorey, in Salem by Dr. S. C. Stone, in Silverton by Geo. A. Steelhammer, in Gates by Mrs. J. P. McCurdy and in Stayton by C. A. Beauchamp, in Aurora by Aurora Drug Store. (Adv.)

Berlin Official Report

Berlin, via London, Sept. 27.—Franco-American forces, attacking in the Argonne yesterday, advanced as far as Mont Blainville, Montfaucon and the bend of the Meuse northeast of Montfaucon, the German war office announced today.

The German reserves brought them to a standstill on this line, the statement said. Between Tahure and Ripont (three miles eastward) the allies succeeded in advancing as far as the heights northwest of Tahure, as far as Fontaine-en-Dormois. Here the enemy's local break through "shot its bolt" owing to the resistance of German reserves, it was announced.

The Americans and French employed numerous tanks and, in accordance with orders, German advance posts retreated to the defense lines allotted them, fighting as they fell back.

Between Auberville and a point southeast of the Somme attacks by the enemy broke down with very heavy losses. In Macedonia enemy attacks north of Corva repeated several times, until they eventually failed.

The enemy was able at some points to reach the infantry and foremost artillery lines but the great Franco-American attempt to break through failed on the first day of the battle, it was declared.

it was only by closest figuring on points that a decision could be reached in many cases.

Frank Loughbary of Monmouth had fifteen Jerseys on exhibition and was the heaviest point winner, capturing several of the best prizes among the cows. Octavius Duchess, one of his herd, has a record of being second in the average per cent of her butterfat, in the United States. Her record for progeny and for butter production made at many fairs places her among the top-notchers of the entire country.

The well known Silverton firm of Doerfler Brothers was well represented in all lines. Frank Doerfler taking first, second and third places in the milk contest open to all breeds (his Jerseys pulling down the awards). He also took first for four best cows for type and yield, besides some twenty other premiums. A. N. Doerfler, took more prizes than any other in the Durro hog class, and his brother, J. J. Doerfler, had two champions among the sheep and also several other winners.

G. H. Dammier had the senior champion bull and the senior grand champion cow of the Jerseys, Johnson & Pettit of Corvallis had a fine showing of young stock and took first on yearling bulls and junior heifer calves. Guernseys were shown by Goshen, and Hawley & Son of McCoy. The former took grand senior champion on Julian of Middlefield with an unbeaten record for the past three years. This was the first appearance of the Hawleys but they had the junior champion bull.

The Angora goat showing was the best for years.

"A French attack in the Champagne took place yesterday, successfully," the communique said. "From the Suipe to the Argonne, the first German position, consisting of trench mazes and barbed wire to the depth of more than five kilometers (three miles), though organized since 1915, was taken successfully, and on a front of 35 kilometers (nearly 22 miles), was surpassed at certain points.

Montfaucon, the little Gibraltar of the Meuse valley, was the scene of heavy fighting before the Americans outflanked the height which dominates the village and commands the entire countryside in that neighborhood.

TRICK DID NOT WORK

By Webb Miller
(United Press staff correspondent)

Paris, Sept. 26.—(Night)—Although the Germans in the Champagne region tried to adopt the trick utilized by General Gouraud in July—withdrawal secretly from the first lines just before the attack, all indications point to the fact that the Americans on their front caught the enemy by surprise today.
