S. A. C. I. WILL BE INDUCTED TUESDAY

Willamette Students To Swear Allegiance To Flag Tomorrow Morning

beginning promptly at 9 o'clock is as follows: Raising flag. "Star Spangled Banner," Cherrin band. Taking of oath of allegiance to the flag. Reading of the order of the day, Capt. O. N. Tyler. Reading of message from the president of the United States. Selection by Cherrin band. Address by the Honorable James G. Withycombe, governor of the state of Oregon. Address by the Honorable Walter E. Keyes, mayor of Salem. Address by Dr. C. G. Doney, president of Willamette university. Although the contracts for the work have been let, the overhead crossing at Divide, on the Pacific highway in Lane county, will not be constructed at this time because of the project has failed to receive the approval of the United States highway council. The state highway commission today received notice that the project had not been approved. For nearly a year the highway commission has been endeavoring to get an overhead crossing built at that point. The Southern Pacific company, over whose tracks the crossing was to be built, protested against installing the crossing, and the commission and Lane county made formal complaint to the public service commission, which heard the case and then ordered the crossing built. A. W. Lafferty of Portland will be the nominee of the National party for representative in congress from the 3rd congressional district, comprised of Multnomah county, as a certificate of nomination for him was filed today with Secretary of State Olcott by George L. Cheney, chairman of the executive committee of that party. J. D. Brown who was the party's nominee for this office, withdrew. For the purpose of taking care of the deficiencies which must be incurred in the appropriations of several of the state institutions, a meeting of the state emergency board has been called for 10:30 o'clock on the morning of October 9. Superintendent Steiner of the Oregon state hospital estimates that his institution will require $100,000 additional to run until the legislature meets, while Secretary Goodin of the board of correction has been instructed to obtain reports from the other institutions as to their needs. The state highway department has issued a new road map of Oregon. It lists the passable roads and gives distances between towns. The map is for distribution to commercial clubs and automobile clubs and similar organizations. J. D. Brown, nominee of the National party for representative in congress from the 3rd district, has filed his withdrawal notice with the secretary of state. Secretary of State Olcott today sent a supplementary notice to all county clerks to insert in the notices of election to be posted for the general election November 5 a line showing that a justice of the supreme court is to be elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Frank A. Moore. A blank space will be left on the ballot so voters may write in the name of their choice for the place. Mrs. E. T. Moore, widow of the late superintendent of the Oregon state school for the blind, was today appointed superintendent of the school by the state board of control. Mrs. Moore who had teaching experience before her husband was appointed superintendent of the blind school, has had a part in the management and teaching at the school during the time her husband was superintendent and Secretary R. B. Goodin, of the board of control, recommended her as being well qualified to take full charge of the school. The appointment was by unanimous vote of the board members. There is plenty of money on deposit in the banks of Oregon to pay over the state's quota of the Fourth Liberty Loan with a whip, according to the statement issued today by Superintendent of Banks Bennett, showing the condition of the banks on August 31. This statement shows total deposits in the banks aggregating $196,926,418, which is an increase of $5,631,997 since June 29 of this year and an increase of $15,675,832 since September 11 of last year. The total resources of the banks on August 31 were $245,169,633, an increase of $23,435,911 in the last year. The Hood River Irrigation district has made application to the State irrigation securities commission to have $167,000 in bonds certified under the state law. The purpose is to refund an outstanding issue, and reduce taxes. The assessed valuation of the district is given as $834,860 and approved value $1,128,000. There are 2822 acres of cultivated land, and about twice this area of irrigable land within the district. Irrigation works are now fully constructed. Sunday Closing Order Postponed One Week Portland, Or., Sept. 30.—Protest against the resolution of the state council of defense ordering Sunday and six o'clock closing of merchandise stores broke in such a storm in Portland yesterday that temporary suspension of the limitation until October 1 was promised. The suspension concession was made by Chairman W. P. Woodward and Secretary John K. Kollock of the state council of defense, at conclusion of a heated hearing under sponsorship of the state executive committee of the fourth Liberty loan. The purpose is that this committee may complete investigation of the proposal and present a recommendation, based on its conclusions to the council of defense. The protest hearing before the liberty loan executives as judicial arbitrators was the third gathering of the day convened to consider phases of the drastic closing resolution. The resolution calls for the closing of all merchandise stores at 6 p. m. on Saturday and all day Sunday. The selling of medicines by drug stores and the business of restaurants is excepted.

"Y" Becomes Biggest Vaudeville Booking Agency in the World

Supplies Free Entertainment for Soldiers in Training Throughout the Country—Jugglers and Former Presidents, Bishops and Clog Dancers, Grand Opera Stars and Blackface Comedians Are All Jumbled Together on Programs.

ANY booking agency able to route over its chain of theaters such "acts" as Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President of the United States, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., William H. Taft, Mme. Louise Homer and others on the entertainment and educational rosters of the Eastern Department of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., would proclaim all over the world that it was the biggest booking agency on earth and handled the greatest "talent" obtainable. Yet the Red Triangle has gone quietly ahead and in the space of half a year has built up an organization that sends 1,200 "acts" a month to the training camps, aviation fields, forts, navy yards, battalions, etc., to entertain and instruct our soldiers, sailors and marines. In that time the office personnel to handle the bookings has increased from two to fifteen, three of whom are volunteers. ATTRactions ARE VARIED In the Y. M. C. A. booking office's roster of attractions appear such other names as Charles S. Whitman, governor of New York, the French military band recently sent here by the French government, Augustus Thomas, dean of American dramatists; Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia; John G. Hibben, president of Princeton; Miss Maude Powell, famous American violinist; Countess Turczanowicz, the National Quartette, the Orpheus Four, John Masfield, Major Boehme, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Dr. G. N. Slattery, responsible for the building up of the booking office and its success. All of the talent volunteer their services and receive no pay. Many pay all of their expenses, others all but their railway fare. The Red Triangle, however, pays the living expenses of most of them. GET LOCAL ATMOSPHERE An entertainer booked on the camp circuit is expected to do more than just give his "act." The "Y" expects him to touch men in the camps who are gifted musically or historically some act which they can do later to entertain their fellow soldiers when the professional actor can't reach them. The entertainers are encouraged to live with the boys in the camps, become saturated with camp local atmosphere and learn just what the boys like most in the way of entertainment. The entertainers quickly become imbued with the feeling that it is a privilege to minister to the amusement of the boys wearing Uncle Sam's uniforms. The "Y" spirit of service grips them. The wishes and tastes of the men in camp are consulted. Every month the camp Secretary fills out on a requisition blank such talent as his camp needs for that month. If the boys have liked a stage act or a lecture especially and want to hear it again, the secretary notes the request and the booking office does its best to comply with it. The camp Secretary has the right to reject any act booked for his camp. RESULTS CHECKED UP The office keeps a record of every act booked. The camp Secretary reports back to Mr. Richards on the quality of each act, lecture or sermon and whether the boys were satisfied with it or not. The "talent" also reports on the camp, the service being done there and on the audience which hear their programs. The Secretary of Activities then picks out of the reports what the other person should know and sends it to him. It has been ascertained that lecturers and entertainers are eager to learn what they can do to please their hearers better and welcome suggestions from the camp secretaries. An especially interesting feature of the work is booking entertainers; etc. for the warships that arrive in port. The Fleet Secretary gets from the Navy Department the date on which a warship will arrive and often before it anchors, entertainers are ready to board the vessel.
