Some Fierce Fighting
Paris, Oct. 2.—(4:40 p. m.)—Violent fighting is continuing north and south of St. Quentin, battle front dispatches reported this afternoon.

French troops have passed above the canal tunnel at LeTrenquoy and are progressing eastward. An attack is developing upon Omissy, a mile and a half northeast of St. Quentin.

Weather Interferes
London, Oct. 2.—(4:37 p. m.)—Bad weather and vigorous enemy counter attacks are slowing up the Anglo-Belgian advance in Flanders, according to advices received here this evening.

Made Two Mile Drive
London, Oct. 2.—British troops, smashing forward on a twenty mile front between Cambrai and St. Quentin, tore the German defenses to pieces in some portions of the line yesterday and penetrated a maximum depth of about two miles, it was indicated by Field Marshal Haig's report today.

The village of Sequehart (five miles northeast of St. Quentin) and the hamlet of Preselles (a mile northwest of Sequehart) have been captured, the statement said.

Warships Take Part

Amsterdam, Oct. 2.—British warships continue a heavy bombardment of points behind the battle line on the Belgian coast. A fierce fire was observed in the direction of Bruges.

The Day's Work

The allies have broken through the German line northeast of St. Quentin. This thrust, together with the combined push of Mangin's and Berthelot's armies between Ailette and the Vesle, is threatening the St. Gobain massif and Laon by a gigantic pincers movement nearly fifty miles across its base.

The big wooded plateau of St. Gobain is recognized as the greatest natural defense on the west front. Laon is a vital center of communications.

The French advance along the Chemin-des-Dames and west of Rheims has been one of steady progress the last few days. The reported break through northeast of St. Quentin, however, is the result of the combined smash of British, French and American troops along a fifty mile front in Picardy and is believed to have been made possible by the French occupation of St. Quentin.

Haig reported today that a breach was made late yesterday in the German defense line between Consomme and Beurevoir. A battle front dispatch received by way of London this afternoon indicated that this success had been anticipated and that a break thru had been effected. The extent of this new success was not revealed, but its possibilities are enormous.

Capture of Dannenberg by British cavalry yesterday, officially announced today, has opened the way to Aleppo, 200 miles north, where Allenby and Marshall, the latter commanding the British armies in Mesopotamia, may effect a junction for a march on Constantinople from the south.

The Serbian communique today reported that after the Bulgarian withdrawal began Monday, Serbian troops occupied Kumanovo, northeast of Uelak. The allies thus acquired an excellent "take off" for the race northward to oppose the German armies filtering into northern Serbia from Rumania. Kumanovo is only 75 miles south of Nish.

The Germans have practically the same distance to travel in reaching that city from Rumanian territory.

If Cross, Feverish Or Billious Give "California Syrup Of Figs."

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomachache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Dan Tarpley At Front Says French Are Great

D. W. Tarpley who went into the service more than a year ago from Salem is now at the front demonstrating what a real live Yank can do, according to a letter received recently by B. H. Wagner. He is with Company F, Tenth Engineers and writes in part as follows: "I was lucky enough to take a bogie prisoner. He gave his age as 25. The Boche cannot understand how a Yank can fight without hardly any training, but we sure whipped the hell out of their best troops. "I was on a motor ready to leave on my furlough when we were stopped and ordered to get ready to move. We were put through a week's drill with gas mask, and rifle. It begins to look like the war will be over next year. We will have three or four million Yanks over here by that time. "The French praise our soldiers. It would amuse you to see the gestures they go through in explaining how a Yank fights. The French are the best soldiers in the world with the bayonet. A Yank will use his gun."

OUR BOYS.

"Over There" our boys are fighting, Battling for the just, the right; Over here our prayers ascending God, protect them with thy might! God be praised; let every nation Stop and gaze upon the "star" Neath where Christ was born that morning. Praise to Him; no more world's war. Yet we cannot scape the sorrows For our boys who fall o'er there; Thus they pay to the last farthing That freedom may reign everywhere. How we long our boys' home-coming, With their laurels bravely won; How with gladness we shall welcome Bravest boys beneath the sun! Out of sorrow comes forth gladness, Out of millions, many died; Yet behold the world advancing Freedom—justice—glorified. Send the boys our food, our money, Help drive the Huns over the Rhine; Keep them there till proven worthy To live in Freedom's glad sunshine. —H. E. Bell. Sept. 28, 1918.
