Paris, Oct. 7.—To learn the fighters' opinion of the German peace proposal, I went into the boulevards and talked with the soldiers.

"It's up to Wilson," declared Frank Parker of Chicago. "Whatever he says goes with me. I do not believe he'll say quit before the Germans are licked."

"The Germans are burning our homes and stealing our furniture and machinery," Henri Voisin, of Brussels, told me.

"Belgium shouldn't give them an armistice, so they will have time to steal the remainder."

"Marshal Foch will give sufficient answer for me, and millions of other Frenchmen," was the statement of Georges Baron, of Paris.

"I'm ready to quit when its finished—not now," said Edward Hill, of Adelaide, Australia.

"We shouldn't make peace while Frits has got his navy, armies and aeroplanes and occupies allied territory," was the belief expressed by John Stout, of Monmouth, England.

"There will be no peace while the Germans occupy conquered territory," said Jan Zichinski, of the Polish legion, "but President Wilson is our patron saint. We are ready to do what he says."

TIME NOW TO PUSH WAR.
By Lowell Mellett
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
With The British Armies in France, Oct. 7.—The British army is ready to answer Germany's peace proposal today as it answered that of Austria a short time ago.

"Let them talk peace while the fighting continues," is the spirit of the soldiers. I had the pleasure this afternoon of breaking the peace news to many officers and men of the British force beneath a big train shed at Mihina station.

It was apparent from what was heard on all sides when word of the latest proposal went the round, that so far as the British army is concerned something more definite in the way of peace offers is necessary before serious consideration will be found.

"We must keep the Germans running until we find out what's behind this," said most of the men.

"The world has had enough of war to last it forever," one officer asserted. "This war should be finished so it will be the final war."

The German resistance along the present front in Flanders and northern France is believed to be a gigantic rear guard action for the purpose of holding the allies until the Valenciennes line is completed. Only a few days ago enemy prisoners reported that defense system was not yet ready.

The roads between the Hindenburg line and the northeast are jammed with traffic of all character, including civilian equipage.

Spanish Influenza Cause Of Four Seattle Deaths
Seattle, Wash., Oct. 7.—Four deaths at the university naval training camp marked the toll of Spanish influenza in Seattle Sunday.

Schools, including university classes were closed today in compliance with the health department orders Saturday that also closed theaters, movie houses, churches and all places of public assemblage.

Parents were urged by Superintendent of Schools Cooper and by Mayor Hanson to keep children out of the streets.

Efforts to convert the old county court house into an emergency hospital were in progress today and it was announced that accommodations for 100 emergency cases would be ready this afternoon.

City health department physicians answered 93 calls Sunday all of which bore symptoms of Spanish influenza.

Chief of Police Warrig is confined to his home with the malady, as are other members of the police force.

Camp Dodge, Ia., Oct. 7.—Twenty-one deaths were reported from Spanish influenza by the division surgeons this morning. He also announced that out of six thousand cases under observation, 4628 were diagnosed as Spanish influenza.

The deaths yesterday and today brought the camp's total deaths from the epidemic to thirty.

The epidemic is at its most critical stage now and Lieutenant Colonel B. W. Rich announced there would be a decrease in deaths and number of casualties within the next few days.

Among those reported to be dead today were: Sverre Mones, Great Falls, Mont.

New York, Oct. 7.—A decrease in the number of cases of Spanish influenza in New York was reported today by the health department. There were 1588 new cases, as against 2073 yesterday. Seventy deaths were reported, against 67 yesterday. One hundred and fifty seven new cases of pneumonia were reported.

Redding, Cal., Oct. 7.—Two deaths within the last 24 hours and 14 new cases reported to health authorities this morning summarize the spread of Spanish influenza in Redding today.

Mrs. H. H. Hay of Grass Valley, died from the disease this morning.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 7.—There were five deaths from pneumonia in this vicinity Saturday and five cases of Spanish influenza were reported to the health authorities for the past 48 hours.

SOLDIER SAYS WILSON MUST MAKE DECISION FOR PEACE OR WAR

BANKER, WAITER, COOK IN WAR'S MELTING POT.

Speaking of melting pots that have nothing to do with the weather, a banker, a cook and a waiter recently sat on one bench in the St. Paul (Minn.) House of the War Camp Community Service. Before they donned uniforms they had all been at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York simultaneously—the banker at the table signing the check, the waiter back of his chair and the cook concocting the food.

Italians, Bohemians, Jews, Syrians, Greeks and many other nationalities meet and mingle at this clubhouse. Often when their friends and families join them the different groups chatter away in their native tongues, making a modern Babel that is mighty interesting to the chance caller. Yet they are all Americans in spirit as in uniform, and bringing them together is exactly what the Commissions on Training Camp Activities asked War Camp Community Service to do.
