

Why FISHER'S BLEND Flour?

The Government Has Advanced The Price Of Oregon And Washington Wheat

To meet this advance manufacturers of Oregon and Washington Wheat flours have increased their prices, until there is little if any difference between the price of Oregon and Washington Wheat Flours and that of Fisher's Blend.

THE SUPERIOR QUALITY OF FISHER'S BLEND AS COMPARED WITH OTHER FLOURS IS ABSOLUTELY THE SAME NOW AS BEFORE.

Just as in pre-war times Fisher's Blend is made of Choicest Eastern Hard Wheat and Choicest Washington Bluestem.

If it was Economy in pre-war times to pay more for Fisher's Blend than for other flours, certainly it is greater economy now to buy it at practically the same price for which other flours sell.

Fisher's Blend is the ideal flour to use with Wheat Substitutes. These substitutes lack a balanced gluten. They require mixture with a strong wheat flour.

Fisher's Blend is a strong wheat flour.

Fisher's Substitutes, including Fisher's Corn Flour, Fisher's Milo Maize Flour, Fisher's Barley Flour and Fisher's Corn Meal, work perfectly with Fisher's Blend Flour because the same painstaking care is used in the manufacture of the one as in the manufacture of the other.

Fisher's Blend Flour and Fisher's Wheat Substitutes are manufactured in "America's Finest Flouring Mills"

Grain-Carrying Ships Are Temporarily Withdrawn

New York, Oct. 8.—The reason for the temporary diversion of grain ships from this port for the carrying of war supplies to Pershing's army was announced today by the local food administration officials.

"The enlarged demands by General Pershing for material, resulting from the progress on the west front, has necessitated the temporary diversion of grain ships to this service," said the announcement.

"This temporarily curtails the wheat movement from the seaboard and has filled our seaports and terminal elevators."

"There is no occasion for farmers to become panicky. If holders will have a little patience the wheat will all be moved and the full price secured by every grower."

President's Reply Is Awaited in Wall Street

New York, Oct. 8.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

While it was accepted in Wall street as a foregone conclusion that the president would turn a deaf ear to the peace pleas of the central empires, trading in today's session of the securities market was governed to a large extent by the fact that a reply was not as yet forthcoming.

At the outset there was a firm tone to the list, with particularly good demand for the shipping group. Stock prices reacted in the late afternoon, with especial weakness in the oil group. Bonds were active and strong for the most part.

What The Dalles calls the "dip," the municipal swimming place of the townpeople, has been closed for the season. The best season in the history of the dip is reported.

W. C. C. S. WORKER HAS A BUSY JOB

All Sorts of Domestic Problems Are All in the Day's Work For Him or Her.

The adventures of the organizers of the War Camp Community Service—the men who go round to the communities near the camps, organize soldiers' clubs and get all kinds of hospitality mobilized for the benefit of the officers and soldiers—in the intervals snatched from their more routine duties of sorting out invitations to the soldiers to come and take Sunday dinner, collecting chaperones for parties and attending to the business management of soldiers' clubs are many and of a somewhat bewildering variety.

Not long ago a little mother with a large baby draped over one shoulder journeyed to Southport, N. C., near Fort Caswell, where a soldier father was stationed. When she arrived she was taken to a snug little hotel, established by the War Camp Community Service for just such visitors. Here her husband could visit her, but there were many days when he was off duty for a few hours in camp, but couldn't cross the bay to see her. And she couldn't carry the heavy baby across the sands to the wharf to take the boat to Fort Caswell.

Every one at the Community House kept talking of the Community Organizer, so one day as she sat holding her baby and gazing wistfully over the bay the little woman had a happy thought. A few minutes later over in the Army and Navy Club the Community Organizer's desk 'phone rang.

"Yes—Yes. What! A baby carriage? Great hat! That's a large order in this village. Has to have it? All right—if I can't find one I'll build one for you."

Heading up the receiver, the Organizer sat frowning for a minute, then, registering helplessness, he telephoned his wife. On the evening of the same day a perambulator, somewhat dilapidated from a lengthy career, was wheeled up before the Community House, where a delighted little woman rushed out and put her baby in it. Now the little mother and the heavy baby visit the father every day.

Then there was the Community Organizer who received the request of a young French Canadian recruit that he be sent over the week end to a family with a baby in it because he had a baby of his own at home. Of course the Community Organizer produced the baby, with its appropriate chaperone. What else was there for him to do? It was all in the day's work anyhow. Among the thousands of families applying every week to the War Camp Community Service in any considerable neighborhood there are all kinds—families with and families without, and every other combination that may be required. All kinds of families are kept in stock, and attending to the special wants of customers is a specialty.

One of these War Camp father confessors was asked the other day by a recruit to keep his money for him so he could not gamble it away, and many similar intimate services are rendered.

Some other unique functions are taken as follows from reports of the men and women organizers: "Obtained license and magistrate and acted as master of ceremonies at the marriage of a soldier about to start for the front."

"Wrote letter to draft board for employee in a large manufacturing plant, who was disturbed because his number had not been called."

"Served as volunteer head of improvised day nursery during the rush of civilian visitors, warming baby's milk, putting baby to sleep, etc."

"Acted as free express and postal agent, shipping 'collect' grips, suitcases, bags and parcels left to be sent to the folks back home."

One Soldier's Prophecy.

The War Camp Community Service for the War Department and Navy Department Commissions on Training Camp Activities has its files full of testimonials from soldiers, sailors and marines, from commanding officers, colonels, captains, lieutenants, noncommissioned officers and men in the ranks, but none received recently has pleased its executive officers as much as that from a private in the 396th Engineers, who was entertained at the Enlisted Men's Club in Jacksonville, Fla.

"The same spirit which is backing this Club," he wrote, "is going to back the Hindenburg line into Berlin."

LIBERTY BELL IN VIEW DAILY.

Independence Hall, famed as a shrine of patriotism, has been opened continuously so that soldiers, sailors and all other Philadelphia visitors may enter the old building and see the bell which rang out for liberty. Hitherto it has been the custom to close the building on Sundays through July and August, but it is Sunday, according to the War Camp Community Service, which takes the most soldiers and sailors to the city, and Independence Hall is their first choice of sights to see. When the War Camp Community Service discovered that the obstacle was the twelve dollars a day expense in providing guards for the place this difficulty was removed in short order.

MAKING USE OF THE HUNS.

At the old Hotel Earlington, Unit No. 5 of the New York War Camp Community Service, there is some very satisfying furniture. Why especially satisfying? Ask any soldier, sailor or marine who has followed the invitation of the sign "W. C. C. S." over the hotel door. He will promptly tell you that it is real luxury to sink down into chairs and divans from the Vateriaal and other interned German ships, and when it comes to playing a quiet game of pinochle on Hun poker tables—well, it is returning to days of real sport.
