Governor's Police Hold Up Navy Funeral

Baker, Or., Oct. 8.—Two members of the state military police narrowly escaped rough treatment at the hands of angered Grant county residents, who resented their action in halting a funeral procession to search for liquor, according to report. At the funeral services held recently for Ensign Tracy, of the U. S. navy, there was a large attendance, and as the cortege was driving from Canyon City to the cemetery 30 or more cars were halted by the police who, however, found no liquor. Later an indignation meeting was held and a posse organized to deal with the two officers, but they could not be found.

Investigate Utterances Of David Starr Jordan

Tacoma, Oct. 8.—Government officials are investigating the statements made here last week by Dr. David Starr Jordan, publicly denounced as a pro-German and pacifist, it was learned today. Telegrams have been received from Washington asking for a full report on what Dr. Jordan said at the commercial club lecture. Clarence L. Reames of Seattle, special assistant attorney, was in Tacoma Sunday and obtained statements from persons who heard Jordan's address. These statements were wired to Washington. They bore out the assertions made by Tacoma "four minute" speakers, it is said, that Jordan had declared Germany should not be forced to pay indemnities or make reparation for the wrongs done Belgium or France.

WE JUST STUCK EXPLANATION OF COL. WHITTLESEY

For 5 Days Battalion Fought Without Food And With Little Water. By Fred S. Ferguson (United Press Staff Correspondent) (With the American First Army, Oct. 9.—"We just stuck. The Germans could go to hell."

Dirty, unshaven, tired and showing the lack of sleep, Major Charles M. Whittlesey former New York lawyer, reporting to his commanding general, thus summed up one of the most dramatic episodes of the war. Whittlesey's battalion was surrounded in the Argonne forest for five days. Colonel Eugene Hanton's right regiment, the beleaguered men at dusk Monday. The battalion was without food and had but little water. A stream at the base of a hill nearby gurgled tantalizingly. The Americans only ventured to the stream at night on account of the accurate shooting of the German snipers. A cold rain fell every night but the men always stood by their guns. The darkness in the depth of the forest had the weirdest effect, the men saying the blood from the dead German, threw off a ghostly phosphorescent glow.

The battalion repulsed three strong attacks and then some of the men fell exhausted at the sight of Hanton's revolver. Every man wrote a final letter to his wife, sweetheart or mother, none of them expecting to get out alive. These letters were exchanged in the chance that some one might possibly escape. The notes were scribbled on bits of paper in the face of boche fire.

Not a fire was lighted during the five days, on account of the danger of revealing their exact position. Sometimes parties of Germans came so close the Americans could hear them talking. The Americans never talked above whispers.

NO INFLUENZA CASES REPORTED IN SALEM

If You Don't Want It, Keep Away From Crowds—If You Get It Go To Bed

The Spanish influenza has not made its appearance as yet in Salem. Dr. O. B. Miles, city health officer said this morning, although the city stands a fair chance of having several cases as it has appeared in Portland and seems to be traveling this way. There may be a few cases of bad colds, Dr. Miles said, but no cases of the genuine influenza have been reported. As to the rumor that a number of cases had developed at the Salem Indian School at Chewena, the superintendent this morning said that the report was untrue. That with 600 in attendance there was always 15 to 25 in the hospital, several generally having bad colds.

The state board of health in writing Dr. Miles announces that wherever necessary all places of public gatherings, and this includes schools, churches and places of amusement, must be closed.

For the benefit of those who would like to know the first symptoms of influenza a man who had gone through the epidemic in another part of the world said the first feeling was that of chilliness and a general creepy sensation as if one were in bad condition. Then the real chilly feeling, similar to grip comes on. When this much has developed, the best plan is to go to bed and keep the system in good condition. Aspirin or similar remedies may be used to relieve headache or general pain. But probable the best thing would be that of calling a doctor.

Many doctors believe the present Spanish influenza is very much like the grip only in a more dangerous form. The influenza is not so bad in itself, excepting that it allows other complications, often resulting in pneumonia.

A treatise sent out from Washington, D. C. advises influenza patients as follows: rest in bed should be prolonged in accordance with the severity of the case; give attention to cleanliness of the mouth; have rooms well ventilated; avoid exposure to colds and keep away from crowds; keep away from those who have it and especially away from those who cough and sneeze.

Washington, Oct. 9.—A crisis is fast approaching in the fourth liberty loan campaign. The goal of $6,000,000,000 may not be subscribed in the allotted time, treasury officials today declared. The gloomiest prospects of any loan campaign faced officials today.

Half of the campaign period is gone and only $1,650,000,000 has been raised. Continued discouraging reports to the treasury department forced officials to grope about for new means to awaken the nation. Telegrams appealing for continued efforts went out from the treasury today to all sections of the country. Bankers were urged to go personally among their customers and "talk loan."

State, county and city officials, were urged to keep step with the boys at the front.

SHOP EARLY SOLGAN OF BUSINESS MEN

Holiday Goods To Be Put On Display And Public Asked To Purchase Early

Early Christmas shopping will be the slogan of the business men of Salem and to induce early shopping, it was agreed that holiday goods should be placed on display at once and that the merchants of Salem should begin advertising Christmas offerings.

This was definitely decided at the policy of the Business Men's league at the meeting held last evening at the Commercial Club. It was announced that the early display of Christmas goods and the urging of early shopping came as an order from the National Council of Defense. All cards to soldiers in France or overseas must be mailed by November 1.

As to the proposition whether the merchants wished the Business Men's league to survive, there was but one opinion and that was to the effect that under no circumstances should the organization be dropped. It developed that many of the rating cards had been allowed to lapse and that for the past two or three months, no attention had been paid to keeping up the filing card system of the league.

According to the budget of the Commercial Club, it was announced that the Business Men's league was entitled to a special clerk who was to be paid $75 a month for this work only. But it seemed that with no one in the office especially interested in the Business Men's League, and with all the other war work, the interests of the business men had been forgotten.

There seemed to be the opinion that some one was negligent in not having the affairs of the league attended to. To remedy these conditions the director, C. S. Hamilton and his committee will take up the proposition of placing a competent person in charge of the league's records and one who will attend to bringing the ratings up to date.

Among those who spoke earnestly on the good the league had done were Walter A. Denton, Theo. Rath, J. W. Chambers, H. W. Myers, U. G. Shipley, W. T. Rigdon and Dan J. Fry.

Bootlegger Shot By Deputy Sheriff

Roseburg, Or., Oct. 9.—J. B. Brown, Oakland, Cal., is believed to be dying from a bullet wound received last night when Frank Hopkins, an officer of Canyonville, fired on the automobile in which Brown was riding.

The bullet passed through Brown's left shoulder, pierced his lung and came out over the heart. It then struck the car's wind shield, breaking it.

In the automobile was found a quantity of liquor. The license number of the car was taken out by Merrill Parker, Portland.

Hopkins pursued the car, overtaking it.

Beniah Eoff has filed suit for divorce against Glenn E. Eoff. They were married at Vancouver July 26, 1914, and have a son three and one-half years old. She alleges that he deceived her in not carrying out his promises and establishing a home. That she has had to live near his people and that he thought more of his folks than he did her. That Jan. 9, 1917, he instituted, without cause or provocation, proceedings against her which compelled her to fight and defeat the suit. That they became reconciled on his good promises, which he broke later. That he wanted her to refuse a salary for her work in order that he could claim to the exemption board that he was supporting her, while the fact was, he had never supported her nor their child. She also alleges he called her a lot of bad names besides trying to force her to swear unlawfully on his questionnaire. She asks for custody of the child and other legal redress.

The estate of Jess Mays was appraised at $5,491.70. The appraisers were O. O. Freeman, Michael DeSart and J. C. Moore.
