A marriage license was issued yesterday to Thomas M. Chaplin, aged 78, of Salem, and Mathilda Buchner, aged 77 years, also of Salem.

The funeral services for Kenneth C. Crosson, who died at Portsmouth, Va., will be held Sunday afternoon from the Rigdon chapel and will be conducted by the Rev. H. N. Aldrich of the Leslie M. E. church. Burial will be made in the City View cemetery.

Pool and billiard playing as well as card games are now permitted by the health officers.

Glen Ackerman is now sergeant major, according to a letter recently received by his mother, Mrs. J. J. Ackerman. He recently returned from Rome, Italy, where he had been sent on official business. He is now stationed at headquarters at Aix-le-Bains in southern France.

As the city councilmen sit far apart in the council room with the desks strung around them on both sides of the council chamber, Mayor Walter Keyes feels there would be no special danger from a health standpoint to the city if the councilmen should meet Monday evening and discuss city affairs. Hence there will be the regular Monday evening to permit the councilmen care for the city.

Lee Gilbert, the Elgin distributor, and E. W. Hazard, cashier of the United States Bank, are home from a fishing and hunting trip above Blue River on the McKenzie. They claim to have caught a lot of fish and brought back a big consignment of bear meat, having had a splendid trip. Incidentally Mr. Gilbert remarks that the "Elgin Six" never bucked a minute.

A very fine phonograph made by the Brunswick Balke Collendar company is now being sold in Salem. This phonograph plays all makes of records by the aid of a combination reproducer which is especially arranged for each kind of record. The machines are being shown by the C. S. Hamilton Furniture store.

Mrs. S. J. Dorsey, who has handed in her resignation as police matron to take effect Nov. 1, is now taking her two weeks vacation. No one has been appointed to serve in her place and it seems to be a question as to whether the council will appoint a police matron before the first of the year. The salary of $50 a month appears to be rather unattractive as there has been no application for the position.

E. E. Baker, the attorney of Salem, who is ill of pneumonia at Camp Lewis, is no better today but holding his own, according to a telegram received this morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baker of 1445 Oak street.

Developments are rather slow with the prune packers. Although there are plenty of promises and orders in sight, no positive shipping instructions have been received. There has been so many delays and unusual conditions thrown in the way of immediate shipment that the packers are now simply waiting wondering what official can think of something to get to delay matters. One of the latest was the order from the British authorities in Washington requiring that every box, even the 35 pound ones, should be iron strapped. After a few days delay the order as to iron straps so unusual in the prune business, was cancelled. Within a few days, contracts will be received for the shipment from Salem of half a million pounds and if there is no joker inserted, an actual shipment will be made within the next few days.

If the grocer happens to deliver several articles unwrapped, do not blame him. He is just trying to carry out one of the many instructions issued by the U. S. Food Administration. W. A. Denton, state secretary of the Oregon retail grocers and merchants association, received this morning instructions to issue to the grocers as follows: "Wrap no food except those that have to be wrapped for sanitary reasons and then use as light a paper and as small an amount as practicable. Encourage the use of market baskets."

Miss Leda Belle Tartar, teacher of the old Italian Method of singing, Studio 162 Liberty St. N. For appointments phone 334.

After breaking the record of the past generation for a low stage, the river is now rapidly rising and this morning was above the low water mark, the highest since June 18. During the last week of September the river was two feet below the low water mark, breaking the low record even of last year when there wasn't a drop of rainfall during the month of October.

For Rent--Bedroom with private bath Mrs. Peck, Vick's garage.

On the first day of the fourth Liberty loan drive in Salem, the Associated Oil company subscribed $3,000 through its local agent R. O. Snelling. Having been informed by Mr. Snelling that the city was having a pretty fierce struggle to get over the top, the company this morning wired its agent to subscribe another $3,000.

After a week will be back buying stock. Phone evenings 2357J. G. D. Burdick.

A pro-German who had no use whatever for this country and who expressed his desire to return to Germany was brought down town last evening by E. E. Lavallee and constable Percy Varney. Mr. Varney had been asked to accompany the solicitor to the home of the pro-German and even with the two witnesses the man who wanted to go back to Germany declared that this country had no business in getting into this war and that no one could make him subscribe to any loan. Nor had he ever subscribed for any of the Red Cross drives, according to his own statement. After thinking it over, he was let off with a $50 subscription. The man is making about $135 a month but claimed to have no money in the bank.

Just to help in making sure that Salem secured its quota for the fourth Liberty loan, D. A. White & Son today subscribed $1,000. Their first subscription for this loan was $5,000, pledged on the first day of the campaign.

The Salem Heights Sunday school is among those that will not meet until the boys have been removed from meetings of aff kind.

Fred A. Derenlund died yesterday at Camp Kearney, Calif., from pneumonia following an attack of the influenza. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian A. Derenlund of Polk county. The body will be brought to Salem but the time of arrival is indefinite. He enlisted in the regular army from the Salem recruiting station in April of 1917. Besides his parents he is survived by three brothers, one of whom, Arthur J. Derenlund, is now stationed at Camp Joseph E. Johnson, Fla.

BOLLAND-NORDHAUSEN. A pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mrs. Gesine Nordhausen, Oct. 9, when her daughter Erica was united in marriage to Mr. Oscar Bolland. The bride was becomingly dressed in a gown of white Georgette Crepe and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and asparagus ferns. The groom wore a suit of dark blue serge.

The bride's sister Sidenka was maid of honor and wore a dress of blue crepe de chine. The groom's brother, Peter, was groomsmen. The wedding march "Lohengrin Bridal Chorus" was played by Miss Johanna Yost. Miss Caroline Nordhausen, attired in a blue crepe gown, was bridesmaid. Her escort in the wedding march was Dick Nordhausen. Rev. Bruns of Aurora performed the ceremony.

After the congratulations were over and a bountiful repast had been served to all, the happy couple left for a short wedding trip to Seattle. Aurora Observer.

Dr. Doney Is Opposed To S. A. T. C. Boys Dancing

In regard to the proposed giving of weekly dances by those interested in the welfare of the Students Army Training corps of Willamette University, in an interview today, Dr. Carl Gregg Doney said: "In the matter of the announcement that weekly dances will be given for the entertainment of the S. A. T. C. of Willamette University, the university states that it does not approve or sanction this form of entertainment and that dances will not take place on the campus or anywhere within the control of the institution."

A number of women are furnishing the upper story of the Science building to be used as a rest and entertainment room for the boys of the university now inducted into the service and under regulation army discipline. As almost all of the boys are away from home for the first time, those interested in their welfare are arranging to entertain them with weekly dances to be given elsewhere than on the University grounds.

State House Notes

In connection with the amalgamation of the work of the men's and women's sections of the state council of defense, Governor Withycombe has appointed Mrs. John H. Albert of Salem and Mrs. William MacMasters of Portland as members of the state council. Amalgamation of the work of the two sections is being brought about at the request of Franklin K. Lane, chief of the field division of the national council of defense.

Memorial services for the late Frank A. Moore, justice of the supreme court, have been postponed because of the precautions being taken against the spread of Spanish influenza. The services were to have been held next Monday. No definite date is now fixed, but they will be held later.

Attorney General Brown has advised Gilbert Helges, district attorney at Oregon City, that under the law he does not consider it necessary for a voter to place a cross before a name which he may write upon the general election ballot as his choice for any office. All he needs do is write in the name in the blank space provided for that purpose. However, the attorney general recommends that as the question may not be entirely free from doubt it would be better for voters to be on the safe side and make the cross in addition to writing in the name. This is of particular interest in connection with the election of a justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Moore as there will be no names of candidates on the ballot for that place.

State Engineer John H. Lewis has approved the application of James H. Sturgis for the appropriation of 50 second feet of water from the Umatilla river near Barnhart for the development of 284 horsepower to be used for commercial purposes. This project will involve the construction of a concrete dam 7 feet in height and 700 feet long, a ditch four miles long together with other works at an approximate cost of $20,000.00.

Leaders of the boys' and girls' industrial club work in the state held a conference in the office of J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction, yesterday to outline the work for next year. Some new projects probably will be added to the club work. Those attending the conference were O. D. Center, director of the extension department of O. A. G.; H. C. Seymour, state club leader; A. J. O'Reilly, industrial club worker for the O. A. G.; N. C. Maris, and L. P. Harrington, industrial club workers for the department of education and Superintendent Churchill.

C. D. Butler, head of the motor vehicle registration department in the office of Secretary of State Olcott, has enlisted in the navy and expects to leave the last of this month for training. He went to Portland to take the physical examination, which he successfully passed. Mrs. Butler and baby will return to The Dalles to make their home with her parents, Judge and Mrs. A. S. Bennett, while Mr. Butler is away.

ROAD TO BE COMPLETED.

A good send to the traveling public has taken place on the Silverton-Woodburn road in the complete repair of the same. Early last June Willis English, as overseer, started in to gravel the road from the Bethany corner; to the Albion bridge the length of this district. He met with much difficulty in the way of help, but he stayed with the job and had the satisfaction Tuesday evening of seeing his part of the high way graveled and properly rolled. The road from the bridge into Woodburn is also graveled and in shape for winter travel. Mr. English is entitled to much praise and credit for seeing the job job through under such trying labor conditions.--Appeal.

Mrs. C. E. Knowland and daughter are visiting in Albany.

JOE RINGWALD WRITES "LETTER FROM FRANCE"

Joe Ringwald is in France with Company F, 9th depot battalion signal corps. In a letter addressed to his brother and sister here he tells of his experiences in crossing the Atlantic. He writes that for the first day he felt fine but that a little later he leaned over the railing with all the rest of the boys. Also, like others, he missed several meals.

In regard to the work of the Y. M. C. A., he writes: "Some people do not uphold the Y. M. C. A. but let me tell you the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. are certainly doing the greatest social work that can be done here and I urge each of you to back them up. The Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. work together here as the Y. M. C. A. permits priests to say mass in their buildings."

Final Effort This Evening To Complete Salem's Quota

One final effort will be made this evening to secure pledges whereby Salem will have the honor of going over the top.

In order to aid those who wish to increase their subscriptions as well as those who have been negligent and put it off to the last minute, all banks in the city will be open this evening from six until eight o'clock for the purpose only of receiving Liberty loan subscriptions.

The executive committee announces that no effort will be made to secure more than Salem's quota. There is a feeling that with the city now within $30,000 of the mark, that enough patriotic citizens will rally this evening to save the name of the capital city.

There is a feeling of confidence that the people of Salem this evening will do the right thing and that the city will have the honor of having its name inscribed with those that went over the top in the fourth Liberty loan.

WILSON SUITS ITALIANS

Rome, Oct. 18.--President Wilson's reply to Germany completely agrees with Italian views, it was officially announced today.

Died

KAPPL -- Mrs. Laura Esjella Kappl died Oct. 9, 1918, at Gainesville, Fla. Mrs. Kappl was known in and around Salem as Miss Laura Savage, she was born in 1898, at the time of her death she was twenty years and one month old. She came to Oregon at the age of one month with the parents and had spent the greater part of her life in and around Salem. She was the daughter of Mrs. Jessie Knapke and grandfather of Mrs. and Mrs. B. B. Gesner who reside six miles east of Salem. Miss Savage was married to Charley L. Kappl Dec. 6, 1917, in Columbia, S. C. She leaves besides a sorrowing husband a mother, father, Harry L. Savage, brother, Raymond L. Savage, two little half-brothers and a half-sister; uncles, aunts, and hosts of friends she had made through her sunny disposition to mourn her loss. Asleep in Jesus blessed sleep from which none ever wake to weep.

A PRIVATE HOME IN ALL ITS APPOINTMENTS WITH SERVICE IS OUR KEYSTONE

John Howard Payne, immortalized himself in his song, "Home Sweet Home." It is said he wrote the words, while he was dying, far from home and friends. The environment of home, appealed to him, as it has to others, with a strong yearning under those circumstances. Even death's sorrows are mitigated by the refined surroundings of "Home."

We are absolutely the only ones in Salem who offer such inducements. A special Guest Room for man or woman, compelled to remain over night, for which no charge is made. And those entrusted to our care are absolutely never left alone. Mrs. Terwilliger gives her personal care to all ladies and children and we assure you that, when entrusted to us they will have all the attention and care that they would receive in a private home.
