WILL PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Committees Will Meet Tonight To Discuss Ways And Means.

To once more take up the matter of securing members for the Commercial club, a meeting has been called this evening of the chairmen of the several committees to discuss plans for the campaign.

Just before state fair week, a committee from the Commercial club waited on State Treasurer Kay and asked him to assume the management of a campaign for one-year memberships.

Mr. Kay signified his willingness to work, provided there was a disposition on the part of business men who appreciate the need of the club to get out and co-operate with him.

Just as Mr. Kay was about to call a meeting of the workers, the Portland representative of the Fourth Liberty loan came to Salem and induced the liberty loan workers to put on the campaign before fair week. This of course put a stop at the time to any efforts in the way of securing members for the Commercial club.

It is understood that Mr. Kay is willing to work and put his shoulder to the wheel as manager of the campaign if the business men will give their utmost co-operation.

Among those who are familiar with the workings of the Commercial club, there is but one opinion and that is that it would be a calamity to the city if the business men did not get together and pledge themselves for enough memberships to support the club.

From general opinions expressed by men who have supported the club for years, there is but one thought and that is that Salem has enough business men who understand the needs of a central organization to support the club in the way of memberships.

Besides the various business meetings and all meetings of the Women's club there is a daily activity at the club, as shown by the records for the month of August and September. Besides headquarters for the Liberty Loan campaign and the writing of more than 1000 letters for this campaign, during the two months there were 67 meetings held at the club. For the same time 1568 letters were received and 2196 sent out. On matters of general city business, 516 telephone calls were answered, and 419 calls made. At the office 213 visitors were given information. Employment was given to 34 of the 42 who sought information at the club. Every civic activity of the city centers at the Commercial club.

City To Build Sidewalks Where Owners Refuse

When the city council decides that a certain sidewalk is necessary it is customary for the council to first pass a resolution requiring the owner of the property along the sidewalk to construct one within 20 days.

The city does not urge the property owner to really put the sidewalk in within 20 days but is often lenient and allows a month or so and sometimes more.

Then if the walk is not built, the city advertises for bids and lets the contract. Then an ordinance is passed assessing against the property the cost of the walk, the amount to be collected the same as in street assessments.

The following sidewalks will be constructed by the city and the cost, figured at from 11 to 12 cents a square foot, assessed against the property. Contracts have already been let:

On the east side of 24th street, at the corner of Trade, 60 feet. The property is owned by Arthur Bradson who lives somewhere in South Dakota.

On the east side of 21st street at the northeast corner of Chemekeita, 132 feet. This property is owned by Mary A. Stiffer who lives on the premises.

On the west side of 21st street at the south west corner of Chemekeita, 123½ feet. This property is owned by Jas. B. Young, formerly in the secretary of state's office.

East side of Winter street on the southeast corner of Center, 74½ feet. This property is owned by R. R. Ryan. In each of the above four instances, the property owners refused to put in the sidewalk. Now the city will do it and the property will eventually pay.

Open Forum

Salem, Oregon, July 6, 1918. An open letter to Bishop Matthew Simpson Hughes.

Dear Bishop: Four weeks ago a public letter addressed to you charged the Sunday newspaper with being an abominable nuisance, and the republican party with being "an hypocritical, ungodly old liquor party, over forty years behind the times, ruled by liquor and tobacco." I boldly renew both charges. To me these seem to be vital and irrefragable issues of vast and immediate importance. Are you a doubter? Respectfully, Wm. N. Taft. LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Amsterdam, Oct. 24.—The kaiserin is seriously ill, according to reports received here today. Her children are said to have been summoned to her bedside at Potsdam.

Havre, Oct. 24.—The Belgian government has decided to make Bruges the temporary capital, it was announced here today.

London, Oct. 24.—The entire ministry of Ukraine has resigned, according to wireless dispatches received here today.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 24.—Belgian inhabitants of Kattestraat aided allied troops in an attack on the Germans near that village yesterday, the German war office announced today. The attack was repulsed.

Similar charges to this, later proven unfounded, prefaced the German atrocities in 1914.

"On both banks of the Meuse," the statement says, "American attacks of great extent were delivered from the woods of Banterville and north of Cunn. The enemy advanced in strong force, accompanied by tanks, but was repulsed with heavy loss, under our concentrated fire.

"East of the Meuse violent fighting for the wooded heights on both sides of the Consenvoye-Dansvillers road up until evening. After stiff fighting our successful counter attacks drove back Americans who have advanced several times."

State Lime Board Will Ask For $51,950

The state lime board estimates that it will need $51,950 to carry on its operations during the next two years and that it will sell 30,000 tons of lime at $1.75 a ton, which will bring in $52,500.

These estimates are contained in a budget filed with the secretary of state. The budget shows that salaries are estimated at $16,800 and maintenance at $26,700. The board asks for $3000 for building a residence for the superintendent of the lime plant, $1,200 for building bunkers, and $4,250 for repairs and replacements.

Included in the salary item of $16,800 are $4,500 salary for the superintendent, $2,400 for the quarry man, $2,400 for the mechanic, and $7,500 for the convicts at the rate of 50 cents a day.

The Florence Crittenton Refuge Home submits a budget for a little over $10,000 and says it expects to receive $7,500 from the state.

The labor commissioner's office submits a budget for $47,000 for salaries, factory inspection and office maintenance.

For the expense of returning fugitives from justice, the governor submits a request for $15,000, while in another report he says he will ask for no appropriation for the employment of special agents, for the apprehension of criminals as the state police will perform that function.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

It isn't always safe to visit friends, even when on a leave of absence from the navy, if one happens to be charged with forging a check. Ralph Spencer, an Indian from Chemawa, tried it and now he is in the county jail waiting to see what will happen to him. It seems that he is charged with having forged a $9 check on one of the Chemawa instructors. The check was given last June when the Indian boy was working at the Silver Falls Lumber Co. Silverton. Later he went to Montana, joined the navy and concluded to visit his old time friends. The instructor whose name was forged for $9 notified the officers and last evening Constable Percy Varney went out and got him. His trial was to have been held this afternoon before Judge Webster, but Prosecuting Attorney Gehhar happened to be out of town. In the meantime the 19 year old Indian boy will board at the county's expense until his trial is called.

SUIT FOR WAGES

William Pstak did some work for A. Lentz this spring but when it came to settling time, they were pretty far apart. Lentz claimed that Pstak's wages were to be $2 a day, while Pstak said it was $3.50. Lentz said that $1 a day was to be paid Pstak for his team, if Lentz boarded them. Pstak said it was $2 a day. Then Pstak promised to pay for some berries and crates
