Plans Are Completed For Marking Old Site

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Dallas, Oct. 24.—At a meeting of Sarah Childress Polk Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held in Dallas, Monday afternoon the final plans for the unveiling of the monument that is to mark the site of the first Polk County Court House were completed. The monument which is a gift to the Chapter from George H. Hawkins, proprietor of the hotel on Saturday, November 2, the ceremonies taking place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Miss Evelyn Sibley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sibley and Miss Jessie Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Boyd, will unveil the monument. Miss Sibley's ancestors were among the first settlers in Polk County coming to this country when there were but about two families living within the county's borders. The site of the first Court House is in North Dallas at the junction of Orchard Avenue and the Dallas-Salem road. For years prior to the erection of the building the court met in a school house on the old Donation Land Claim of Carey Embree near the present town of Bicknell. As the building had only one room the jury after hearing the arguments of the attorneys departed to the brush outside the building where the cases were settled. In unveiling the monument on November, the D. A. R. celebrate the birthday of former president, James K. Polk, after whom this county was named. The local D. A. R. Chapter is named after President Polk's wife, Sarah Childress.

Another Dallas Boy Reported Missing

Word reached Dallas the first of the week that Oscar Jackson, a former member of Company L of this city was missing in action on the battle front in France. Jackson participated in the big battle of July and the first of August and according to advices from the War Department he was missed about the middle of the latter month. The young soldier, who was about 20 years of age was transferred from Company L together with a number of other young fellows after the Third Oregon arrived in France.

Heating Plant Resumes Operations

The central heating plant operated by the Dallas National and the Dallas City banks, which has been undergoing repairs for the past several months was started up Tuesday morning for the first time. The system has been entirely changed and better service is assured the patrons of the system. The plan furnished heat for a big majority of the business houses of the city besides the two bank buildings.

New County School District Created

A new school district has been created in the western part of Polk County to accommodate the children of loggers and other workmen in the Siletz Basin district. This part of the county has heretofore been a part of the Black Rock district but the open-

Court House News

In the matter of the estate of Bernard V. Shadley who died Oct. 22 the court appointed his widow, Mabel Shadley as administratrix of the estate and as appraisers Eva Wolf, Mrs. Margaret Klinger and F. L. Newman. He was the owner of the Oregon Restaurant on State street. The estate of Mr. Shadley is valued at about $1000.

J. H. Baldwin, an administrator of the estate of Martha L. Crumbacker upon filing of his final report was given his release and discharge from trust as administrator.

The last will and testament of J. S. H. Walker who died Oct. 20, has been admitted to probate. Besides his wife, he is survived by eight children. The appraisers appointed were J. W. Bellamy, D. F. Harrison and E. B. Perdue. J. A. Walker with Sarah M. Walker were appointed executor and executrix.

In the divorce case of Zulena Bohannon against J. D. Bohannon, the court gave the mother custody of the minor son and decreed that Bohannon should pay her $35 a month for one year and for the following year $30 a month. At the expiration of two years he will have no alimony to pay.

The case of W. C. Hubbard against L. H. McMahan involving about $15,000 worth of land was again before the circuit court yesterday on the question of the appointment of a receiver. Mr. McMahan filed an affidavit in which he alleged that prior to the beginning of the war he had disposed of his interests and came to Salem to practice law, but that on account of the war, he was obliged to look after the interests of his own and others involved. That he had had a talk with Mr. Hubbard and Hubbard had said it would do no good to have a receiver appointed but that his lawyer had so advised him. That Hubbard also said he had no use for the courts or for law as it cost money and got no one anywhere. McMahan also alleges in his affidavit that Hubbard inquired if it was McMahan's intention to let the land lie idle or farm it. McMahan informed him that 80 acres had been plowed and would be seeded within a week. Discussing the orchard, he claims that Hubbard said it was better to take up the trees and plant the land in wheat.

S. H. Van Trump, county fruit inspector, also filed an affidavit in the case in which he says that he examined the orchard on the land involved in the suit and thinks that the orchard should be removed or thoroughly renovated and cleaned up because of the condition of the orchard. Also that the orchard will never be a commercial success and that in its present condition it is a menace to other orchards.

DANDEUFF SOON RUINS THE HAIR

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

FRUITLAND

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Fruitland, Or., Oct. 24.—C. S. Keeling of Antelope county, Nebraska, purchased the property of N. J. Bowers of this place. Mr. Keeling is employed at government work in Portland and will not live on the premises at present.

Also the Nicholas property has been sold to Nicholas Stempel of California.

N. J. Bowers of this place has gone to Okanogan county, Washington, where he will reside for the winter.

The Jigg is about up with Kaiser Wilhelm. This rooster went into the war with high feather and sharp spurs. Now he has faced toward home with bedraggled plumage and dragging tail. "Tis well.

Will Seek To Enjoin Railroad Company

Injunction proceedings will be instituted by public service commission against Sumpter Valley Railroad Company to restrain that company from violating the orders of the commission. The action will be filed in the circuit court for Baker County.

The proceedings will be based on an affidavit of the Baker White Pine Lumber Company showing that the railroad company is charging a 25 per cent increase in all freight rates when such an increase has not been authorized by the commission. The commission granted a 15 per cent increase on a portion of the company's rates, but when the control it added a 25 per cent increase and since it has been released from government control it has refused to return to its old rates or to file a tariff providing for an increase. Instead, it is said the company ignores the authority of the commission.

Governor Withycombe Defends His State Police

The request of the Oregon Agricultural College for a deficiency appropriation of $27,455 for taking care of the students taking the war course at the college, and the state military police are strongly defended by Governor Withycombe in a statement issued yesterday in reply to the attack of Senator Gus C. Moser.

Governor Withycombe says the state police have given valuable service to the state by guarding shipyards, elevators, warehouses and docks, and tanning establishments, grain fields and food depots. Besides, he points out that they have arrested bootleggers and other law violators.

Senator Moser refused to vote for the requested C. A. C. appropriation at a meeting of the state emergency board Monday, and he charged that Governor Withycombe had made a political machine out of the state police, after the emergency board had granted $250,000 for the state police on the plea that they were a military necessity.

Must Pay Teachers For Fall Vacation

School teachers should receive full pay for the time schools are closed on account of the influenza epidemic throughout the state, according to advice being given the teachers by J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction.

Teachers from all parts of the state, where the schools have been closed by order of the health officials, have been writing Superintendent Churchill for information on this point.

Mr. Churchill's reply to the effect that the teachers can collect full pay is based on an opinion from the attorney general, who points out that while school boards may close the schools for the protection of the public health teachers, are entitled to their regular pay during the time that the schools are so closed, unless their contract has a clause specifically providing otherwise.

PAPERS ENDORSE POSITION.

New York, Oct. 24.—New York evening newspapers commented editorially on President Wilson's reply to Germany in part as follows:

The Mail: "Mr. Wilson has spoken in his own way, has spoken after consulting with our allies, and has told the German people that before any peace can come their army and navy must be placed under the control of the allies, that their government must be made one that can be trusted. What more is there to be said?"

The Sun: "The cool, clear, temperate statement of the ally will and purpose will have its good effect. It will clear away German illusions without arousing a passion of desperate resistance. It gives the German fire-breathers no chance to preach a crusade; it strengthens the hands of those who see the hopelessness of further struggle."

The Globe: "The declaration in the president's answer to the last German note of vital interest is one that will leave the United States and the powers associated with her in a position to enforce any arrangements that may be entered into and to make renewal of hostilities on the part of Germany impossible."

"All else in the reply is appurtenant and secondary to this. Here is the judgment of the court—the decree is entered. Germany must lay down arms before her representatives will be listened to or received. While Germany is powerless, her opponents are to remain armed and thus enabled to force obedience. Here is the substance, if not the form of unconditional surrender."

The World: "The president of the United States has with new force and finality pronounced judgment upon those who have hitherto been masters of Germany policy." In the field they must take the terms the allied commandery dictate. Politically their power among nations is doomed. There can be no further foothold or shelter for German imperialism in a civilized country."

Evening Post: "President Wilson has a fair minded man put the sum of the whole matter beyond misunderstanding. He was obliged to follow diplomatic precedent. In the first part of his note the wheels of his chariot drive heavily through the technical details. But when he comes to speak in his own name of the things that must be done he moves swiftly to the point and makes his utterances as direct and terrible as the day of judgment."
